Contract for Launch Services with SpaceX

On March 19, 2010, we entered into a Contract for Launch Services with Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX), which will become effective upon the closing of the credit facility which will be drawn down to fund Iridium NEXT, our next-generation satellite constellation. Pursuant to this agreement, SpaceX will provide us launch services in connection with our deployment of Iridium NEXT. The agreement contemplates multiple launches on SpaceX's Falcon 9 rocket, with up to nine satellites on each launch, and has a maximum value of approximately $492 million. The launches are scheduled to be performed over a two-year period. SpaceX will also provide satellite-to-launch vehicle integration and launch support services, as well as specified optional services.

We have made an advance payment to SpaceX, which will be credited against the amounts subsequently due under the agreement. This advance payment is fully refundable if we have not, within six months after execution of the agreement, closed a credit facility for the funding of all or a part of the costs of Iridium NEXT.
