National Union of Mineworkers to strike at Gold Fields despite existing agreement and dialogue process

Johannesburg, 30 March 2005: Gold Fields Limited (GFI: JSE and NYSE) regrets to announce that it has been informed by the National Union of Mineworkers (NUM) that its members intend proceeding with industrial action at all Gold Fields operations in South Africa, commencing at 18:00 this evening.

The industrial action purports to relate to a dispute over living out allowances. In terms of an existing agreement with the NUM the current living out allowance is set at R706 per month, and is increased annually in accordance with the percentage increase granted in respect of wages. The NUM is demanding a 70% increase in the living out allowance to R1,200 per month.

Gold Fields has received legal advice that the proposed industrial action will be unprotected as there is an existing agreement in place regulating the quantum of the living out allowance as well as the mechanism for increases associated with this allowance.

As a consequence Gold Fields will apply for an urgent interdict against the proposed industrial action on the grounds that it believes the action to be unprotected in terms of the Labour Relations Act, due to the existence of the current agreement.

The proposed industrial action will affect 28,974 NUM members of whom 6,871 receive living out allowances.
