Business Report for the 85th Fiscal Year

For the Period From: April 1, 2008 To: March 31, 2009

1. OUTLINE OF BUSINESS

(1) Review of Operations

Concerning the economic environment surrounding Honda (Honda, consolidated subsidiaries and affiliates accounted for under the equity method) during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009, crude oil and raw material prices significantly increased worldwide in the first half, followed by declines in the second half. Although the economies in the United States and Europe continued to grow in the first half, they deteriorated triggered by the financial crisis, to the extent that a further downturn due to the negative economic cycle associated with deterioration of the real economy is feared. On the other hand, in Asia, although the economies of China and India continued to expand, the pace of growth slowed, and certain countries in the region went into recession. In Japan, signs of a rapid deterioration in economic conditions could be seen, such as decreased consumer spending, with a decline in capital expenditures.

Among Honda s principal markets, the motorcycle market contracted substantially in the second half of the fiscal year compared with the previous fiscal year. In the United States, demand fell sharply. In Brazil, India and Thailand, although markets there remained favorable in the first half, demand declined in the second half and, for the fiscal year as a whole, was at about the same level as in the previous fiscal year. On the other hand, in Indonesia, the market expanded, propelled by strong demand in the first half. In the automobile market, demand dropped substantially in the second half compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. Demand fell markedly in North America, Western Europe and Japan. In emerging markets, although there were temporary declines in demand in Brazil, China and India, markets expanded compared with the previous fiscal year.

Amid this operating environment, Honda worked to strengthen its corporate structure to respond quickly and accurately to changes in the diverse needs of its customers and society as a whole. However, to focus limited corporate resources on necessary areas to cope with the sudden changes in the economic environment, future investments and development projects were reassessed. In R&D, Honda took proactive initiatives to develop advanced technologies to enhance safety and environmental technologies as well as the attractiveness of its products. On the production side, Honda undertook further measures to strengthen its manufacturing systems and made global alignment in production based on market demand in each region. Regarding sales, Honda worked aggressively to enhance its product lineup by launching products that offer new value as well as providing products across borders around the world.

Honda s consolidated revenue for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 amounted to ¥10,011.2 billion, a decrease of 16.6% from the previous fiscal year, primarily due to currency translation effects and decreased revenue in automobile business. Consolidated operating income for the period totaled ¥189.6 billion, a decrease of 80.1% compared to the previous fiscal year. This decrease in operating income was primarily due to decreased revenue, increased raw material costs, the increase in fixed costs per unit as a result of reduced production, the negative impact of currency effects caused by the appreciation of the Japanese yen and expenses related to withdrawal from some racing activities and cancellations of development of new models, which more than offset continuing cost reduction efforts and decreased R&D expenses. Consolidated income before income taxes, minority interest and equity in income of affiliates for the period totaled ¥161.7 billion, a decrease of 81.9% from the previous fiscal year, and consolidated net income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 totaled ¥137.0 billion, a decrease of 77.2% from the previous fiscal year.

Motorcycles

In North America, Honda newly launched the multi-utility vehicle Big Red that is suited for both transport-related work and leisure. Sales Volume and Profitability

With respect to Honda s motorcycle sales for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009, unit sales of motorcycles totaled 10,114 thousand units, an increase of 8.5% from the previous fiscal year. Unit sales in Japan totaled 232 thousand units, a decrease of 25.4%. Unit sales outside of Japan totaled 9,882 thousand units, an increase of 9.7%*, due mainly to the increased unit sales of motorcycle knocked-down parts for local production at Honda s affiliates accounted for under the equity method in Asia and increased unit sales in other regions, including Brazil. Revenue from sales to external customers decreased 9.4%, to ¥1,411.5 billion from the previous fiscal year, due mainly to the negative currency translation effects despite increased unit sales outside of Japan. Operating income decreased by 34.0%, to ¥99.9 billion from the previous fiscal year, primarily due to increased raw material costs, negative currency effects and increased SG&A expenses, despite decreased R&D expenses.

* Of the net sales of Honda-brand motorcycle products that are manufactured and sold by overseas affiliates accounted for under the equity method, those for which parts for manufacturing were not supplied from Honda or its subsidiaries are not included in net sales, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, these unit sales are not included in financial results.

In Japan, unit sales totaled 556 thousand units, a decrease of 9.6% from the previous fiscal year. Unit sales outside of Japan decreased 10.5%, to 2,961 thousand units, due mainly to decreased unit sales in North America, which more than offset the increased unit sales in Asia and other regions, including Brazil. Revenue from sales to external customers decreased 19.1%, to ¥7,674.4 billion from the previous fiscal year, due to the negative impact of the currency translation effects and decreased unit sales. Operating income decreased 96.3%, to ¥24.5 billion from the previous fiscal year, due mainly to decreased revenue, negative currency effects, the increase in fixed costs per unit as a result of reduced production, increased raw material costs and expenses related to withdrawal from some racing activities and cancellations of development of new models, which more than offset continuing cost reduction efforts and decreased R&D activities.

Financial Services

Revenue from sales to external customers in financial services business for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 increased 9.1%, to ¥582.2 billion from the previous fiscal year, due mainly to the increased operating lease revenues, despite negative currency translation effects. Operating income decreased 31.5%, to ¥80.6 billion from the previous fiscal year, primarily due to the increased allowance for credit risks and losses on lease residual values.

Power Products and Others

New Product Launches

In power product operations in Japan, Honda newly launched the Yukios SB800, which is compact and lightweight that clears snow with a blade, features easy handling and enables the quick removal of snow without blowing it from one place to another. Unit sales outside of Japan decreased 15.2%, to 4,671 thousand units, due mainly to the declined sales in North America and Europe. Revenue from sales to external customers in power product and other businesses decreased by 18.5%, to \(\frac{x}{3}\)43.0 billion from the previous fiscal year, due mainly to decreased unit sales in power product business and the negative currency translation effects. The operating loss was \(\frac{x}{1}\)5.4 billion, a decrease of \(\frac{x}{3}\)7.8 billion from the previous fiscal year, primarily due to decreased revenue and increased R&D expenses of other businesses, more than offsetting decreased SG&A expenses.

(4) Preparing for the Future

Due to the current economic situation, there are concerns that the economies of Japan, the U.S. and Europe will experience a downturn. In addition, the pace of economic growth of Asian countries outside of Japan is expected to slow down. Moreover, given the many uncertainties in the global business environment in which Honda operates, including political and economic instability, fluctuations in oil and raw material prices, and volatility in the currency and financial markets, Honda expects that this will continue to be an extremely challenging environment in which to do business.

With these circumstances in mind, Honda seeks to further strengthen its corporate structure by making it more flexible and dynamic and therefore better able to meet the needs of its customers and society as a whole as well as respond to changes in the business environment. Also, in order to improve the competitiveness of its products, Honda will endeavor to enhance its R&D, production and sales capabilities. Furthermore, Honda will continue to enhance its reputation in the community through Companywide activities. - 4. The Company prepares its consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, since the Company has listed its American Depositary Shares on the New York Stock Exchange and files reports with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
- 5. The average exchange rates for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 were ¥100.54=U.S.$1 and ¥143.48= euro 1 as compared with ¥114.28=U.S.$1 and ¥161.53= euro 1 for the same period last year.
- 6. Honda s common stock-to-ADS exchange ratio is one share of common stock to one ADS.

- 7. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost, determined principally by the first-in, first-out method, or market.
- 8. Honda classifies its debt and equity securities in the following categories: available-for-sale, trading or held-to-maturity. Debt securities that are classified as held-to-maturity securities are reported at amortized cost. Debt and equity securities classified as trading securities are reported at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses included in earnings. Other marketable debt and equity securities are classified as available-for-sale securities and are reported at fair value, with unrealized gains or losses, net of deferred taxes included in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) in the stockholders equity section of the consolidated balance sheets.
- 9. Goodwill, all of which is allocated to Honda s reporting units, is not amortized but instead is tested for impairment at least annually.
- 10. Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is calculated principally by the declining-balance method based on estimated useful lives and salvage values of the respective assets.
- 11. Honda applies hedge accounting for certain foreign currency forward contracts related to forecasted foreign currency transactions between the Company and its subsidiaries.
- 12. The allowance for credit losses is maintained at an amount management deems adequate to cover estimated losses on finance receivables. The allowance is based on management s evaluation of many factors, including current economic trends, industry experience, inherent risks in the portfolio and the borrower s ability to pay.
- 13. Finance subsidiaries of the Company purchase insurance to cover a substantial amount of the estimated residual value of vehicles leased to customers. The allowance for losses on lease residual values is maintained at an amount management deems adequate to cover estimated losses on the uninsured portion of the vehicles lease residual values. The allowance is also based on management s evaluation of many factors, including current economic conditions, industry experience and the finance subsidiaries historical experience with residual value losses.
- 14. Provisions for retirement benefits are provided based on the fair value of both projected benefit obligations and plan assets at the end of the fiscal year to cover for employees—retirement benefits. The Company recognizes its overfunded or underfunded status for the defined benefit postretirement plan as an asset or liability in its consolidated balance sheets and recognizes changes in the funded status in accumulated comprehensive income (loss), net of taxes. Prior service cost (benefit) is amortized by using the straight-line method and the estimated average remaining service years of employees. Actuarial loss is amortized if unrecognized net gain or loss exceeds ten percent of the greater of the projected benefit obligation or the market-related value of plan assets by using the straight-line method and the estimated average remaining service years of employees.
- 15. Estimated warranty expenses are provided based on historical warranty claim experience with consideration given to the expected level of future warranty costs as well as current information on repair costs. Included in warranty expense accruals are costs for general warranties on vehicles Honda sells and product recalls.

Significant Accounting Policy Change

- The Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities including an amendment of SFAS No. 115 has been effective since April 1, 2008. This statement permits entities to choose to measure at fair value many financial instruments and certain other items that are not currently required to be measured at fair value.

 Subsequent changes in fair value for designated items will be required to be reported in earnings in the current period. Honda has not elected the fair value option during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009. Accordingly, the adoption of this statement has no impact on the Company s consolidated financial position or results of operations.
- 2. During fiscal 2009, a subsidiary of the Company changed its fiscal year-end from December 31 to March 31. As a result, the Company eliminated the previously existing 3-month difference between the reporting periods of the Company and the subsidiary in the consolidated financial statements. The elimination of the lag period represents a change in accounting principle and has been reported by retrospective application. The impact on the retained earnings balance as of April 1, 2007 is ¥6,214 million. The effect of the retrospective application is not material to the Company s consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended March 31, 2008, and therefore those consolidated financial statements have not been retrospectively adjusted.

Additional Information

In December 2008, the Board of Directors of the Company has approved an amendment to the Honda Pension Fund, of which the Company and a part of its domestic subsidiaries and affiliates accounted for under the equity method were members. This plan amendment, effective from April 1, 2009, mainly revises pension benefits for those employees who retire on or after April 1, 2009, to be calculated using annuity pension conversion rates which are linked to market interest rates and contain a ceiling and a floor. Subsequent to the approval of the plan amendment, the Company remeasured and decreased its projected benefit obligation. The resulting prior service benefit has been amortized over the average remaining service period since January 1, 2009.

In addition, the Company recalculated the fair value of assets of this pension fund as of December 31, 2008. As a result of the previously mentioned changes and this recalculation, obligations for pension payments on the consolidated balance sheets have been reduced.

- (b) Investments in subsidiaries and affiliates are stated at cost, which is determined by the moving-average method.
- (c) Marketable securities classified as other securities are stated at fair value based on market prices at fiscal year-end. Any changes in unrealized holding gains or losses, net of applicable income taxes, are included directly in stockholders equity, and cost of securities sold is determined by the moving-average method.

For molds and dies included in tools, furniture and fixtures, depreciation is performed using the declining-balance method, and the items are depreciated to memorandum value in the fiscal year in which the usable life of the items elapses.
- 5. Amortization of intangible fixed assets is computed by using the straight-line method.
- 6. Depreciation of assets under finance leases, other than those for which the ownership transfers to the lessee, is calculated using the straight-line method, taking the useful lifetimes of the assets as the term of the lease and depreciating the residual value to zero.
- 7. The allowance for doubtful accounts is provided for possible bad debt at an amount determined based on the historical experience of bad debt for normal receivables; in addition, an estimate of uncollectible amounts is made by reference to specific doubtful receivables from customers which are experiencing financial difficulties.
- 8. An accrued product warranty has been provided as a total of the following:

An estimate of warranty costs to be incurred during the remaining warranty periods based on historical warranty claim experiences and an estimate of the probabilities of future warranty cost

- 12. Accrued employees retirement benefits are provided for payments of retirement benefits at an estimated amount incurred during the fiscal year calculated based on the retirement benefit obligation and the fair value of the pension plan assets at year-end.

 The net retirement benefit obligation at transition is amortized by the straight-line method over 15 years.

Prior service costs are amortized by the straight-line method over the average remaining years of service of the employees. Actuarial gains or losses are amortized in the years following the year in which gains or losses are recognized by the straight-line method over the average remaining years of service of the employees.

- 13. Hedge accounting for some of the forward foreign currency exchange contracts is applied.
- 14. Transactions subject to consumption taxes are recorded at amounts exclusive of consumption taxes. A consumption tax refund receivable is included in Others of current assets.

Significant Accounting Policy Changes

- 1. Beginning with the fiscal year under review, the Company has applied Accounting Standards for Measurement of Inventories (Accounting Standards Board of Japan (ASBJ) Statement No. 9, issued by the ASBJ on July 5, 2006). This change in accounting policy had no effect on income for the fiscal year under review.
- 2. Beginning with the fiscal year under review, the Company has applied Accounting Standards for Lease Transactions (ASBJ Statement No. 13, originally issued by ASBJ on June 17, 1993, and the final revision issued on March 30, 2007) and Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standards for Lease Transactions (ASBJ Guidance No. 16, originally issued by the ASBJ on January 18, 1994, and the final revision issued on March 30, 2007). This change in accounting policy had no material effect on income for the fiscal year under review.

Changes in Methods of Presentation

(Unconsolidated Balance Sheets)

1. Accompanying the application of revisions in certain of the rules for the presentation and preparation of financial statements, as contained in a cabinet order (Cabinet Order No. 50, issued on August 7, 2008), beginning with the fiscal year under review, the accounting items finished goods, parts for sale, raw materials, and supplies, previously presented separately under current assets, are now presented as follows: finished goods and parts for sale are presented as a single item finished goods and parts for sale, and raw materials and supplies are presented as a single item raw materials and supplies.

Please note that at the end of the fiscal year, finished goods and parts for sale presented in the item finished goods and parts for sale were $57,912 million and $35,800 million, respectively. In addition, raw materials and supplies presented in the item raw materials and supplies were $20,015 million and $21,082 million, respectively.

2. Consumption taxes payable, which were presented as a separate item through the end of the previous fiscal year, have now been included in others because the amount of these taxes payable has diminished.

Please note that the amount of accrued consumption taxes contained in others at the end of the fiscal year under review amounted to ¥17,086 million.

Additional Information

- 1. In December 2008, the Board of Directors of the Company has approved an amendment to the Honda Pension Fund, of which the Company was a member. This plan amendment, effective from April 1, 2009, mainly revises pension benefits for those employees who retire on or after April 1, 2009, to be calculated using annuity pension conversion rates which are linked to market interest rates and contain a ceiling and a floor. Subsequent to the approval of the plan amendment, the Company remeasured and decreased its projected benefit obligation ¥75,659 million and liabilities for prior service were accrued in the same amount. The resulting prior service benefits are being amortized over the average remaining service period since January 2009.
- 2. At the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held in June 2008, a proposal to approve the abolishment of the Company s system for the payment of retirement benefits to Directors and make final payments of allowances for retirement benefits for Directors was approved. As a result, the full amount of the allowance for retirement benefits for Directors was reversed, and the unpaid portion of the final payments of such retirement benefits was included in the other payables item under current liabilities and the others item under non-current liabilities.

3. At the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held in June 2008, the decision was made to make final payments of Operating Officers retirement benefits. As a consequence, the full amount of the allowance for Operating Officers retirement benefits was reversed, and the unpaid portion of the final payments of such retirement benefits was included in the other payables item under current liabilities and the others item under non-current liabilities.
