SABESP CODE OF ETHICS AND CONDUCT

1 - PRESENTATION

In line with its mission of “providing sanitation services and helping improve the quality of life and the environment” SABESP is fully committed to legality, ethics, transparency and social responsibility, acting as an agent of sustainable development, basing its economic performance on environmental responsibility in order to foster the welfare of its employees, its surrounding communities and the country as a whole.

The Company's economic, financial, social and environmental guidelines reinforce its growth and its commitment to the environment and society.

2 - INTRODUCTION

Ethics represents the ideal of human conduct and is an intrinsic part of the development of civilization, influencing the decision-making process of each human being, leading to decisions which are "good" and "correct" in themselves as well as for their lives and their relations with others and promoting the common good.

Personal and corporate ethics are inseparable. The adoption of ethical principles and conduct, including the fight against all forms of fraud and corruption, is an integral part of Sabesp's culture, reflecting its organizational identity.

The adoption of the principles and rules of conduct outlined in this Code is essential to ensure that the Company, its management and its employees act in an integrated and coherent manner in their relations with stakeholders: clients, shareholders, investors, suppliers, partners, third parties, government, the community and society as a whole.

3 – OBJECTIVES

To serve as the standard for the personal and professional conduct of all Sabesp's employees and managers, regardless of their role or position, in their internal and external relations with clients, shareholders, investors, suppliers, partners, third parties, government, the community and society as a whole.

To reinforce ethical, legal and transparent behavior, based on fair and relevant values adopted by all, thereby reducing the subjectivity of personal interpretations of moral and ethical principles.

To strengthen the image of Sabesp and its employees in the eyes of its stakeholders.

To serve as a reference in the fight against all forms of fraud, corruption and acts that harm public administration, especially those envisaged in national and international anti-corruption laws.

4 – CODE OF ETHICS AND CONDUCT

The Code of Ethics and Conduct, issued in 2003 and updated in 2014 lays down the guidelines governing sustainable, social, environmental, legal, transparent and ethical management applied to the fight against fraud and corruption.

The Code consists of a set of organizational values, ethical principles and rules that have been observed by Sabesp since its inception and have been consolidated into precepts that guide and underpin the company's relations with its various stakeholders: management, employees, clients, shareholders, investors, suppliers, partners, third parties, government, the community and society as a whole.

The Code forms the basis for consolidating and enhancing Sabesp's existing reputation as a socially responsible company and provides support and guidance on how ongoing actions can be improved and new initiatives implemented in regard to complying with the Company's mission and directives.

On first entering Sabesp, all employees and members of management receive a copy of the Code and its subsequent amendments and sign a term of commitment agreeing to abide by and comply with the precepts governing ethical conduct contained therein.

Suppliers, partners, third parties and other external stakeholders also agree to abide by the Code.

4.1. ETHICAL VALUES

Sabesp is fully committed to the following corporate ethical values:

Respect for society and clients

Offering high quality products and services with appropriate prices.
