Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains statements that are forward looking as defined by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements include, without limitation, any statement that may predict, forecast, indicate, or imply future results, performance, or achievements. Forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties including but not limited to economic, competitive, and technological factors outside the company's control that may cause its business, strategy, or actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements include, among others, the company's substantial level of indebtedness; its ability to enter into amendments with respect to its first and second lien credit facilities and to issue new unsecured debt; its continued ability to comply with its financial covenants and debt service obligations; changes in the supply of, demand for, or prices of its products; the activities of competitors; changes in significant operating expenses, including raw material and energy costs; its ability to weather the current economic downturn in the United States and elsewhere; changes in the regulatory environment, including requirements for enhanced environmental compliance; and other risks and uncertainties that are detailed in the company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The company does not intend, and undertakes no obligation, to update any forward-looking statements.
