the CART-activated receptor with either or both of Arena's and Taisho's in-house chemical compound library. Under the research collaboration, Taisho will make a one-time up-front research and development fee payment for Phase I of the collaboration. Additional terms and payment amounts were not disclosed. A copy of the press release is attached as Exhibit 99.1 hereto and incorporated herein by this reference.

Certain statements in this Form 8-K are forward-looking statements that involve a number of risks and uncertainties, and actual events or results may differ materially from Arena's and BRL Screening, Inc.'s expectations. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements which are preceded by, followed by, or that include the words "intends," "will," "plans," "expects," "anticipates," "estimates," "aim" and "believes" or similar statements are forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those stated or implied by our forward looking statements due to risks and uncertainties associated with Arena's and BRL's business include, but are not limited to, the following: identification of the receptor from the Taisho collaboration as a GPCR; the ability to complete Phase I of the collaboration with Taisho; the ability to complete Project Genesis, if at all, within a reasonable time period; future quarterly or annual financial results; the timing, success and cost of preclinical research, out-licensing endeavors and clinical studies, and receipt of additional milestone payments, if any, from collaborators. Additional risk factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in our forward looking statements are disclosed in Arena's SEC reports, including but not limited to Arena's Form S-1, most recent quarterly report on Form 10-Q, and most recent annual report on Form 10-K. These forward-looking statements represent Arena's judgment as of the date of this release. Arena and BRL disclaim, however, any intent or obligation to update these forward-looking statements.
