China Unicom Limited

2003 Interim Press Announcement

Remarks:

(1) Profit from operations

Profit from operations is arrived at by adding back the finance costs to the profit before taxation and is shown below:

| | For the six months ended 30 June 2003 RMB 000 | For the six months ended 30 June 2002 RMB 000 |
|-------------------------------|--|--|
| Profit before taxation | 3,353,695 | 2,982,978 |
| Finance costs | 1,019,344 | 761,267 |
| Profit from operations | 4,373,039 | 3,744,245 |

(2) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share for the six months ended 30 June 2003 and 2002 were computed by dividing the profit attributable to shareholders of approximately RMB2,385,273,000 and RMB2,136,755,000 (restated) respectively, by the weighted average number of 12,552,996,070 ordinary shares in issue during the periods.

Diluted earnings per share for the six months ended 30 June 2003 and 2002 were computed by dividing the profit attributable to shareholders by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the period, after adjusting for the effects of the dilutive potential ordinary shares. All potential dilutive shares arose from share options granted under (i) the amended Pre-Global Offering Share Option Scheme; and (ii) the amended Share Option Scheme. There was no dilution of earnings per share for both periods after taking into account the dilutive effect of the share options.

(3) Adoption of new accounting policy

The accounting policies and methods of computation used in the preparation of the interim financial accounts are consistent with those used in the annual reports for the year ended 31 December 2002 except the Group has changed its accounting policy following the adoption of Hong Kong Statement of Standard Accounting Practice (SSAP) 12 Income Taxes issued by the Hong Kong Society of Accountants which is effective for accounting period commencing from 1 January 2003. The adoption of the new SSAP 12 in 2003 represents a change in accounting policy which has been applied retrospectively so that the comparatives presented have been restated to conform to the changed policy. As a result, the profit and earnings per share for the six months ended 30 June 2002 have been reduced by approximately RMB114,775,000 and RMB0.009 respectively.

II. Business Development

During the first six months of 2003, faced with intensifying market competition and the challenges posed by the SARS outbreak, the Company continued to achieve satisfactory development in its businesses, through the establishment of a high quality networks, and the strengthening of sales and marketing and customer service in accordance with the Company's development strategies.

1. Continuation of the coordinated development of the GSM and CDMA businesses, preliminary success with the transformation of the sales model for the CDMA business and the accelerated introduction of new businesses helped maintain the rapid development of the cellular business.

During the first six months of 2003, subscriber growth for both networks remained steady. The Group recorded a net addition of 9.931 million GSM and CDMA cellular subscribers. As of June 30, 2003, the Group had a total of 69.641 million GSM and CDMA cellular subscribers. The Group's market share in its service areas increased from 33.1% at the end of 2002 to 34.2% and its share of the new subscriber additions market was 41.5%.

As of June 30, 2003, on a pro forma combined basis, the total number of GSM cellular subscribers was 59.663 million, representing an increase of 6.198 million from 53.465 million at the end of 2002, of which post-paid subscribers accounted for 31.654 million; pre-paid subscribers accounted for 28.009 million and the proportion of pre-paid subscribers to the total number of subscribers rose from 44.4% at the end of 2002 to 46.9%. Following the increase in the number of subscribers, total usage volume for GSM cellular subscribers reached 57.45 billion minutes, representing a 40.1% increase from the same period last year. For the first six months of 2003, the average minutes of usage per user per month (MOU) for GSM services was 168.7 minutes, up 3.2 minutes from 165.5 minutes in 2002, of which, the MOU for post-paid subscribers was 221.6 minutes, whilst the MOU for pre-paid subscribers was 106.1 minutes. Average revenue per user per month (ARPU) was RMB 58.9, representing a decline of RMB 8.4 from RMB 67.3 in 2002. ARPU for post-paid subscribers was RMB 68.4, whilst ARPU for pre-paid subscribers was RMB 47.6.

As of June 30, 2003, on a pro forma combined basis, the number of CDMA cellular subscribers was 9.978 million, representing an increase of 3.733 million subscribers from 6.245 million subscribers at the end of 2002. Total usage volume for CDMA subscribers reached 16.94 billion minutes, representing an increase of 17 times over the same period last year. For the first six months of 2003, the MOU for CDMA services was 349.5 minutes, up 21.4 minutes from 328.1 minutes in 2002. ARPU was RMB 148.7, representing a decline of RMB 23.5 from RMB 172.2 in 2002.

Uniformly branded as U-Max, the Company introduced various wireless data services on its CDMA 1X technology, namely U-Info, U-Mail, U-Net, U-Magic and U-Map. The Company also offered SMS service for subscribers under the brand name UNI-INFO. Short voice message service was also launched. For the first six months of 2003, the usage volume of SMS from GSM and CDMA cellular subscribers reached 11.70 billion messages. Incoming SMS received by GSM and CDMA subscribers from other operators reached 2.68 billion messages. As of June 30, 2003, over 600,000 subscribers were using CDMA 1X data services.

2. International and domestic long distance, data and Internet businesses developed rapidly

In the first six months of 2003, total minutes of outgoing international and domestic long distance calls reached 8.68 billion minutes, up 52.0% from the same period last year. Market share increased from 11.6% at the end of 2002 to 13.2%. The total minutes of PSTN outgoing long distance calls accounted for 3.39 billion minutes, representing an increase of 16.5% from the same period of last year. Market share increased from 11.5% to 12.3%. The total minutes of IP outgoing long distance calls reached 5.28 billion minutes, representing an increase of 88.6% from the same period last year. Market share increased from 11.7% to 13.9%. The total minutes of incoming calls from international destinations, together with Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan was 860 million minutes, representing an increase of 36.5% from the same period last year.

As of June 30, 2003, the total bandwidth leased for our leased line business was 15,602 x 2Mbps. The total bandwidth leased for asynchronous transfer mode (ATM) and frame relay (FR) data carrier operations amounted to 4,797 x 2Mbps. The Company was the first in the PRC to provide UNI-VIDEO video conference service, as well as video phone service by applying IP technology and the subscriber number for these services was 2,227. As of June 30, 2003, Internet subscribers increased from 7.292 million in 2002 to 9.754 million, representing an increase of 33.8%. Of this total, the number of dedicated line subscribers amounted to 37,000, whilst the number of dial-up subscribers was 9.717 million. In addition, Internet data center (IDC), virtual private network (VPN), virtual private dial-up network (VPDN), Ruyi mailbox and other e-commerce businesses also developed rapidly.

3. Actively pursued the transformation of the paging business

On the basis of its traditional wireless paging business, the Company introduced the Unicom Paging Information Service to offer a variety of information services to its subscribers. With the launch of services such as Cellular-paging Bundled Service and Unicom Assistant, the Company integrated its wireless paging information and mobile SMS businesses. Apart from voice services, the Company fully utilized its paging resources, and provided value-added services such as Operator-assisted SMS and Secretarial Service through Operator to our existing cellular subscribers to provide differentiated services. As of June 30, 2003, the number of wireless paging subscribers was 13.025 million, representing a decrease of 4.657 million subscribers or 26.3% from 17.682 million subscribers at the end of 2002. However, the subscribers for Unicom Assistant increased significantly to 15.18 million. ARPU for wireless paging subscribers was RMB 7.9.

4. Further strengthened network construction and steadily increasing the quality of communications

The nationwide optical fiber transmission network provided a guarantee in terms of network resources for the rapid development of the Company's businesses. The Company has placed emphasis on the expansion of its integrated business, and has established a unified network platform for its voice, data, Internet and video broadcasting businesses in the PRC. As of June 30, 2003, the optical fiber transmission network has expanded to 522,000 km in length, of which the total length of the nationwide optical fiber backbone transmission network reached 113,000 km. Following completion of the Phase Two Construction Project for the CDMA business, the network has been upgraded to CDMA 1X, further enhancing communication quality. The Company has devoted significant effort to building a high-quality cellular network and establishing scientific network quality maintenance standards in order to improve the operation and maintenance technologies and quality of its cellular networks.

5. Enhanced sales and marketing activities to facilitate the rapid growth of various businesses

The Company also placed emphasis on the research of customers' needs. Through the creation of renowned brands, such as Unicom New Horizon, U-Max, Ruyi Tong, Ruyi 133, UNI-INFO and UNI-VIDEO, the Company fully capitalized on the advantages of being an integrated telecommunication services operator. By applying the differentiated advantages on its businesses, technologies and services, we offer bundled services of GSM and CDMA cellular service, international and domestic long distance service, data, Internet and paging services, bundled services of basic and value-added services, as well as bundled services of voice and data services, and offer flexible packages to win customers. The industry value chain, comprising handset manufacturers, distributors and content providers, will be further strengthened. The model for the CDMA business was transformed from handset subsidies to acquisition of handsets at the cost of the subscriber. Sales channels were switched from the proprietary ones to those formed by external parties. A nationwide sales network was established and constituted by the established sales offices of the Company, cooperative joint ventures, and licensed retail outlets. There are now 57,302 sales outlets throughout our network. The Company has further strengthened the establishment of the UNI-CRM customer relationship management system, and improved the service standards of the nationally centralized 1001 customer service hotline. Through the establishment of the Unicom Subscriber Club, customer satisfaction levels have also been raised.

III. Business Outlook

Edgar Filing: CHINA UNICOM LTD - Form 6-K

We believe that the demand in the telecommunications market will remain strong through the second half of the year. This in turn will introduce more opportunities for the continuous growth of the Group's businesses. By leveraging on the Group's high quality cellular network and service standards, we expect the Group's market share in terms of revenue from the PRC telecommunication market to further increase. We will continue to implement business development strategies and objectives of the Company, to further increase the economic efficiency of the Company.

With respect to cellular services, the Group will continue to sustain the coordinated development of both the GSM network and CDMA network. The network resources available for the GSM business will be fully capitalized. Steady growth of the business will be sustained by retaining existing subscribers and acquiring new subscribers through the strengthening of SMS services, development of new initiatives on GSM services and customer care activities. Our parent company is now implementing the phase three construction project for the CDMA network, which aims at expanding the CDMA network coverage as well as indoor coverage, increasing wireless data capacity and optimizing network quality. These measures are expected to significantly enhance the quality of our CDMA network. The Company will capitalize on the advantages of U-Max, to accelerate the development of mid to high-end customers, and will also actively promote its branding activities and the launch of Ruyi 133 pre-paid services to expand the market share of CDMA New Horizon.

With respect to long distance, data and Internet businesses, the Group will continue to capitalize on the technological advantages of its unified network platform and introduce new business initiatives to increase business revenue and market share. The data business will be adopted as part of our integrated businesses and marketing and promotion efforts will be devoted to broadband video conference and video phone services. Parallel with the rapid growth of Internet business, emphasis will be placed on the promotion of feature services, such as Ruyi mailbox, to actively promote e-commerce applications and develop the Unicom Internet Plaza broadband Internet model with other third parties.

With respect to our wireless paging business, the Group will continue to reduce the operating cost through the bundling of wireless paging businesses with other business of the Group, and will seek to transform the wireless paging business to call center business by offering value-added services such as Unicom Assistant, Unicom Paging Information Services, and telemarketing.

The Company plans to acquire the GSM cellular assets and cellular businesses of the ten unlisted provincial branches from the parent Company at the appropriate time, in order to become a national cellular service operator. The Company also plans to sell the wireless paging business to the parent Company at the appropriate time, in order to optimize the Company's assets portfolio. When the opportunity arises, the Company also plans to utilize lower cost of funding in the international capital market, to minimize finance costs of the Company.

I am confident that through the concerted endeavors of the management and all staff, we will achieve even better results.

The Board of Directors resolved that no interim dividend be declared for 2003, and has the intention to pay annual dividend for the year when 2003 annual results are announced.

Finally, on behalf of the Board of Directors, I would like to express my sincere gratitude for the care and support from shareholders and the public at large, in particular, Mr. Yang Xian Zu, for his outstanding contribution to the Company during his tenure as the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Company. I would also like to extend my gratitude to both the management team and all the staff of the Company for their hard work and diligence.

Wang Jianzhou
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Hong Kong, August 28, 2003

NOTES

1. Basis of presentation and accounting policies

The Company was incorporated in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (Hong Kong), the People s Republic of China (the PRC) on 8 February 2000. The principal activities of the Company are investment holding and the Company s subsidiaries are engaged in the provision of GSM and CDMA cellular, data, Internet, long distance and paging services in the PRC.

These unaudited condensed consolidated interim accounts are prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Statement of Standard Accounting Practice (SSAP) 25, Interim Financial Reporting issued by the Hong Kong Society of Accountants (HKSA). The condensed consolidated interim accounts are unaudited but have been reviewed by the Audit Committee of the Company.

The unaudited condensed consolidated interim accounts include the financial information of the Company and its subsidiaries. These condensed consolidated interim accounts should be read in conjunction with the 2002 annual report. The details of the Company s subsidiaries are set out in Note 23 to the audited financial statements included in its 2002 annual report.

In 2002, the Company acquired the entire interests of Unicom New Century Telecommunications Corporation Limited (a limited liability company established in the PRC, hereinafter referred to as "Unicom New Century"), from its ultimate parent company, China United Telecommunications Corporation (a state-owned enterprise established in the PRC, hereinafter referred to as "Unicom Group"). The Company has adopted the purchase method of accounting for this acquisition, and the identifiable assets and liabilities acquired were recorded based on their respective fair values as of 31 December 2002. The excess of the purchase consideration over the fair value of the net assets acquired has been recorded as goodwill, which is amortised using the straight-line method over a period of 20 years. The effective date of this acquisition was 31 December 2002, accordingly, the operating results of Unicom New Century have been included in the consolidated income statement of the Group for the six months ended 30 June 2003. Details of the acquisition have already been set forth in shareholder's circular "Connected Transactions and Renewal of Waiver for Existing Connected Transactions" of the Company issued on 29 November 2002 and the Company's 2002 annual report.

The accounting policies and methods of computation used in the preparation of these condensed consolidated interim accounts are consistent with those used in the annual report for the year ended 31 December 2002 except the Group has changed its accounting policies following the adoption of SSAP 35 "Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance" and SSAP 12 "Income Taxes" issued by the HKSA, which are effective for accounting periods commencing on or after 1 July 2002 and 1 January 2003, respectively.

Upon the adoption of SSAP 12 "Income Taxes" in 2003, deferred taxation is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the accounts. Taxation rates enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date are used to determine deferred taxation. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

Prior to 2003, deferred taxation was accounted for at the current taxation rate in respect of timing differences between profit as computed for taxation purpose and profit as stated in the income statement. A deferred tax asset was not recognised unless the related benefits are expected to crystallise in the foreseeable future. The adoption of the new SSAP 12 in 2003 represents a change in accounting policy which has been applied retrospectively so that the comparatives presented have been restated to conform to the changed policy.

The change in the accounting policy has resulted in an increase of opening retained profits as of 1 January 2003 and 2002 by approximately RMB405,300,000 and RMB373,159,000, respectively, which represented the deferred tax assets relating to the provision for doubtful debts previously not recognised. This change has resulted in an increase in deferred tax assets at 1 January 2003 by approximately RMB405,300,000. The profit for the six months ended 30 June 2002 has also been reduced by approximately RMB114,775,000.

In addition, the adoption of SSAP 12 also resulted in an increase of the deferred tax assets of Unicom New Century as of 31 December 2002 by approximately RMB80,448,000, which had reduced the goodwill recorded by the Group arising from the acquisition of Unicom New Century on 31 December 2002 accordingly.

Since the impact of the adoption of the SSAP 35 "Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance" on the Group's financial statements is not significant, no prior period adjustment has been required.

2. Operating revenue

Operating revenue primarily comprises usage fees, monthly fees, interconnection revenue, leased line rental income and sales of telecommunication products earned by the Group from GSM, CDMA, data, Internet, long distance and paging services. Tariffs for these services are subject to regulations by various government authorities, including the State Development Planning Commission, the Ministry of Information Industry and the provincial regulatory authorities. Operating revenue is net of business tax and government surcharges.

3. Taxation

Provision for taxation represents:

| | Unaudited | |
|---|--------------------------|---------------------|
| | Six months ended 30 June | |
| | 2003 | As restated 2002 |
| | RMB 000 | RMB 000 |
| | | (Note 1) |
| Provision for PRC enterprise income tax on the estimated taxable profits for the period | 1,092,849 | 337,395 |
| Deferred taxation | (126,679) | 506,039 |
| | 966,170 | 843,434 |

There is no Hong Kong profits tax liability as the Group does not have any assessable income sourced from Hong Kong for the six months ended 30 June 2003 and 2002.

4. Distribution of profits attributable to shareholders

(a) At the annual general meeting held on 12 May 2003, the shareholders of the Company approved the payment of final dividend of RMB0.10 per ordinary share for the year ended 31 December 2002 totalling RMB1,255,299,607 (2002: Nil) which has been reflected as an appropriation of retained profits for the six months ended 30 June 2003. As of 30 June 2003, such dividends have been fully paid by the Company.

(b) As stated in Note 1, the change in accounting policy on income taxes has resulted in an increase of distributable reserves to shareholders of China Unicom Corporation Limited (CUCL) for the year ended 31 December 2002 and 2001 respectively. As result, CUCL appropriated additional statutory reserves amounting to approximately RMB40,530,000 in 2003 (2002: RMB37,316,000).

(c) During the six months ended 30 June 2003, the Group has not made any appropriation to reserves or declared any dividends to the shareholders (2002: Nil).

5. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share for the six months ended 30 June 2003 and 2002 were computed by dividing the profit attributable to shareholders of approximately RMB2,385,273,000 and RMB2,136,755,000 (restated) respectively, by the weighted average number of 12,552,996,070 ordinary shares in issue during the period.

Diluted earnings per share for the six months ended 30 June 2003 and 2002 were computed by dividing the profit attributable to shareholders by the weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue during the period, after adjusting for the effects of the potential dilutive ordinary shares. All potential dilutive shares arose from share options granted under (i) the amended Pre-Global Offering Share Option Scheme; and (ii) the amended Share Option Scheme. There was no dilution of earnings per share for both periods after taking into account the dilutive effect of the share options.

6. Contingent liability

As of 30 June 2003, Unicom Guomai Communications Corporation Limited provided guarantees for bank loans borrowed by Shanghai Telecommunications Company Limited (formally known as Shanghai Provincial Post and Telecommunications Administrations) amounted to approximately US$18.44 million (2002: US$23.48 million). All these bank loans were not yet due as of 30 June 2003.

7. Related party transactions

The following is a summary of significant recurring transactions carried out with Unicom Group and its subsidiaries. In the director's opinion, these transactions were carried out on normal commercial terms in the ordinary course of business.

| | Unaudited | |

| Rental for the PRC corporate office | | 5,066 |
| Sales of telecommunications equipment | 3,369 | |

Note:

Information presented above for the six months ended 30 June 2003 also comprised new related party transactions between Unicom New Century and Unicom Group and its subsidiaries after the acquisition of Unicom New Century by the Group on 31 December 2002. The nature, terms and conditions of these new related party transactions of Unicom New Century are substantially the same as the Group's, which have been set forth in the shareholders' circular "Connected Transactions and Renewal of Waiver for Existing Connected Transactions" of the Company issued on 29 November 2002 and the Company's 2002 annual report.

Prior to 31 December 2002, the Group's transactions with Unicom New Century (previously a subsidiary of Unicom Group) were treated as related party transactions, and had been included in the transactions described above for the six months ended 30 June 2002. Such transactions mainly included (i) interconnection and roaming revenues, (ii) interconnection and roaming charges, (iii) revenue for leasing of transmission line capacity and (iv) sales of CDMA mobile handsets. Upon the acquisition of Unicom New Century, these transactions become inter-group transactions and have been eliminated in the Group's consolidated financial statements starting from 1 January 2003.

8. Segment information

Operating segments represent components of an enterprise regarding which separate financial information is available for regular evaluation by the chief operating decision maker, or decision making group, when considering how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The Group's primary measure of segment results is based on segment profit or loss before taxation.
