45,000 Shares of Common Stock Offered by The First Bancshares, Inc.

No Minimum/45,000 Maximum

All of the 45,000 shares of Common Stock, $1.00 par value (the Common Stock) of The First Bancshares, Inc., a Mississippi corporation (the Company), offered hereby are being sold by the Company. The Company is a bank holding company headquartered in Hattiesburg, Mississippi and is the parent of The First National Bank of South Mississippi and The First National Bank of the Pine Belt. Prior to this offering, there has been only limited trading in the Common Stock, and the Company does not anticipate a reliable market for the Common Stock to exist after the offering.

This is a "best efforts" offering by the Company, and it will be terminated by the Company upon the sale of 45,000 shares or April 30, 2003, whichever occurs first, unless the Company extends the offering for additional periods ending no later than September 30, 2003. There is no minimum number of shares required to be sold in the Offering. The proceeds of the offering will be used to repurchase outstanding shares of Common Stock. See "Risk Factors" beginning on page ____ of this Prospectus for a discussion of material risks that should be considered by prospective investors. THE SHARES OF COMMON STOCK OFFERED HEREBY ARE NOT SAVINGS OR DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS AND ARE NOT INSURED BY THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION, THE BANK INSURANCE FUND, THE SAVINGS ASSOCIATION INSURANCE FUND OR ANY OTHER GOVERNMENTAL AGENCY. THESE SECURITIES HAVE NOT BEEN APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED BY THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION OR ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION, NOR HAS THE COMMISSION OR ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION PASSED UPON THE ACCURACY OR ADEQUACY OF THIS PROSPECTUS. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENSE.

(1) This offering will be made on behalf of the Company by its directors and executive officers, no commission or other compensation will be paid on account of such activity. The Company believe such officers and directors will not be deemed brokers under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 "Exchange Act"), based on reliance on Rule 3a4-1 of the Exchange Act.

(2) There is no minimum number of shares that the Company must sell. The Company is not using an underwriter for this offering. The Company may receive little or no funds from this offering. If received from the offering will not be placed in an escrow account, and will be available for immediate use by the Company.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

The following summary is not intended to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by the more detailed information and the consolidated financial statements and the related notes appearing elsewhere in this Prospectus. Unless otherwise indicated, all references to the Company in this Prospectus refer to The First Bancshares, Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries, including The First National Bank of South Mississippi and First National Bank of the Pine Belt.

The Company

General

The First Bancshares, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated on June 23, 1995 to serve as a holding company for The First National Bank of South Mississippi (The First) located in Hattiesburg, Mississippi and The First National Bank of the Pine Belt (Pine Belt), located in Laurel, Mississippi (collectively, the Banks). The First began operations on August 5, 1996 from its main office in the Oak Grove community, which is on the outskirts of Hattiesburg. The First also operates two branches in Hattiesburg and one in Purvis, Mississippi. Pine Belt began banking operations on January 19, 1999. Pine Belt has one office located in Laurel, Mississippi. The Company and its subsidiary banks engage in a general commercial and retail banking business characterized by personalized service and local decision-making, emphasizing the banking needs of small- to medium-sized businesses, professional concerns and individuals. The First and Pine Belt are wholly-owned subsidiary banks of the Company.

Location and Service Area

The First. The First serves the cities of Hattiesburg and Purvis and the surrounding areas of Lamar and Forrest Counties, Mississippi. The First has a main office located west of the city of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, in Lamar County. The First also has a branch office located on Highway 589 in the city of Purvis, Mississippi, also in Lamar County, a third office located at the intersection of Lincoln Road and South 28th Avenue in Hattiesburg, and a fourth location at 3318 Hardy Street in Hattiesburg.

The main office primarily serves the area in and around the northern portion of Lamar County which is west of Hattiesburg. The Purvis office primarily serves the area in and around Purvis, Mississippi, which is in the east central part of Lamar County and is the county seat. Lamar County is located in the southeastern section of Mississippi. Hattiesburg, one of the largest cities in Mississippi, is located in Forrest and Lamar Counties. Hattiesburg can be reached via U.S. Highways 98 and 49 and Interstate 59. Major employers located in the Lamar and Forrest County areas include Forrest General Hospital, the University of Southern Mississippi, the Methodist Hospital, Camp Shelby, Sunbeam Oster, the Hattiesburg Public Schools, the Hattiesburg Clinic, the City of Hattiesburg, Marshall Durbin Poultry, and Murray Envelope. The principal components of the economy of the Lamar and Forrest County areas include service industries, wholesale and retail trade, manufacturing, and transportation and public utilities.

Pine Belt. Pine Belt serves the city of Laurel and the surrounding area of Jones County, Mississippi. Pine Belt's main office is located at 1945 Highway 15 North, Laurel, Mississippi. Pine Belt expects to draw 75% of its retail business within a five mile radius of this location, with the remaining business coming from other areas of Jones County, as well as portions of Jasper County, Wayne County, Smith County, and Covington County that are within a 15 mile radius of Pine Belt.

Banking Services

The Company strives to provide its customers with the breadth of products and services comparable to those offered by large regional banks, while maintaining the quick response and personal service of a locally owned and managed bank. In addition to offering a full range of deposit services and commercial and personal loans, The First offers products such as mortgage loan originations. The following is a description of the products and services offered or planned to be offered by the Hattiesburg and Laurel Banks.

- o Deposit Services. The Banks offer a full range of deposit services that are typically available through banks, including savings and loan associations, including checking accounts, NOW accounts, savings accounts, deposits of various types, ranging from daily money market accounts to longer-term certificates of deposit. Transaction accounts and time certificates are tailored to each bank's principal market area and are comparable to those offered by other banks in the area. In addition, the Banks offer certain retirement accounts, including Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs). All deposit accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (the "FDIC") up to the maximum amount allowed by law. The Banks solicit these services from individuals, businesses, associations and organizations, and governmental authorities.
- o Loan Products. The Banks offer a full range of commercial and personal loans. Commercial loans include secured and unsecured loans for working capital (including loans secured by inventory and accounts receivable), business expansion (including acquisition of real estate and improvements), and purchase of machinery. Consumer loans include equity lines of credit and secured and unsecured loans for automobiles, home improvements, education, and personal investments. The Banks also make real estate loans.

construction and acquisition loans. The Banks' lending activities are subject to a variety of restrictions imposed by federal law. While differing limits apply in certain circumstances based on the type of borrower (including the borrower's relationship to the bank), in general the Banks are subject to a loans-to-one-borrower limit of an amount equal to 15% of the Bank's unimpaired capital and surplus. The Banks may not make any loans to any director, officer, employee, or 10% shareholder unless the loan is approved by the Board of Directors of the Banks and is made on terms not more favorable to such a person than would be made to a person not affiliated with the Banks.

- o Mortgage Loan Divisions. The Banks have mortgage loan divisions which originate loans to purchase and to construct new homes and to refinance existing mortgages.
- o Other Services. Other bank services include on-line Internet banking services, voice response services, commercial sweep accounts, cash management services, safe deposit boxes, travelers checks, payroll and social security checks, and automatic drafts for various accounts. The Banks also offer Money Belt, Gulfnet, and Plus networks of automated teller machines that may be used by the Banks throughout Mississippi and other regions. The Banks also offer VISA and MasterCard credit cards and a correspondent bank.

The Company is a Mississippi corporation with its principal executive offices located at 6480 U.S. Hwy. 98 West, Hattiesburg, Mississippi 39402, and its telephone number is (601) 268-8998.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the common stock offered hereby involves certain risks. A prospective investor should carefully review the following risk factors as well as the other information contained in this Prospectus before deciding to make an investment in shares of common stock. Information contained in this Prospectus contains forward-looking statements which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as believes, expects, may, will, could, should, intend, estimated, projected, contemplated or anticipates or the negative thereof or other variations or comparable terminology. No assurance can be given that the future results covered by the forward-looking statements will be achieved. These statements, by their terms, involve substantial risks and uncertainties, certain of which are beyond the Company's control. The following factors could cause actual experience to vary materially from the future results covered in such forward-looking statements. Other factors, such as the general state of the economy, could also cause actual experience to vary materially from the matters covered in such forward-looking statements.

THE SHARES OF COMMON STOCK OFFERED HEREBY ARE NOT SAVINGS OR DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS AND ARE NOT INSURED BY THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION, THE BANK INSURANCE FUND, THE SAVINGS ASSOCIATION INSURANCE FUND OR ANY OTHER GOVERNMENTAL AGENCY.

Because of the Lack of an Established Trading Market, Shareholders May Not be Able to Quickly and Easily Sell Their Common Stock.

Prior to this offering, there has been no established or liquid market for the Common Stock. The public offering price of the Common Stock offered hereby has been determined solely by the Company and may bear no relationship to the market price of the Common Stock after this offering. Although the Company has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) to register the issuance of the Common Stock in the offering under the Securities Act of 1933, the Company does not anticipate that a reliable or liquid secondary trading market for the Common Stock will exist or develop in the near term following the offering, and there is a risk that no market will develop for the Common Stock at all.

No Broker Has Agreed to Purchase Any of the Common Stock and We May Not be Able to Sell All of the Shares We Are Attempting to Sell in the Offering.

The Common Stock is being sold directly through the efforts of our directors and executive officers. No broker-dealer or other person has any obligation to purchase, or find purchasers for, any shares of the Common Stock. Because the offering is not underwritten, there can be no assurance that any particular number of shares will be sold.

Directors and Officers Will Own at Least 20% of the Outstanding Common Stock After the Offering. They Could Make it More Difficult to Approval for Matters Submitted to a Shareholder Vote That Are Contrary to Their Interests But in the Interests of Other Shareholders.

Following completion of the offering, the executive officers and directors of the Company, collectively, will own at least 20% of the outstanding Common Stock. The executive officers and directors, as a group, will have the power to block business combinations and to influence the outcome of all matters required to be submitted to the Company's shareholders for approval, including the election of directors.

The Board has the authority to issue up to 8,834,835 additional shares of Common Stock and 10,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock without obtaining shareholder approval. The Board may fix, in its sole discretion, the rights, preferences, and designations of Preferred Stock. This authority, as well as, provisions in the Articles requiring super-majority votes, could be used to block business combinations.

Consummation of the Offering is Not Subject to the Receipt of Subscriptions for a Minimum Number of Shares. Subscribers Will be Required to Purchase Shares Even if Less Than All of the Shares Offered Are Sold. There is no minimum number of shares that must be sold in the offering, and subscriptions, once received, are irrevocable. The offering may be completed even if substantially less than the total number of shares offered is sold. Changes in Local Economic Conditions Could Reduce Our Income and Growth, and Could Lead to Higher Levels of Problem Loans and Charge-Offs.

The Company makes loans, and most of its assets are located in Jones, Forest and Lamar counties in Mississippi. Adverse changes in economic conditions in these areas could hurt the Company's ability to collect loans, could reduce the demand for loans, and could negatively impact performance and financial condition.

The Company's Profitability Depends on Economic Policies and Factors Beyond Our Control.

The Company's earnings depend to a great extent on rate differentials, which are the differences between interest income that the Company earns on loans and investments and the interest expense paid on deposits and other borrowings. These rates are highly sensitive to many factors which are beyond the Company's control, including general economic conditions and the policies of various government and regulatory authorities. Changes in interest rate policy by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Federal Reserve Board) affect the Company's interest income, interest expense and investment portfolio. Also, governmental policies such as the creation of a tax deduction for individual retirement accounts can increase savings and affect the cost of funds. A rapid increase or decrease in interest rates could have an adverse effect on the net interest margin and results of operations of the Company. The nature, timing and effect of any future changes in federal monetary and fiscal policies on the Company and its results of operations are not predictable.

Risks Inherent in Consumer and Commercial Lending Could Lead to Higher Levels of Problem Loans and Charge-Offs.

A substantial portion of the Company's loan portfolio consists of consumer loans. Consumer lending presents certain unique risks. Consumer loan repayments depend upon a borrower's financial stability and are more likely to be adversely affected by job loss, divorce, illness and other personal hardships. ___ In addition, collateral such as automobiles and other personal property securing consumer loans depreciate rapidly and sometimes is an inadequate repayment source if a borrower defaults.

As the Company grows, it will continue to increase its commercial lending activities. Commercial lending entails greater risks than traditional, single family residential lending. Commercial loans typically involve larger loan balances and a more concentrated loan portfolio. The analysis of commercial loans, which requires expertise in evaluating a commercial enterprise and its collateral, is generally more complex than the analysis required for single family residential lending. Like consumer loans, commercial loans are subject to adverse conditions in the economy, as well as the market for the specific goods and services sold by the commercial borrower. Loans secured by commercial real estate can also be affected by trends in the local real estate market.

There is No Assurance That the Company Will be Able to Successfully Compete with Others for Business.

The banking business is highly competitive, and the profitability of the Company depends principally upon its ability to compete in the market areas where its banking operations are located. The Company competes with other commercial banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, mortgage companies, finance companies, mutual funds, insurance companies, brokerage and investment banking firms, asset-based non-bank lenders and certain other non-financial entities, including retail stores which may maintain their own credit programs and certain governmental organizations which may offer more favorable financing than the Company. Many of these competitors have greater financial and other resources than the Company, and certain larger competitors are recent entrants into the Company's markets.

Loss of Key Personnel Could Hurt Profitability.

The Company's growth and development to date have been largely the result of the contributions of certain of the senior executive officers of the Company. The loss of the services of one or more of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and development. No assurance can be given that replacements for any of these officers could be employed if these officers' services were no longer available. In addition, continued growth of the Company will require that the Company attract and retain additional personnel with a variety of skills and experience. Significant competition exists for such personnel with the skills and experience needed successfully to manage the Company's business and operations.

THE PURPOSE OF THE OFFERING

The Company is in the process of establishing a branch office in the Picayune, Mississippi. As part of the Company's expansion plan, the Board has decided to offer stock to business and community leaders in the Picayune area to create support for the Company's entry into this market. The Company may also sell stock to persons in the Company and other service areas who are interested in supporting the Company. The Company presently does not have a need for additional capital, however. At the same time, two Company shareholders have a desire to sell some of their stock to obtain funds for other purposes. ___ Therefore, the proceeds of the offering are being used for this purpose.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds of the offering will be used to purchase outstanding shares of Common Stock. The Company has agreed to purchase up to 40,000 shares of Common Stock held by Nick Welch, and up to 5,000 shares of Common Stock held by David Johnson, at a purchase price of $17.50 per share, adjusted as set forth below. If the proceeds of the offering are not sufficient to purchase the entire 45,000 shares, the amount purchased from each person will be reduced pro rata. The aggregate purchase price paid will be reduced by an amount equal to the Company's offering expenses in this offering up to a maximum of $11,000. This reduction will be pro-rated between Mr. Welch and Mr. Johnson based on the number of shares acquired from each person. The purchase price was based on negotiations between the Company and Nick Welch, as well as the offering price established for this offering.

Nick Welch currently owns 92,716 shares or 7.96% of outstanding shares of Company Common Stock. In addition, Mr. Welch has options to acquire an additional 1,715 shares of Company Common Stock. Mr. Welch is a director of the Company's subsidiary, Pine Belt.

David Johnson currently owns 22,191 shares or 1.9% of outstanding shares of Company Common Stock. In addition, Mr. Johnson has options to acquire an additional 54,980 shares of Company Common Stock. David Johnson is Chairman and CEO of the Company.

Pending application of the net proceeds of the offering, the Company plans to invest the net proceeds in short-term, investment-grade securities, certificates of deposit or guaranteed obligations of the United States.

DETERMINATION OF OFFERING PRICE

The Company determined the offering price of the Common Stock based on a number of factors, including the Company's assessment of the value of the Common Stock based on the financial and operating history and trends of the Company, the experience of its management, the position of the Company in its industry, and the Company's prospects and financial results. The Company also considered the price of trades in the Common Stock of which management is aware in recent years. However, no established trading market has developed and trading in the Common Stock is limited and sporadic.

The Company issued 721,848 shares of its currently issued and outstanding Common Stock in its initial public offering, which closed on August 27, 1996. The price per share in the initial public offering was $10.00. The Company sold an additional 428,843 shares at $15.00 per share in a public offering that closed on December 31, 1998. The Company is not aware of all prices at which the Common Stock has been traded since these offerings. Based on information available to the Company from a limited number of sellers and purchasers of Common Stock, the Company believes that transactions in Common Stock ranged from $15.00 to $17.50 per share in 1999, from $15.00 to $18.00 per share in 2000, from $16.25 to $17.25 in 2001, and from $16.00 to $17.50 in 2002. There is a risk that investors in this offering will not be able to resell their shares of Common Stock at a price equal to or greater than $17.50 per share, particularly since the Company does not expect that an active market will develop for the shares in the short term following the offering.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

General

The Common Stock is being offered and sold through the efforts of the directors and executive officers of the Company. Their activities in connection with this offering will be in addition to their other duties, and they will not receive any additional compensation, commission, or other remuneration for such activities. None of the Company's directors and executive officers are registered as a securities broker or dealer under Federal or state securities laws, nor are any of these persons affiliated with a broker-dealer. Because such persons are not in the business of either effecting securities transactions for others or buying and selling securities for their own account, they are not required to register as brokers or dealers. In addition, their proposed activities are exempted from registration pursuant to a specific safe-harbor provision under Rule 3a4-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Similar exemptions are available under applicable state securities law.

How to Subscribe

Each prospective investor who desires to purchase shares of Common Stock should:

1. Complete, date, and execute the Subscription Agreement which has been delivered Prospectus;
2. Make a check, bank draft, or money order payable to The First Bancshares, Inc., $17.50 times the number of shares subscribed for; and
3. Deliver the completed Subscription Agreement and check to the Company at the following address:

David E. Johnson
President and Chief Executive Officer
P. O. Box 15549
6480 U.S. Hwy. 98 West
Hattiesburg, Mississippi 39404

If you have any questions about the offering or how to subscribe, please call David Johnson at (601) 268-8998. Subscribers should retain a copy of the completed Subscription Agreement for their records. The subscription price is due and payable when the Subscription Agreement is delivered.

DESCRIPTION OF COMMON STOCK

The authorized capital stock of the Company consists of 10,000,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $1.00 per share, and 10,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value $1.00 per share, the rights and preferences of which may be designated as the Board of Directors may determine. As of the date of this Prospectus, 1,165,165 shares of Common Stock were outstanding and were held of record by approximately 1,100 shareholders. Immediately after the completion of this offering, there will be 1,210,165 shares of Common Stock outstanding (based on the maximum offering). No shares of Preferred Stock are currently outstanding.

Common Stock

Holders of Common Stock are entitled to receive such dividends as may from time to time be declared by the Board of Directors of the Company out of funds legally available therefor. Holders of Common Stock are entitled to one vote per share and do not have any cumulative voting rights. Holders of Common Stock have no preemptive, conversion, redemption, or sinking fund rights. In the event of a liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up of the Company, holders of Common Stock are entitled to share equally and ratably in the assets of the Company, if any, remaining after the payment of all debts and liabilities of the Company and the liquidation preference of any outstanding Preferred Stock. The outstanding shares of Common Stock are, and the shares of Common Stock offered by the Company hereby when issued will be, fully paid and nonassessable. The rights, preferences, and privileges of holders of Common Stock are subject to any classes or series of Preferred Stock that the Company may issue in the future.

Preferred Stock

The Articles provide that the Board of Directors is authorized, without further action by the holders of the Common Stock, to provide for the issuance of shares of the Preferred Stock in one or more classes or series and to fix the designations, preferences, and other rights and restrictions thereof, including the dividend rate, conversion rights, voting rights, redemption price, and liquidation preference, and to fix the number of shares to be included in any such classes or series. Any Preferred Stock so issued may rank senior to the Common Stock with respect to the payment of dividends and amounts upon liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up. In addition, any such shares of Preferred Stock may have class or series voting rights. Upon completion of this offering, the Company will not have any shares of Preferred Stock outstanding. Issuances of Preferred Stock, while providing the Company with flexibility in connection with general corporate purposes, may, among other things, have an adverse effect on the rights of holders of Common Stock, and in certain circumstances such issuances could have the effect of decreasing the market price of the Common Stock. The Company has no present plans to issue any Preferred Stock.

Certain Anti-takeover Effects

The provisions of the Articles, the Bylaws and the Corporation Act summarized in the following paragraphs may be deemed to have anti-takeover effects and may delay, defer, or prevent a tender offer or takeover attempt that a shareholder might consider to be in such shareholder's best interest, including those attempts that might result in a premium over the market price for the shares held by shareholders, and may make removal of management more difficult.

Authorized but Unissued Stock. The authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock will be available for future issuance without shareholder approval. These additional shares may be used for a variety of corporate purposes, including future public offerings to raise additional capital, corporate acquisitions, and employee benefit plans. The existence of authorized but unissued and unreserved shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock may enable the Board of Directors to issue shares to persons friendly to current management, which could render more difficult or discourage any attempt to obtain control of the Company by means such as a proxy contest, tender offer, or merger, and thereby protect the continuity of the Company's management.

Number and Qualifications of Directors. The Articles and Bylaws provide that the number of directors shall be fixed from time to time by resolution adopted by a majority of the directors then in office or the shareholders, but may not consist of fewer than nine nor more than 25 members.

Classified Board of Directors. The Articles and Bylaws divide the Board of Directors into three classes of directors serving staggered three-year terms. As a result, approximately one-third of the Board of Directors will be elected at each annual meeting of shareholders. The classification of directors, together with the provisions in the Articles and Bylaws described below that limit the ability of shareholders to remove directors and that permit the remaining directors to fill any vacancies on the Board of Directors, have the effect of making it more difficult for shareholders to change the composition of the Board of Directors. As a result, at least two annual meetings of shareholders may be required for the shareholders to change a majority of the directors, whether or not a change in the Board of Directors would be beneficial to the Company and its shareholders and whether or not a majority of the Company's shareholders believes that such a change would be desirable.

Removal of Directors and Filling Vacancies. A director may only be removed for cause, and only by the unanimous consent of the shareholders or at a meeting called for the specific purpose of such removal. The Bylaws also provide that all vacancies on the Board of Directors, including those resulting from an increase in the number of directors, may be filled by a majority of the remaining directors, even if they do not constitute a quorum. When a director resigns effective at a future date, a majority of directors then in office, including the director who is to resign, may vote on filling the vacancy.

Advance Notice Requirements for Shareholder Proposals and Director Nominations. The Bylaws establish advance notice procedures with regard to shareholder proposals and the nomination, other than by or at the direction of the Board of Directors or a committee of the Board, of candidates for election as directors. These procedures provide that the notice of shareholder proposals and shareholder nominations for the election of directors at any meeting of shareholders must be in writing and be received by the Secretary of the Company on or before the later to occur of (i) 60 days prior to the meeting or (ii) 10 days after notice of the meeting is provided to the shareholders. The Company may reject a shareholder proposal or nomination that is not made in accordance with such procedures.

Limitations on Shareholders' Action by Written Consent. The Bylaws permit shareholder action by written consent in lieu of a meeting only if such consent is unanimous.

Certain Nomination Requirements. Pursuant to the Bylaws, the Company has established certain nomination requirements for an individual to be elected as a director of the Company at any annual or special meeting of the shareholders, including that the nominating party provide the Company within a specified time prior to the meeting (i) notice that such party intends to nominate the proposed director; (ii) the name and certain biographical information on the nominee; and (iii) a statement that the nominee has consented to the nomination. The chairman of any shareholders meeting may, for good cause shown, waive the operation of these provisions. These provisions could reduce the likelihood that a third party would nominate and elect individuals to serve on the Company's Board of Directors.

Control Share Acquisition Provision. The Articles include a control share acquisition provision requiring any person who plans to acquire a control block of stock (generally defined as 10%) to obtain approval by the majority vote of disinterested shareholders or the affirmative vote of 75% of eligible members of the Board of Directors in order to vote the control shares. If a control share is made without first obtaining this approval, all stock beneficially owned by the acquiring person in excess of 10% will be considered excess stock and will not be entitled to vote.

Any person who proposes to make or has made a control share acquisition may deliver a statement to the Company describing the person's background and the control share acquisition and requesting a special meeting of shareholders of the Company to decide whether to grant voting rights to the shares acquired in the control share acquisition. The acquiring person must pay the expenses of this meeting. If no request is made, the voting rights to be accorded the shares acquired in the control share acquisition shall be presented to the next special or annual meeting of the shareholders. If the acquiring person does not deliver his or her statement with the Company, the Company may elect to repurchase the acquiring person's shares at fair market value. Control shares acquired in a control share acquisition are not subject to redemption after an acquiring person statement has been filed unless the shares are not accorded full voting rights by the shareholders.

Consideration of Other Constituencies in Mergers. The Corporation Act grants the Board of Directors the discretion, when considering whether a proposed merger or similar transaction is in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders, to take into account the effect of the transaction on the employees, customers, and suppliers of the Company and upon the communities in which the offices of the Company are located.

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS

ITEM 14. OTHER EXPENSES OF ISSUANCE AND DISTRIBUTION.

The estimated fees and expenses incurred by the Registrant in connection with this offering are as follows:

Securities and Exchange Commission registration fee	$ 72.45
Printing and engraving expenses	250.00
Legal fees and expenses of counsel for the Registrant	9,500.00
Accounting fees and expenses	500.00
Miscellaneous	677.55

Total

$11,000.00

ITEM 15. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS.

Section 79-4-8.50 through 79-4-8.59 of the Mississippi Business Corporation Act (the "Act") provide the Company with broad powers and authority to indemnify its directors and officers and to purchase and maintain insurance for such purposes and mandate the indemnification of the Company's directors under certain circumstances. The Company's Articles of Incorporation also provide the Company with the power and authority to the fullest extent legally permissible under the Act to indemnify its directors and officers, persons serving at the request of the Company or for its benefit as directors or officers of another corporation, and persons serving as the Company's representatives or agents in certain circumstances. Pursuant to such authority and the provisions of the Company's Articles of Incorporation, the Company intends to purchase insurance against certain liabilities that may be incurred by it and its officers and directors.

The Articles of Incorporation of the Company contain a provision which, subject to certain exceptions described below, eliminates the liability of a director or officer to the Company or its shareholders for monetary damages for any breach of duty as a director or officer. This provision does not eliminate such liability to the extent the director or officer engaged in willful misconduct or a knowing violation of criminal law or of any federal or state securities law, including, without limitation, laws proscribing insider trading or manipulation of the market for any security.

Under its Bylaws, the Company must indemnify any person who becomes subject to a lawsuit or proceeding by reason of service as a director of the Company or the Hattiesburg Bank or any other corporation which the person served as a director at the request of the Company. Except as noted in the next paragraph, directors are entitled to be indemnified against judgments, penalties, fines, settlements, and reasonable expenses actually incurred by the director in connection with the proceeding. Directors are also entitled to have the Company advance any such expenses prior to final disposition of the proceeding, upon delivery of a written affirmation by the director of his good faith belief that the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification has been met and a written undertaking to repay the amounts advanced if it is ultimately determined that the standard of conduct has not been met.

Under the Bylaws, indemnification will be disallowed if it is established that the director appropriated, in violation of his duties, any business opportunity of the Company, engaged in acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law approved dividends or other distributions in violation of the Act, or engaged in any transaction in which the director derived an improper personal benefit. In addition to the Bylaws of the Company, the Act requires that a corporation indemnify a director who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which he was a party because he is or was a director of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by him in connection with the proceeding. The Act also provides that upon application of a director a court may order indemnification if it determines that the director is entitled to such indemnification under the applicable standard of the Act.

The Board of Directors of the Company also has the authority to extend to officers, employees, and agents the same indemnification rights held by directors, subject to all of the accompanying conditions and obligations. The Board of Directors has extended or intends to extend indemnification rights to all of its executive officers.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Act may be permitted to directors, officers, and controlling persons of the Company pursuant to the Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws, or otherwise, the Company has been advised that in the opinion of the SEC such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable.

ITEM 17. UNDERTAKINGS.

(1) The Registrant hereby undertakes that it will:

(a) file, during any period in which it offers or sells securities, a post-effective amendment to: (i) include any prospectus required by section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933 ("Act"); (ii) reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the prospectus (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information in the Registration Statement; and (iii) include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the Registration Statement or any other such information in the Registration Statement.

(b) for the purpose of determining liability under the Act, treat each post-effective amendment to the Registration Statement relating to the securities offered, and the offering of the securities at the time of the initial bona fide offering.

(c) file a post-effective amendment to remove from registration any of the securities that are the subject of the end of the offering.

(2) The Registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the Registrant's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) that is incorporated by reference in the Registration Statement shall be deemed to be a new Registration Statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of the securities at the time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes to deliver or to cause to be delivered with the prospectus to the person to whom the prospectus is sent or given (i) the latest annual report to security holders to which the prospectus refers by reference in the prospectus and furnished pursuant to or meeting the requirements of Rule 14a-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934; and (ii) the latest quarterly report that is incorporated by reference in the prospectus to provide such interim financial information.

Edgar Filing: FIRST BANCSHARES INC /MS/ - Form S-2

(4) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Act may be permitted to directors or controlling persons of the Registrant pursuant to the provisions described under Item 20 above, the Registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the Registrant of expenses incurred by such director, officer or controlling person of the Registrant in the successful defense of any action asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered) is sought by any action brought by or for the benefit of the Registrant or its security holders, the Registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by a final judgment of a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

SIGNATURES

Pursuant to the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, the Registrant certifies that it has reasonable grounds to believe that it meets all of the requirements for filing on Form S-2 and has duly caused this Registration Statement to be signed on its behalf by the undersigned, thereunto duly authorized, in the City of Hattiesburg and State of Mississippi on January __, 2003.

Board of Directors
The First Bancshares, Inc.
6480 U.S. Hwy. 98 West
Hattiesburg, MS 39402

Gentlemen:

We have acted as counsel for The First Bancshares, Inc., a Mississippi corporation (the "Company" with the filing of its Registration Statement on Form S-2 (the "Registration Statement") for the 45,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $1.00 per share, of the Company under the Securities Act 1933.

We have examined the Articles of Incorporation and the amendments thereto, Bylaws, Corporate Minutes, corporate records and proceedings of the Company relating to its organization and present corporate other corporate records and documents as we have deemed relevant for purposes of this opinion.

Based on the foregoing, it is our opinion that the shares of Common Stock, par value $1.00 per share of the Company when issued and sold as described in the Registration Statement will be legally issued, fully assessable shares of Common Stock of the Company.

Edgar Filing: FIRST BANCSHARES INC /MS/ - Form S-2

This opinion is limited to the laws of the State of Mississippi and the federal laws of the United States.

We hereby consent to the use of this opinion as an exhibit to the Registration Statement and to the Prospectus of the Company under the caption "Legal Matters" in the Prospectus contained in the Registration Statement.

Very truly yours,

WATKINS LUDLAM WINTER & STENNIS, P.A.

Exhibit 10.5

AGREEMENT TO REPURCHASE COMMON STOCK

This Agreement to Repurchase Common Stock (herein referred to as "Agreement") entered into on the 27th day of January, 2003 among The First Bancshares, Inc., a Mississippi corporation (referred to as "Company"), and Nick Welch and David Johnson (also referred to herein individually by their names and collectively as "Selling Stockholders").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Selling Stockholders are the owners of Common Stock of the Company as follows:

Stockholders -----	Number of Shares -----
Nick Welch	92,716
David Johnson	22,191

WHEREAS, the Company desires to redeem shares of common stock of the Company owned by the Selling Stockholders on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth as follows:

WHEREAS, the Selling Stockholders are willing that their shares be redeemed on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth;

In consideration of above recitals and of the mutual covenants and agreements herein, the parties mutually agree as follows:

1. Public Offering. The Company intends to file a registration statement on Form S-2 (the "Registration Statement") with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the sale of 45,000 shares of Common Stock in a public offering (the "Public Offering"). The Company shall have no obligation to the Selling Stockholders to sell shares in the Public Offering, and may abandon or change the terms of the Public Offering in its sole discretion.
2. Number of Shares to be Redeemed. The Company shall redeem an aggregate number of shares equal to the number of shares sold in the Public Offering. Of the total shares to be redeemed, 88.89% shall be purchased from Welch and 11.11% shall be purchased from Johnson, rounded to the nearest whole share.
3. Redemption Price. The redemption price shall be $17.50 per share, net of the reimbursement of the Public Offering as set forth in paragraph 8 hereof.
4. Closing. The closing of the transactions contemplated hereby shall take place at the direction of the Company on a date set by the Company within 30 days of the termination of the Public Offering (the "Closing Date").

STOCK INFORMATION

The Company's articles of incorporation authorize it to issue up to 10,000,000 shares of Common Stock. As of March 4, 2002, the Company had 1,165,165 shares outstanding, held by shareholders of record.

The Common Stock of the Company is not traded on any exchange and there is no public trading market for its common stock. Trading of the Common Stock has been limited and sporadic. The Company issued 721,848 shares of its currently issued and outstanding Common Stock in its initial public offering, which closed on August 27, 1996. The price per share in the initial public offering was $10.00.

The Company issued an additional 428,843 shares of its common stock in its public offering in connection with the formation of the Laurel Bank, which closed on December 31, 1998. The price per share in this offering was $15.00.

The Company is not aware of all prices at which the Common Stock has been traded since the initial offering. Based on information available to the Company from a limited number of sellers and purchasers of Common Stock, the Company is aware of several transactions between August 27, 1996 and December 31, 1996, all of which were at $10.00 per share, and the Company believes transactions in the Common Stock ranged from $10.00 to $12.00 during 1997, from $12.00 to $17.50 during 1998, from $15.00 to $17.50 during 1999, from $15.00 to $18.00 during 2000, and from $16.00 to $17.25 during 2001.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Overview

The Company was incorporated on June 23, 1995 and serves as a financial holding company for The First National Bank of South Mississippi ("The First"), located in Hattiesburg, Mississippi and the First National Bank of the Pine Belt (Pine Belt), located in Laurel, Mississippi. The First began operations on August 5, 1996 from its main office in the Oak Grove community, which is on the outskirts of Hattiesburg. The First also operates two branches in Hattiesburg and one in Purvis, Mississippi. Pine Belt began banking operations on January 19, 1999. Pine Belt has one office located in Laurel, Mississippi. The Company and its subsidiary banks engage in a general commercial and retail banking business characterized by personalized service and local decision-making, emphasizing the banking needs of small - to medium-sized businesses, professional concerns, and individuals. The First and Pine Belt are wholly-owned subsidiary banks of the Company.

The Company's primary source of revenue is interest income and fees, which it earns by lending and investing the funds which are held on deposit. Because loans generally earn higher rates of interest than investments, the Company seeks to employ as much of its deposit funds as possible in the form of loans to individuals, businesses, and other organizations. To ensure sufficient liquidity, the Company also maintains a portion of its deposits in cash, government securities, deposits with other financial institutions, and overnight loans of excess reserves (known as "Federal Funds sold") to correspondent banks. The revenue which the Company earns (prior to deducting its overhead expenses) is essentially a function of the amount of the Company's loans and deposits, as well as the profit margin ("interest spread") and fee income which can be generated on these amounts.

The Company grew from approximately $117.6 million in total assets, $83.6 million in loans, $96.8 million in deposits, and $13.2 million in shareholders' equity at December 31, 2000 to approximately $135.6 million in total assets, $94.3 million in loans, $113.2 million in deposits, and $14.0 million in shareholders' equity at December 31, 2001. The Company enjoyed its first quarterly profit in the third quarter of 1997 and reported a net profit for the year 1998. For the year ended 1999, the Company reported a net loss of $173,000. Included in this loss was a loss of $513,000 reported by Pine Belt for the period beginning January 19, 1999 (opening date) and ended December 31, 1999. The First reported net income of $609,000 and $403,000 for the years ended December 31, 2001, and 2000, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2001, and 2000, the Company reported consolidated net income of $672,000 and $565,000, respectively. Pine Belt reported net income of $92,000, and $168,000 for the years ended December 31, 2001, and 2000, respectively. Comparisons of the Company's results for all of the periods presented should be made with an understanding of the Company's short history. The following discussion should be read in conjunction with the Selected Consolidated Financial Data and the Company's Financial Statements and the Notes thereto and the other financial data included elsewhere.

Consolidated Net Income

The Company reported consolidated net income of $672,000 for the year ended December 31, 2001, compared to a consolidated net income of $565,000 for the year ended December 31, 2000. This was the result of an increase in interest income due to the continued growth of earning assets and an increase in other income as service charges on deposit accounts increased due to growth in deposits. The increases in income were partially offset by an increase in noninterest expense of $907,000 which was the result of anticipated staff additions and other operating costs related to the growth of the subsidiary banks.

Consolidated Net Interest Income

The largest component of net income for the Company is net interest income, which is the difference between the income earned on assets and interest paid on deposits and borrowings used to support such assets. Net interest income is determined by the rates earned on the Company's interest-earning assets and the rates paid on its interest-bearing liabilities, the relative amounts of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities, and the degree of mismatch and the maturity and repricing characteristics of its interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities.

Consolidated net interest income was $4,967,000 for the year ended December 31, 2001, as compared to $4,083,000 for the year ended December 31, 2000. This increase was the direct result of an increase in average earnings assets for the year 2001 to $118,003,000 compared to $96,471,000 for the year 2000. This increase in earning assets was funded by an increase in deposits. Deposits at December 31, 2001, totaled $113,238,000 compared to $96,845,000 at December 31, 2000. Average interest-bearing liabilities for the year 2001 was $104,449,000 compared to $84,015,000 for the year 2000. At December 31, 2001, the net interest spread, the difference between the yield on earning assets and the rates paid on interest-bearing liabilities, was 3.67% compared to 3.64% at December 31, 2000. The net interest margin (which is net interest income divided by average earning assets) was 4.27% for the year 2001, compared to 4.28% for the year 2000. Rates paid on average interest-bearing liabilities decreased from 5.46% for the year 2000 to 4.75% for the year 2001. Interest earned on assets and interest accrued on liabilities are significantly influenced by market factors, specifically interest rates as set by Federal agencies. Interest rates, as set by the Federal Reserve Bank, reflected decreases throughout the year 2001. Average loans comprised 76.1% of average earning assets for the year 2001 compared to 79.8% for the year 2000.

Average Balances, Income and Expenses, and Rates. The following tables depict, for the periods indicated, certain information related to the average balance sheet and average yields on assets and average costs of liabilities. Such yields are derived by dividing income or expense by the average balance of the corresponding assets or Interest Sensitivity. The Company monitors and manages the pricing and maturity of its assets and liabilities in order to diminish the potential adverse impact that changes in interest rates could have on its net interest income. A monitoring technique employed by the Company is the measurement of the Company's interest sensitivity "gap," which is the positive or negative dollar difference between assets and liabilities that are subject to interest rate repricing within a given period of time. The Company also performs asset/liability modeling to assess the impact varying interest rates and balance sheet mix assumptions will have on net interest income. Interest rate sensitivity can be managed by repricing assets or liabilities, selling securities available-for-sale, replacing an asset or liability at maturity, or adjusting the interest rate during the life of an asset or liability. Managing the amount of assets and liabilities repricing in the same time interval helps to hedge the risk and minimize the impact on net interest income of rising or falling interest rates. The Company evaluates interest sensitivity risk and then formulates guidelines regarding asset generation and repricing, funding sources and pricing, and off-balance sheet commitments in order to decrease interest rate sensitivity risk.

The following tables illustrate the Company's consolidated interest rate sensitivity and consolidated cumulative gap position at December 31, 1999, 2000, and 2001.

(1) NOW and savings accounts are subject to immediate withdrawal and repricing. These deposits do tend to immediately react to changes in interest rates and the Company believes these deposits constitute a stable and predictable funding source. Therefore, these deposits are included in the repricing categories that management believes most closely matches the periods in which they are likely to be repriced rather than the period in which the funds can be withdrawn contractually.

(2) Securities include mortgage backed and other installment paying obligations based upon stated maturity dates.

The Company generally would benefit from increasing market rates of interest when it has an asset-sensitive gap and generally from decreasing market rates of interest when it is liability sensitive. The Company currently is liability sensitive within the one-year time frame. However, the Company's gap analysis is not a precise indicator of its interest sensitivity position. The analysis presents only a static view of the timing of maturities and repricing opportunities, without taking into consideration that changes in interest rates do not affect all assets and liabilities equally. For example, rates paid on a substantial portion of core deposits may change contractually within a relatively short time frame, but those rates are viewed by management as significantly less interest-sensitive than market-based rates such as those paid on non-core deposits. Accordingly, management believes a liability sensitive-position within one year would not be as indicative of the Company's true interest sensitivity as it would be for an organization which depends to a greater extent on purchased funds to support earning assets. Net interest income is also affected by other significant factors, including changes in the volume and mix of earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities.

Provision and Allowance for Loan Losses

The Company has developed policies and procedures for evaluating the overall quality of its credit portfolio and the timely identification of potential problem loans. Management's judgment as to the adequacy of the allowance is based upon a number of assumptions about future events which it believes to be reasonable, but which may not prove to be accurate, particularly given the Company's short operating history and rapid growth. Thus, there can be no assurance that charge-offs in future periods will not exceed the allowance for loan losses or that additional increases in the loan loss allowance will not be required.

Additions to the allowance for loan losses, which are reported as the provision for loan losses on the Company's consolidated statement of operations, are made periodically to maintain the allowance at an appropriate level based on management's analysis of the potential risk in the loan portfolio. The allowance consists of two components: allocated and unallocated. The allocated portion of the allowance is based upon specific allocations to specific loans, including impaired loans, and upon historical loan loss experience based upon peer group ratios. Because the subsidiary banks were recently formed and have not yet established a reliable loss experience, management has elected to use the loss experience of the banks' peer groups in determining an appropriate allowance based upon internal loan grades.

The unallocated component reflects management's estimate of the probable inherent but undetected losses within the portfolio due to uncertainties about economic conditions, changes in collateral values and borrower financial condition, as well as other risk factors that have not yet manifested themselves. The unallocated component is based upon the level of the allowance of the banks' peer groups.

The amount of the provision is a function of the level of loans outstanding, the level of nonperforming loans, historical loan loss experience, the amount of loan losses actually charged against the allowance during a given period, and current and anticipated economic conditions.

At December 31, 2001 the consolidated allowance for loan losses amounted to $1,060,000, or 1.12% of outstanding loans. At December 31, 2000 and 1999, the allowance for loan losses amounted to $978,000 and $740,000, respectively which was 1.18% and 1.20% of outstanding loans at December 31, 2000 and 1999. The Company's provision for loan losses was $342,000 for the year ended December 31, 2001, compared to $325,000 and $408,000 for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively. However, 1999 included $274,000 for Pine Belt which reflected management's efforts to maintain an adequate allowance on an unseasoned loan portfolio. In each case, the provision was made based on management's assessment of general loan loss risk and asset quality.

A loan is considered impaired when, based on current information and events, it is probable that the Corporation will be unable to collect the scheduled payments of principal or interest when due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. Factors considered by management in determining impairment include payment status, collateral value, and the probability of collecting scheduled principal and interest payments when due. Loans that experience insignificant payment delays and payment shortfalls generally are not classified as impaired. Management determines the significance of payment delays and payment shortfalls on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration all of the circumstances surrounding the loan and the borrower, including the length of the delay, the reasons for the delay, the borrower's prior payment record, and the amount of the shortfall in relation to the principal and interest owed. Impairment is measured on a loan by loan basis generally using the fair value of the collateral if the loan is collateral dependent. At December 31, 2001, and 2000, loans considered impaired were the same as nonaccrual loans as described in the following paragraph.

The Company discontinues accrual of interest on loans when management believes, after considering economic and business conditions and collection efforts, that a borrower's financial condition is such that the collection of interest is doubtful. Generally, the Company will place a delinquent loan in nonaccrual status when the loan becomes 90 days or more past due. At the time a loan is placed in nonaccrual status, all interest which has been accrued on the loan but remains unpaid is reversed and deducted from earnings as a reduction of reported interest income. No additional interest is accrued on the loan balance until the collection of both principal and interest becomes reasonably certain. The Company had nonaccrual loans of $175,000 and $58,000 and no restructured or other nonperforming loans at December 31, 2001, and 2000, respectively. At December 31, 2001 the Company had loans in the principal amount of $948,000 delinquent 30 to 89 days, and loans of approximately $288,000 that were delinquent 90 days or more. At December 31, 2000 the Company had loans in the principal amount of $644,000 delinquent by 30 to 89 days, and loans of approximately $90,000 that were delinquent by 90 days.

A potential problem loan is one in which management has serious doubts about the borrower's future performance under the terms of the loan contract. These loans are current as to principal and interest and, accordingly, they are not included in nonperforming assets categories. The level of potential problem loans is one factor used in the determination of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses. At December 31, 2001 and December 31, 2000, the subsidiary banks had potential problem loans of:

Noninterest Income and Expense

Noninterest Income. The Company's primary source of noninterest income is service charges on deposit accounts. Other sources of noninterest income include bankcard fees, commissions on check sales, safe deposit box rent, wire transfer fees, and official check fees.

Noninterest income increased by $399,000 or 60% from $675,000 for the year ended December 31, 2000, to $1,074,000 for the year ended December 31, 2001. Included in this increase was an increase in activity fees related to deposits which was due to the growth of deposits. These activity fees were $808,000 for 2001 compared to $487,000 for 2000. Other service charges and fees totaled $233,000 for the year ended December 31, 2001, compared to $167,000 for the year ended December 31, 2000. This increase was also attributable to the growth in deposits and activities of the two banks.

Noninterest expense increased from $3.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2000 to $4.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2001. The Company experienced increases in most expense categories, which reflects the continued growth of the Company. The largest increase was in salary and employee benefits, which increased by $474,000 in 2001 as compared to 2000. This increase included normal merit increases in salaries as well as the employment of additional employees throughout 2000. Occupancy and equipment expense increased from $690,000 in 2000 to $885,000 in 2001. This increase resulted primarily from costs related to the construction of and opening of Pine Belt's new main office building in September, 2000, and to the leasing of an operations center in Hattiesburg, and to additional equipment acquisitions and expenses due to the continued growth incurred. In 1999, the Company had $215,000 in organization and preopening costs associated with the formation and opening of Pine Belt.

Other expenses, including data processing and supplies, increased primarily as a result of the continued growth of the Company and the resulting increased lending and deposit activities. In light of the intense competition in the financial services market in recent years, management emphasizes expense management and will continue to evaluate and monitor growth in discretionary expense categories in an attempt to control future increases.

The following table sets forth the primary components of noninterest expense for the periods indicated:

Income Tax Expense

The Company recognizes deferred tax assets for future deductible amounts resulting from differences in the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities and operating loss carryforwards. The Company then establishes a valuation allowance to reduce the deferred tax asset to the level that it is "more likely than not" that the tax benefit will be realized. Prior to 1999, the Company fully offset the deferred tax assets resulting primarily from the provision for loan losses, the deferred pre-opening costs, and the operating loss carryforwards by a valuation allowance in the same amount. In 2001 and 2000, management reevaluated the valuation allowance and because of profitability trends and projections redetermined the likelihood of realization of the assets and adjusted the valuation allowance accordingly. The adjustment to the valuation allowance resulted in income tax benefits for each year.

Analysis of Financial Condition

Earning Assets

Loans. Loans typically provide higher yields than the other types of earning assets, and thus one of the Company's goals is for loans to be the largest category of the Company's earning assets. At December 31, 2001, loans accounted for 77% of earning assets, as compared to 77% and 74% of earning assets at December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Management attempts to control and counterbalance the inherent credit and liquidity risks associated with the higher loan yields without sacrificing asset quality to achieve its asset mix goals. Loans averaged $89.8 million during 2001, as compared to $77.0 million in 2000 and $47.8 million in 1999, reflecting the substantial growth of the Company during the period.

The following table shows the composition of the loan portfolio excluding loans held for sale, by category:

In the context of this discussion, a "real estate mortgage loan" is defined as any loan, other than loans for construction purposes, secured by real estate, regardless of the purpose of the loan. The Company follows the common practice of financial institutions in the Company's market area of obtaining a security interest in real estate whenever possible, in addition to any other available collateral. This collateral is taken to reinforce the likelihood of the ultimate repayment of the loan and tends to increase the magnitude of the real estate loan portfolio component. Generally, the Company limits its loan-to-value ratio to 80%. Due to the short term the loan portfolio has existed, the current portfolio may not be indicative of the ongoing portfolio mix. Management attempts to maintain a conservative philosophy regarding its underwriting guidelines and believes it will reduce the risk elements of its loan portfolio through strategies that diversify the lending mix.

The following table sets forth the Company's commercial and construction real estate loans maturing within specified intervals at December 31, 2001.

Investment Securities. The investment securities portfolio is a significant component of the Company's total earning assets. Total securities averaged $21.1 million in 2001, as compared to $15.4 million in 2000 and $11.8 million in 1999. This represents 17.9%, 16.1%, and 18.5% of the average earning assets for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000, and 1999, respectively. At December 31, 2001, investment securities were $22.9 million and represented 19.4% of earning assets. The Company attempts to maintain a portfolio of high quality, highly liquid investments with returns competitive with short term U.S. Treasury or agency obligations. This objective is particularly important as the Company continues to grow its loan portfolio. The Company primarily invests in securities of U.S. Government agencies, and corporate obligations with maturities up to five years.

The following table summarizes the book value of securities for the dates indicated.

Short-Term Investments. Short-term investments, consisting of Federal Funds sold, averaged $6.2 million in 2001, $3.8 million in 2000, and $3.5 million in 1999. At December 31, 2001, and December 31, 2000, short-term investments totaled $3.9 million and $3.7 million, respectively. These funds are a primary source of the Company's liquidity and are generally invested in an earning capacity on an overnight basis.

Deposits

Deposits. Average interest-bearing deposits increased $20.4 million, or 26.2%, to $98.1 million in 2001, from $77.7 million in 2000. Average total deposits increased $22.6 million, or 24.3%, in 2001. At December 31, 2001, total deposits were $113.2 million, compared to $96.8 million a year earlier, an increase of 16.9%.

The following table sets forth the deposits of the Company by category for the periods indicated.

The Company's loan-to-deposit ratio was 83.3% at December 31, 2001, 86.3% at December 31, 2000, and 83.8% at December 31, 1999. The loan-to-deposit ratio averaged 77.0% during 2001. Core deposits, which exclude time deposits of $100,000 or more, provide a relatively stable funding source for the Company's loan portfolio and other earning assets. The Company's core deposits were $84.5 million at December 31, 2001, $73.0 million at December 31, 2000, and $57.0 million at December 31, 1999. Management anticipates that a stable base of deposits will be the Company's primary source of funding to meet both its short-term and long-term liquidity needs in the future. The Company has purchased brokered deposits from time to time to help fund loan growth and maintain a loan-to-deposit ratio of approximately 80.0%. Brokered deposits and jumbo certificates of deposit generally carry a higher interest rate than traditional core deposits. Further, brokered deposit customers typically do not have loan or other relationships with the Company. The Company has adopted a policy not to permit brokered deposits to represent more than 10% of all of the Company's deposits.

The maturity distribution of the Company's certificates of deposit of $100,000 or more at December 31, 2001, is shown in the following table. The Company did not have any other time deposits of $100,000 or more.

Borrowed funds. Borrowed funds consist primarily of advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank of Dallas and federal funds purchased. At December 31, 2001, advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank totaled $7.6 million compared to $6.5 million at December 31, 2000. The advances are collateralized by first mortgage loans, Federal Home Loan Bank capital stock, and amounts on deposit with the Federal Home Loan Bank. Federal funds purchased was $232,000 million at December 31, 2001 and $322,000 at December 31, 2000.

Capital

Total shareholders' equity as of December 31, 2001 was $14.0 million, an increase of $810,000 or approximately 6.1%, compared with shareholders' equity of $13.2 million as of December 31, 2000.

The Federal Reserve Board and bank regulatory agencies require bank holding companies and financial institutions to maintain capital at adequate levels based on a percentage of assets and off-balance sheet exposures, adjusted for risk weights ranging from 0% to 100%. Under the risk-based standard, capital is classified into two tiers. Tier 1 capital consists of common shareholders' equity, excluding the unrealized gain (loss) on available-for-sale securities, minus certain intangible assets. Tier 2 capital consists of the general reserve for loan losses subject to certain limitations. An institution's qualifying capital base for purposes of its risk-based capital ratio consists of the sum of its Tier 1 and Tier 2 capital. The risk based regulatory minimum requirements are 4% for Tier 1 and 8% for total risk based capital.

Bank holding companies and banks are also required to maintain capital at a minimum level based on total assets, which is known as the leverage ratio. The minimum requirement for the leverage ratio is 3%. All but the highest rated institutions are required to maintain ratios 100 to 200 basis points above the minimum. The Company and the subsidiary banks exceeded their minimum regulatory capital ratios as of December 31, 2001 and 2000.

Liquidity Management

Liquidity management involves monitoring the Company's sources and uses of funds in order to meet its day-to-day cash flow requirements while maximizing profits. Liquidity represents the ability of a company to convert assets into cash or cash equivalents without significant loss and to raise additional funds by increasing liabilities. Liquidity management is made more complicated because different balance sheet components are subject to varying degrees of management control. For example, the timing of maturities of the investment portfolio is very predictable and subject to a high degree of control at the time investment decisions are made. However, net deposit inflows and outflows are far less predictable and are not subject to the same degree of control. Asset liquidity is provided by cash and assets which are readily marketable, which can be pledged, or which will mature in the near future. Liability liquidity is provided by access to core funding sources, principally the ability to generate customer deposits in the Company's market area.

The Company sold 721,848 shares during its initial public offering in 1996, with net proceeds, after offering expenses, of $7.1 million. Approximately $5.3 million of the proceeds of the offering were used to capitalize The First. The remaining offering proceeds were used to provide working capital for the Company. With the successful completion of the initial public offering, the Company has maintained a high level of liquidity that has been adequate to meet planned capital expenditures, as well as providing the necessary cash requirements of the Company needed for operations. The Company sold 428,843 shares of its common stock for net proceeds, after offering expense of $6.3 million. Approximately $5 million was used to purchase the capital stock of Pine Belt. The Company's Federal Funds sold position, which is typically its primary source of liquidity, averaged $6.2 million during the year ended December 31, 2001 and totaled $3.9 million at December 31, 2001. Also, the Company has available advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank. Advances available are generally based upon the amount of qualified first mortgage loans which can be used for collateral. At December 31, 2001, advances available totaled approximately $42.0 million of which $6.2 million had been drawn.

Management regularly reviews the liquidity position of the Company and has implemented internal policies which establish guidelines for sources of asset-based liquidity and limit the total amount of purchased funds used to support the balance sheet and funding from non-core sources.

Accounting Matters

In June, 2001, the FASB issued Statements No. 141, "Business Combinations," and No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets."

Statement No. 141 supersedes APB Opinion No. 16, "Business Combinations," and eliminates the pooling-of-interests method of accounting for business combinations, thus requiring that all business combinations be accounted for using the purchase method. In addition, in applying the purchase method, Statement No. 141 changes the criteria for recognizing intangible assets apart from goodwill and states the following criteria should be considered in determining the recognition of the intangible assets: (1) the intangible asset arises from the contractual or other legal rights, or (2) the intangible asset is separable or dividable from the acquired entity and capable of being sold, transferred, licensed, rented or exchanged. The requirements of the statement are effective for all business combinations completed after June 30, 2001.

According to Statement No. 142, goodwill and those intangible assets that have indefinite lives are not amortized but are tested for impairment. Statement No. 142 is effective for year beginning after December 15, 2001. This statement is not expected to impact the consolidated financial position of the Company.

Impact of Inflation

Unlike most industrial companies, the assets and liabilities of financial institutions such as the Company are primarily monetary in nature. Therefore, interest rates have a more significant effect on the Company's performance than do the effects of changes in the general rate of inflation and change in prices. In addition, interest rates do not necessarily move in the same direction or in the same magnitude as the prices of goods and services. As discussed previously, management seeks to manage the relationships between interest sensitive assets and liabilities in order to protect against wide interest rate fluctuations, including those resulting from inflation.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2001 AND 2000

NOTE A - NATURE OF BUSINESS

The First Bancshares, Inc. (the Company) is a financial holding company whose business is conducted through its wholly owned subsidiaries, The First National Bank of South Mississippi (The First) and The First National Bank of the Pine Belt (Pine Belt). The subsidiary banks provide a full range of banking services in their primary operating areas of Hinds, Lamar, Forrest, and Jones Counties, Mississippi, and the surrounding counties. The Company also commenced operations in August, 1996. Pine Belt commenced operations in January, 1999. The Company, a financial holding company, is regulated by the Federal Reserve Bank. Its subsidiary banks are regulated by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC).

NOTE B - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company and its subsidiary banks follow accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America including, where applicable, general practices within the banking industry.

1. Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

2. Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change in the near term include the allowance for loan losses and the valuation of deferred tax assets.

3. Cash and Due From Banks

Included in cash and due from banks are legal reserve requirements which must be maintained in the form of cash and balances due from the Federal Reserve and other banks.

4. Securities

Investments in securities are classified into three categories and are accounted for as follows:

Available-for-Sale Securities

Securities classified as available-for-sale are those securities that are intended to be held for an indefinite period of time, but not necessarily to maturity. Any decision to sell a security classified as available-for-sale is based on various factors, including movements in interest rates, liquidity needs, security risk assessment, and the mix of assets and liabilities and other similar factors. These securities are carried at their fair value and the net unrealized gain or loss is reported in stockholders' equity, net of tax, when applicable.

Gains and losses on the sale of available-for-sale securities are determined using the adjusted cost method.

Premiums and discounts are recognized in interest income using the interest method.

Securities to be Held-to-Maturity

Securities classified as held-to-maturity are those securities for which there is a positive to maturity. These securities are carried at cost adjusted for amortization of premiums and computed by the interest method.

Trading Account Securities

Trading account securities are those securities which are held for the purpose of selling the no trading account securities on hand at December 31, 2001 and 2000.

5. Loans held for sale

Loans held for sale consist of mortgage loans originated for the purpose of being sold in for sale loans are carried at the lower of cost or market. Generally, these loans are not on a sale commitment and are normally held for no more than forty-five days.

6. Loans

Loans are carried at the principal amount outstanding, net of the allowance for loan losses. is recognized based on the principal balance outstanding and the stated rate of the loan. Lo certain direct organization costs are deferred and recognized as an adjustment of the related interest method.

6. Loans (Continued)

A loan is considered impaired when, based upon current events and information, it is probable payments of principal or interest will not be collected in accordance with the contractual te Factors considered by management in determining impairment include payment status, collateral probability of collecting scheduled payments of principal and interest when due.

The accrual of interest on real estate and commercial loans is discontinued at the time the l unless the loan is well secured and in process of collection.

7. Allowance for Loan Losses

For financial reporting purposes, the provision for loan losses charged to operations is base estimations of the amount necessary to maintain the allowance at an adequate level. Allowance loans are generally determined based on collateral values. Loans are charged against the all when management believes the collectibility of the principal is unlikely.

Management evaluates the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses on a regular basis. These upon a periodic review of the collectibility considering historical experience, the nature an portfolio, underlying collateral values, internal and independent loan reviews, and prevailin

In addition, the OCC, as a part of the regulatory examination process, reviews the loan portfolio for loan losses and may require changes in the allowance based upon information available at examination.

The allowance consists of two components; allocated and unallocated. The components represent the allowance pursuant to either Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement No. 5, "Accounting for Allowance for Loan Losses" or FASB Statement No. 114, "Accounting by Creditors for Impairment of a Loan." The allocated allowance reflects expected losses resulting from an analysis developed through specific credit review of individual loans, including any impaired loans, and historical loan loss history. As recently as 1995, institutions, the Banks have not established an historical loan loss experience. As such, the peer group banks is used as a guide. The analysis is performed quarterly and loss factors are

The unallocated portion of the allowance reflects management's estimate of probable inherent risk within the portfolio due to uncertainties in economic conditions, changes in collateral value, and information about a borrower's financial condition, and other risk factors that have not yet been quantified. In addition, the unallocated allowance includes a component that explicitly accounts for the risk identified in the loan loss analysis.

8. Premises and Equipment

Premises and equipment are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation. The depreciation is calculated as straight-line depreciation over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method. Repairs and maintenance expenditures are charged to operating expenses; major expenditures for renewals and betterments are capitalized and depreciated over their estimated useful lives.

9. Stock Options

FASB Statement No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," requires a fair value-based method of measuring employee stock options. Under this method, compensation cost is measured at the end of the period on the value of the award and is recognized over the service period. In lieu of recording the cost of the award, the Company has elected to continue to measure compensation cost using Accounting Principles and Standards 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees," and to provide pro forma disclosures quantifying the difference between compensation cost included in reported net income and the related cost measured by the fair value method.

10. Income Taxes

A deferred tax asset or liability is recognized for the future income tax effects attributable to the differences between the tax bases of assets or liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements, as well as for the effects of tax credit carryforwards. The deferred tax asset or liability is measured using the enacted tax rates and is adjusted to taxable income in the period in which the deferred tax asset or liability is expected to be realized. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that a portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized.

11. Statement of Cash Flows

For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include cash and due from banks, and federal funds sold. Generally, federal funds are sold for a one-day period.

12. Off-Balance Sheet Financial Instruments

In the ordinary course of business, the subsidiary banks enter into off-balance sheet financial commitments to extend credit, credit card lines and standby letters of credit. Such financial commitments are recorded in the financial statements when they are exercised.

13. Per Share Amounts

Per share amounts are presented in accordance with FASB Statement No. 128, "Earnings Per Share". Under Statement No. 128, two per share amounts are considered and presented, if applicable. Basic earnings per share is calculated based on the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the reporting period. Diluted per share data includes any dilution from potential common stock outstanding, such as convertible preferred stock and options.

The following table discloses the reconciliation of the numerators and denominators of the basic and diluted earnings per share computations:

16. Accounting Pronouncements (Continued)

Statement No. 141 supersedes APB Opinion No. 16, "Business Combinations," and eliminates the interests method of accounting for business combinations, thus requiring that all business combinations be accounted for using the purchase method. In addition, in applying the purchase method, Statement No. 141 provides for recognizing intangible assets apart from goodwill and states the following criteria should be used in determining the recognition of the intangible assets: (1) the intangible asset arises from contracts, legal rights, or (2) the intangible asset is separable or dividable from the acquired entity and can be sold, transferred, licensed, rented or exchanged. The requirements of the statement are effective for business combinations completed after June 30, 2001.

According to Statement No. 142, goodwill and those intangible assets that have indefinite lives should be tested but are tested for impairment. Statement No. 142 is effective for years beginning after December 15, 2001. Management is of the opinion that there will be no impact of the adoption of the statement on the consolidated financial statements.

NOTE G - REGULATORY MATTERS

The Company and its subsidiary banks are subject to regulatory capital requirements administered by various regulatory agencies. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory and non-discretionary actions by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on the Company's financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, the Company and its subsidiary banks must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of assets, liabilities, and certain off-balance-sheet items as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. Quantitative measures and classifications are also subject to qualitative judgment by regulators about components, risks, and other related factors.

To ensure capital adequacy, quantitative measures have been established by regulators and the Company and its subsidiary banks to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (set forth in the table below). Management believes, as of December 31, 2001, that the Company and its subsidiary banks exceed the minimum capital adequacy requirements.

At December 31, 2001, the subsidiary banks were categorized by regulators as well-capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. A financial institution is considered to be well-capitalized if it has a risk-based capital ratio of 10% or more, has a Tier I risk-based capital ratio of 6% or more, and a liquidity capital ratio of 5% or more. There are no conditions or anticipated events that, in the opinion of management, could change the categorization.

NOTE L - RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In the normal course of business, the subsidiary banks make loans to their directors and officers in which they have a significant ownership interest. These loans are made on substantially the same terms, interest rates and collateral, as those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions with other borrowers. Loans amounted to approximately $6,148,000 and $5,002,000 at December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively. In the opinion of management, such loans are consistent with sound banking policies and are within the normal and lending limitations.

NOTE M - COMMITMENTS, CONTINGENCIES, AND CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK

In the normal course of business, there are outstanding various commitments and contingent liabilities, including letters of credit, guaranties, commitments to extend credit, etc., which are not reflected in the accompanying financial statements. The subsidiary banks had outstanding letters of credit of $261,000 and $458,000 at December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively, and had made loan commitments of approximately $9,750,000 and $10,310,000 at December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The subsidiary banks' exposure to credit loss in the event of nonpayment by the financial instrument for commitments to extend credit and letters of credit is not limited to the contractual amount of the instrument. The subsidiary banks use the same credit policies in making loans and conditional obligations as it does for its lending activities. No significant losses are expected to result from these transactions.

The primary market area served by the subsidiary banks are Forrest, Lamar, and Jones Counties in Mississippi. Management closely monitors its credit concentrations and attempts to diversify its primary market area. As of December 31, 2001, management does not consider there to be a significant concentration within the loan portfolio. Although the banks' loan portfolio, as well as existing commitments, are concentrated in the primary market area, a substantial portion of a borrower's ability to repay is dependent on the economic stability of the area.

Loans held for sale

The fair value of loans held for sale approximates the carrying value since the loans are generally held for less than forty-five days.

Loans

It is the opinion of management that in the current interest environment, the net carrying value of loans held for sale of $90,118,107 at December 31, 2001 and $80,655,946 at December 31, 2000, approximates fair value.

Deposits

Fair values of demand deposits and savings accounts are defined by FASB Statement No. 107 as the amounts payable. The fair value of variable rate deposits approximates their carrying value. Because of the current interest environment, management is of the opinion that the carrying value of fixed rate time deposits also approximates their fair value. Thus, the carrying value of deposits of $113,237,626 at December 31, 2001, and $96,845,288 at December 31, 2000, does not differ significantly from the fair value. No value has been considered from expected retention of deposits for a future time period. This value, often referred to as a core deposit intangible, is neither included in any fair value amounts nor recorded as an asset in the consolidated balance sheets.

Borrowed Funds

Borrowed funds consist of obligations with terms comparable to those currently available. Thus, the carrying value of these obligations approximates market value.

Off-Balance Sheet Instruments

Fair values of off-balance sheet financial instruments are based on fees charged to enter into similar agreements. However, commitments to extend credit do not represent a significant value until such commitments are funded or closed. Management has determined that these instruments do not have a distinguishable fair value, and no fair value has been assigned.
