Sasol announces reduction of its economic interest in the Escravos gas-to-liquids project
On 13 May Sasol reported that the capital cost of the Escravos gas-to-liquids project (EGTL) under construction in Nigeria is expected to increase to US$6 billion and that Sasol was reviewing all the factors that have an impact on the project economics.

On 3 September, Sasol and Chevron, partners in the project entered into a heads of agreement for Chevron to purchase an additional 27,5% in the EGTL project and Sasol to reduce its economic interest in the EGTL project from 37,5% to 10%. Definitive agreements will be finalised in due course and will be subject to the relevant regulatory approvals.

As a result of the reduction in our economic interest, an impairment of R362 million was recognised in 2008 in operating profit (a net effect after tax of R112 million) relating to interest previously capitalised on the capital expenditure.

Lean Strauss, Group General Manager for Sasol's International Energy Cluster said: "Sasol remains fully committed to the EGTL project, which continues to utilise our technology under license, by providing our full range of technical and skills support."

Forward-looking statement disclaimer

Sasol may, in this document, make statements that are not historical facts and relate to analyses and other information based on forecasts of future results and estimates of amounts not yet determinable. These are forward-looking statements as defined in the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

Words such as "believe", "anticipate", "expect", "intend", "seek", "will", "plan", "could", "may", "endeavor" and "project" and similar expressions are intended to identify such forward-looking statements, but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements.

By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and there are risks that predictions, forecasts, projections and other forward-looking statements will not be achieved. If one or more of these risks materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may be very different from those anticipated. The factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements are discussed more fully in our registration statement under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 on Form 20-F filed on 21 November 2007 and in other filings with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Forward-looking statements apply only as of the date on which they are made, and we do not undertake any obligation to update or revise any of them, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
