1. Nokia Press Release dated April 11, 2006 and titled: Nokia Q1 2006 device average selling price (ASP) above earlier expectations

PRESS RELEASE

April 11, 2006

Nokia Q1 2006 device average selling price (ASP) above earlier expectations

Espoo, Finland - Nokia revisits its previously disclosed outlook for the Q1 device ASPs and preannounces that its device average selling price (ASP) in the first quarter of 2006 was EUR 103. This reflects the lower than expected proportion of the lower priced entry level products for Nokia during the quarter. Previously, Nokia estimated that its device ASPs in the first quarter would be flat to slightly down sequentially. Nokia device ASP in the fourth quarter of 2005 was EUR 99.

This preannouncement does not include any preliminary information on any other development during Q1 2006, nor any outlook or guidance on Nokia device ASPs or any other development after the Q1 2006. This announcement is made solely to comply with the Standards of the Finnish Financial Supervision as amended in August 2005.

Nokia will report the Q1 2006 results on April 20.

It should be noted that certain statements herein which are not historical facts, including, without limitation, those regarding: A) the timing of product and solution deliveries; B) our ability to develop, implement and commercialize new products, solutions and technologies; C) expectations regarding market growth, developments and structural changes; D) expectations regarding our mobile device volume growth, market share and prices, E) expectations and targets for our results of operations; F) the outcome of pending and threatened litigation; and G) statements preceded by believe, expect, anticipate, foresee, target, designed or similar expressions are forward-looking statements. Because these statements involve risks and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from the results that we currently expect. Factors that could cause these differences include, but are not limited to: 1) the extent of the growth of the mobile communications industry, as well as the growth and profitability of the new market segments within that industry which we target; 2) the availability of new products and services by network operators and other market participants; 3) our ability to identify key market trends and to respond timely and successfully to the needs of our customers; 4) the impact of changes in technology and our ability to develop or otherwise acquire complex technologies as required by the market, with full rights needed to use; 5) competitiveness of our product portfolio; 6) timely and successful commercialization of new advanced products and solutions; 7) price erosion and cost management; 8) the intensity of competition in the mobile communications industry and our ability to maintain or improve our market position and respond to changes in the competitive landscape; 9) our ability to manage efficiently our manufacturing and logistics, as well as to ensure the quality, safety, security and timely delivery of our products and solutions; 10) inventory management risks resulting from shifts in market demand; 11) our ability to source quality components without interruption and at acceptable prices; 12) our success in collaboration arrangements relating to development of technologies or new products and solutions; 13) the success, financial condition and performance of our collaboration partners, suppliers and customers; 14) any disruption to information technology systems and networks that our operations rely on; 15) our ability to protect the complex technologies that we or others develop or that we license from claims that we have infringed third parties' intellectual property rights, as well as our unrestricted use on commercially acceptable terms of certain technologies in our products and solution offerings; 16) general economic conditions globally and, in particular, economic or political turmoil in emerging market countries where we do business; 17) developments under large, multi-year contracts or in relation to major customers; 18) exchange rate fluctuations, including, in particular, fluctuations between the euro, which is our reporting currency, and the US dollar, the Chinese yuan, the UK pound sterling and the Japanese yen; 19) the management of our customer financing exposure; 20) our ability to recruit, retain and develop appropriately skilled employees; and 21) the impact of changes in government policies, laws or regulations; as well as 22) the risk factors specified on pages 12 - 22 of the company's annual report on Form 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2005 under Item 3.D Risk Factors.
