Re: Today's Announcement

Today the Robert Mondavi Corporation issued a press release announcing several important developments. These developments are consistent with our objective of strengthening the Company's competitive position and creating long-term value. They also reflect a pursuit of best practices in corporate governance.

Among the developments announced today are the following:

The Board of Directors has adopted and will recommend to shareholders a plan to recapitalize the Company by eliminating its current dual class stock structure. The Board also authorized the Company to repurchase stock following the unification of the Company's common stock. This plan will not impact operations. In addition, subject to shareholder approval, the Robert Mondavi Corporation will reincorporate in the state of Delaware, where many publicly traded companies are also incorporated. Our reincorporation won't result in a change to our operations, the location of our employees or the way we do business.

Perhaps most relevant to our relationship with you is our announcement that the Company will restructure its operations into two separate lines of business, both operating within the Robert Mondavi Corporation -- one which will focus on the Company's "lifestyle" brands, and the other on its "luxury" brands. We are positioning the Robert Mondavi Corporation for success by structuring it in a way that will allow us to better respond to the changing needs of our marketplace and better meet the demands of wine consumers. By allocating resources for lifestyle brands and luxury brands, we will be able to give greater focus to the different characteristics of these two brand segments and the organization will benefit from the resulting operational efficiencies we will be able to create from the new structure.

I will take responsibility for the lifestyle wine business in my new role as Chief Operating Officer. Until we transition into the new organizational structure, I will continue to lead the marketing and sales organization. A search is underway for a leader of the luxury wine business.

It is important to note that details on how this transition will take place, and ultimately how the reorganization will be structured, will be coming in the next several weeks. For the time being, it is business as usual for us, and there will be no change in the way we do business with our distributors or other business partners.

We look forward to providing you with more details and believe that this change will bring recharged focus to our business.

Thank you for your ongoing support and partnership.
