Item 2.02 Results of Operations and Fi	nancial Condition
On March 3, 2005, Friendly Ice Cream Corporelease announcing selected financial r quarter and year ended January 2, 2005, inc	esults of the Company for the fourth

(a) This filing describes certain adjustments which the Company has determined to make in the course of restating certain of its prior period financial statements to correct certain errors in the application of existing generally accepted accounting principles applicable to leases and leasehold depreciation. The Company is unaware of any evidence that the restatement is due to any material noncompliance by the Company, as a result of misconduct, with any financial reporting requirements under the securities laws. The restatement has no impact on the Company's previously reported cash flows, revenue or same-store sales, or on the Company's compliance with covenants under its current credit facilities or other debt instruments.

Historically, when accounting for lease renewal options, the Company recorded rent expense on a straight-line basis over the non-cancelable lease term. The depreciable lives of certain leasehold improvements and other long-lived assets on those properties were not aligned with the non-cancelable lease term.

The Company believed that its accounting treatment was permitted under generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and that such treatment was consistent with the practices of other public companies. Following a review of its lease accounting treatment and relevant accounting literature in consultation with Ernst & Young LLP ("E&Y"), its current independent registered public accounting firm, the Company determined that it should: i) conform the depreciable lives for buildings on leased land and other leasehold improvements to the shorter of the economic life of the asset or the lease term used for determining the capital versus operating lease classification and calculating straight-line rent and ii) include option periods in the depreciable lives assigned to leased buildings and leasehold improvements and in the calculation of straight-line rent expense only in instances in the which the exercise of the option period can be reasonably assured and failure to exercise such options would result in an economic penalty (the "Accounting Treatment").

On February 28, 2005, the Audit Committee of the Company's Board of Directors (the "Committee"), its senior management and E&Y met to discuss the results of the Company's review of its accounting practices, the analysis of its records and the authoritative accounting literature with respect to the treatment of lease accounting and leasehold depreciation and the other matters discussed in this Current Report on Form 8-K. At that meeting, it was determined that the Company's accounting practices for leases and leasehold improvements should be corrected in accordance with the Accounting Treatment. The Committee determined that the correction relating to fiscal years 1988 through 2003 should be presented through the restatement of previously issued financial statements for the Company's 2003 and 2002 fiscal years. As a result, the Committee concluded at that time that the previously issued financial statements covering these periods should no longer be relied upon.

The application of the Accounting Treatment resulted in the acceleration of depreciation for certain leasehold improvements and additional rent expense. The cumulative balance sheet effect of the restatement related to the Accounting

Treatment was an increase in accumulated depreciation of $7,438,000 and an increase in the deferred rent liability of $1,251,000 as of December 28, 2003 relating to fiscal years 1988 through 2003. Of these amounts, $848,000 and $627,000 ($500,000 and $370,000 net of taxes) was recorded as additional depreciation and amortization expense and $310,000 and $266,000 ($183,000 and $157,000 net of taxes) was recorded as additional rent expense for the years ended December 28, 2003 and December 29, 2002, respectively.

The impact of the restatement to previously reported interim periods of 2004 and 2003 was not material.
