Court Denies Certification of Class Action

In early 2009, a putative class action complaint was filed against Unitil Corporation (the Company) Massachusetts based utility, Fitchburg Gas and Electric Light Company ( Fitchburg ), in Massachusetts Worcester Superior Court (the Court ), (captioned Bellerman et al v. Fitchburg Gas and Electric Light Company). As previously reported, the complaint seeks an unspecified amount of damages, including the cost of temporary housing and alternative fuel sources, emotional and physical pain and suffering and property damages allegedly incurred by customers in connection with the loss of electric service during the ice storm in Fitchburg s service territory in December, 2008. Following several years of discovery, the plaintiffs in the complaint filed a motion with the Court to certify the case as a class action. On January 7, 2013, the Court issued its decision denying plaintiffs motion to certify the case as a class action. As a result of this decision, the lawsuit will now continue with only the twelve named plaintiffs seeking damages. Future proceedings may include an appeal of this decision or a trial on the claims of the twelve named plaintiffs. The Company continues to believe the suit is without merit and will defend itself vigorously.
