REEF VENTURES, LP

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003

Note 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of presentation

The consolidated financial statements of Reef Ventures, LP (the "Partnership") include the accounts of the Partnership and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Reef International, L.L.C. ("Reef International") and Reef Marketing, L.L.C. ("Reef Marketing"). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Description of business

Reef International is the holder of United States and Texas permits for the construction, ownership, operation and maintenance of a 12-inch natural gas pipeline and a 6-inch liquids line (together with loading and unloading facilities) from Eagle Pass, Texas to Piedras Negras, Mexico. Reef Marketing is an inactive company originally formed to conduct the marketing operations which are now conducted in the name of the Partnership. The Partnership completed the natural gas pipeline and metering facilities construction during the fourth quarter of 2003 and on November 1, natural gas sales commenced.

The Agreement of Limited Partnership (the "Partnership Agreement"), dated April 16, 2003, was executed by and among Coahuila Pipeline, L.L.C. ("Coahuila"), an Oklahoma limited liability company, as the General Partner; Impact International, L.L.C. ("Impact"), an Oklahoma limited liability company, a Limited Partner; Tidelands Oil & Gas Corporation ("Tidelands"), a Nevada corporation, a Limited Partner; and Blackrock Capital Corporation ("Blackrock"), a Virginia corporation, a Limited Partner.

Edgar Filing: TIDELANDS OIL & GAS CORP/WA - Form 8-K/A

Revenue Recognition

The Partnership recognizes natural gas revenue upon delivery.

Financial instruments

The Partnership's financial instruments that are exposed to concentrations of credit risk consist of cash and accounts receivable. The Partnership places its cash with a major financial institution. At times, cash balances may be in excess of the FDIC insurance limit. The Partnership's accounts receivable consist primarily of amounts due from its sole customer, a major natural gas distribution company that is exporting gas into Mexico. The Partnership has an open letter of credit as required under its natural gas purchase agreement. The Partnership believes the carrying values of its financial instruments reported in the consolidated balance sheet approximate fair value.

Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable primarily consists of accrued revenues related to the transfer of natural gas prior to year-end, for which payment has not been received as of year-end. An accounts receivable is considered to be past due if any portion of the receivable balance is outstanding for more than 30 days. The Partnership does not charge interest on receivables, and an allowance for doubtful accounts was not determined to be necessary at December 31, 2003.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment consists of costs incurred in the permitting of the natural gas pipeline and the liquids line and construction of the natural gas pipeline and are recorded at cost. The carrying value of these assets is also based on estimates, assumptions and judgments relative to capitalized costs, useful lives and salvage values. Depreciation is provided on the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the pipeline of 20 years. Renewals and betterments that extend the lives of the property and equipment are capitalized. Gains or losses from the ordinary sale or retirement of property and equipment are recorded in net income (loss).

At December 31, 2003, there were no major commitments for construction or acquisition of property and equipment.

Impairment of long-lived assets

The Partnership evaluates its long-lived assets for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate, in management's judgment, that the carrying value of such assets may not be recoverable. This impairment evaluation of tangible long-lived assets is measured pursuant to the guidelines of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets." When an indicator of impairment has occurred, management's estimate of undiscounted future cash flows attributable to the assets is compared to the carrying value of the assets to determine whether an impairment has occurred. A probability-weighted approach is applied to consider the likelihood of different cash flow assumptions and possible outcomes, including a sale in the near term or maintaining the assets for the remaining estimated useful life. If an impairment of the carrying value has occurred, the amount of the impairment recognized in the financial statements is determined by estimating the fair value of the asset(s) and recording a loss for the amount that the carrying value exceeds the estimated fair value. The use of alternate judgments and/or assumptions could result in the recognition of different levels of impairment charges in the financial statements. No assets were determined to be impaired in 2003.

Income taxes

The Partnership, as a business entity, is not taxable as a corporation. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements do not reflect provisions for income taxes since taxable income or loss attributable to the Partnership will be reported by the individual owners.

Partnership management expenses

Under the terms of the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner is entitled to be reimbursed for its direct and indirect charges incurred in the performance of its duties. However, the General Partner does not receive a management fee or other compensation for these services. During the period from inception to December 31, 2003, the General Partner did not invoice the Partnership for any of its indirect costs.

Derivatives

The Partnership does not utilize financial or commodity derivative instruments to hedge its market risks.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Although management believes the estimates it uses are reasonable, actual results could differ from those estimates.

One of the most significant estimates made by the Partnership in determining the underlying amounts included in the financial statements, and for which it would be reasonably possible that future events or information could change those estimates, involves assessing whether any impairment to the carrying values of its long-lived assets has occurred. Consequently, impairment adjustments to the carrying values are reasonably possible in the future.

Note 2 - Partners' Equity

In April 2003, Impact and Coahuila acquired 75% interest in Reef International and Reef Marketing from Tidelands, which retained 25% interest. Simultaneously, Impact, Coahuila and Tidelands contributed their respective interests in Reef International and Reef Marketing to the Partnership, a Texas limited partnership formed on April 9, 2003. At the inception of the Partnership, each partner's capital account was credited with its cost basis in Reef International and Reef Marketing in accordance with the terms of the Partnership Agreement.

In accordance with the related agreements, Impact and Coahuila have contributed additional capital to the Partnership to fund the pipeline construction costs and $10,000 per month to fund operating expenses and overhead costs.

Partners' Capital consists of 1,000 units of limited partnership interest owned as follows:

Coahuila Pipeline, L.L.C., General Partner.....	10
Impact International, L.L.C., Limited Partner.....	720
Tidelands Oil & Gas Corporation, Limited Partner.....	250
Blackrock Capital Corporation, Limited Partner.....	20

All profits and losses of the Partnership are allocated first to Coahuila and Impact until they receive an amount equal to 150% of their respective capital contributions. Thereafter, all profits and losses are shared in proportion to each partners' capital ownership. Distributions are to be shared similar to profits and losses.

Note 3 - Accounts Payable - Partners

During 2003, the Partnership required operating funds in excess of the $10,000 per month capital contributions described in Note 2 above. Impact and Coahuila advanced the necessary operating funds. Such amounts have been classified in the consolidated balance sheet as accounts payable - partners and will be repaid without interest from available future cash flows.
