These documents may contain forward-looking statements about expected future events and financial results that involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are based on our current expectations and are subject to uncertainties and risks that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. Segment revenues increased 4% to ¥53,983 million compared to ¥51,995 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in gains on sales of securities, and an increase in services income resulting from our stable fee businesses to domestic small- and medium-sized enterprise customers and from revenue generated by Yayoi Co. Ltd, despite a decrease in finance revenues in line with a decrease in investment in direct financing leases and installment loans.

Segment expenses increased due to an increase in expenses in line with the aforementioned revenues expansion, notwithstanding a decrease in interest expenses.

The U.S. economy has continued to recover with improvements in employment and income environment; other regions have also experienced moderate recovery. Although interest rates remain low worldwide, reduction of quantitative easing policies are likely in advanced nations. The asset management industry is expected to increase assets under management due to the increase in pension assets and the high-income class population over the mid- and long-term. And, the aviation industry is expected to continue to expand its market size against the backdrop of increasing passenger demand mainly in emerging countries. In addition, there are political and geopolitical tensions in certain regions that need to be monitored carefully.
