Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On November 7, 2008, Prudential Bancorp, Inc. of Pennsylvania (the “Company”), its subsidiary, Prudential Savings Bank (the “Bank”), and the Company’s parent mutual holding company, Prudential Mutual Holding Company (the “MHC”) (the Company, the Bank and the MHC are referred to collectively as “Prudential”) entered into a Settlement Agreement (the “Agreement”) with Stilwell Value Partners I, L.P. (“Stilwell”), Stilwell Partners, L.P., Stilwell Value LLC, Joseph Stilwell and John Stilwell (collectively, the “Stilwell Group”) terminating a lawsuit brought by Stilwell against Prudential and providing mutual releases by the parties with respect to all claims.

Under the terms of the Agreement, the Stilwell Group has, among other things, agreed to support and vote in favor of the Company’s adoption of a stock option plan and a management recognition and retention plan (collectively, the “Stock Benefit Plans”).

The Prudential boards of directors have determined that Prudential will, subject to the exercise of fiduciary duties and its evaluation of market conditions (which currently are not favorable but which are expected to improve over the next several years), undertake a reorganization from the current mutual holding company form to the stock holding company form of organization (a “Second-Step Conversion”) no later than the Company’s Annual Meeting of Shareholders for 2013. A Second Step Conversion is an integral part of Prudential’s long-term strategic plan.

Prudential also has agreed to repurchase – subject to market conditions, Prudential’s capital needs and the fiduciary duties of Prudential’s boards of directors – at least 1,357,116 additional shares of the Company’s common stock by September 30, 2011 (the “Repurchase Program”). In the event Prudential does not complete the Repurchase Program by September 30, 2011, it will either adopt a plan of conversion to effect a Second-Step Conversion or appoint a representative to Prudential’s boards of directors who is nominated by Stilwell. Such nominee must be reasonably acceptable to Prudential as well as be a resident of Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery, or Philadelphia Counties, Pennsylvania or Camden County, New Jersey and have significant financial expertise and/or banking experience. In connection with the Repurchase Program, in the event that the market price for the Company’s common stock reaches certain levels, Prudential has the option to purchase as much as 520,000 shares from the Stilwell Group. The Company has also agreed to repurchase additional shares as necessary to fund the Stock Benefits Plans. The Stilwell Group has announced that it may sell, from time to time, in open market transactions, shares of Company common stock.

The Settlement Agreement also provides that the Stilwell Group will not, among other things, propose or seek to effect a merger or sale of the Company, initiate litigation against Prudential, solicit proxies in opposition to any recommendations or proposals of the Company’s board of directors or seek to exercise any control or influence over Prudential’s management. The parties have agreed not to make any public statement that reflects negatively on the other.
