1. To elect four directors to hold office for three years;
2. To transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Stockholders of record as of March 25, 2002, are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. If you have your shares registered in the name of a brokerage firm or trustee and plan to attend the meeting, please obtain a letter, account statement, or other evidence of your beneficial ownership of shares to facilitate your admittance to the meeting.

By Order of the Board of Directors

Connie C. Holbrook
Senior Vice President,
General Counsel, and Secretary

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 8, 2002

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT.

Your proxy may be revoked by you at any time before it is voted.

QUESTAR CORPORATION
PROXY STATEMENT

Edgar Filing: QUESTAR CORP - Form DEF 14A

May 21, 2002

This Proxy Statement is being furnished to stockholders of Questar Corporation, a Utah corporation, in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board of Directors of the Company for use at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders to be held on Tuesday, May 21, 2002, at 10:00 a.m., local time, and any adjournment or postponement of such meeting. At the Annual Meeting, holders of common stock will elect four directors of the Company for three-year terms that expire in May of 2005. Information concerning the Annual Meeting and solicitation of proxies for it is presented in a question and answer format.

Q: What am I voting on?

A: You can cast your votes to elect four nominees to serve new three-year terms. The nominees include three incumbent directors--Patrick J. Early, James A. Harmon, and D.N.Rose--and L. Richard Flury who does not currently serve on the Board. (Mr. Dixie L. Leavitt has reached mandatory retirement age and has not been renominated for election since he is retiring in May.)

Q: Who can vote?

A: Stockholders who owned shares as of the close of business on March 25, 2002. Each holder is entitled to one vote for each share held on such date.

Q: How do I vote?

A: Sign and date each proxy card you receive and return it in the enclosed prepaid envelope. If you return your signed proxy card, but do not indicate how you want to vote, your shares will be voted for the named nominees. You have the right to revoke your proxy by notifying the Company's Corporate Secretary prior to the meeting, by returning a later dated proxy, or by voting in person at the Annual Meeting.

If you own shares through a broker or other nominee, you must return your proxy card to the broker. Your votes cannot be counted if you send the proxy directly to the Company.

Q: What does it mean if I get more than one proxy card?

A: It means that you hold shares registered in more than one account. Sign and return all proxies to make sure that all your votes are counted, but consider consolidating your accounts to minimize the administrative cost of sending materials to you.

Q: Who is soliciting my proxy?

A: Questar's Board of Directors.

Q: Who is paying for the solicitation?

A: The Company is paying for the solicitation of proxies and will reimburse banks, brokers, and other custodians for reasonable charges to forward proxy materials to beneficial holders.

Q: What constitutes a quorum?

A: On March 25, 2002, the Company had 81,641,571 shares of common stock. A majority of the shares, or 40,820,786 shares, constitutes a quorum. Once a quorum is present, the nominees will be elected upon receiving a plurality of the shares represented at the meeting. The Company's Bylaws provide that votes "withheld" from nominees will not be counted for purposes of determining whether a nominee receives a plurality of votes. Shares registered in the names of brokers for which proxies are voted for some but not all matters will be considered as voted only as to those matters actually voted. Abstentions, broker nonvotes, and instructions to withhold authority to vote for one or more of the nominees will result in such nominees receiving fewer votes. Such action, however, will not reduce the number of votes otherwise received by the nominee.

Q: Who can attend the Annual Meeting?

A: Any stockholder of record as of March 25, 2002, can attend. If you own shares through a nominee or trustee, please obtain a letter, account statement, or other evidence of your ownership of shares as of such date.

Q: How will my vote be handled on other matters?

A: Questar's Bylaws limit the matters presented at an Annual Meeting to those in the notice, those properly presented by the Board of Directors and those presented by stockholders so long as the stockholder gives the Corporate Secretary written notice of the matter at least 90 days but not more than 120 days before the meeting. We do not expect any other matter to come before the meeting. If any other matter is presented at the Annual Meeting, your signed proxy gives the named proxies authority to vote your shares. (See "Other Matters" on page 21 for a detailed discussion of the Company's Bylaw requirements.)

Q: When are stockholder proposals due for the next Annual Meeting?

A: To be considered for presentation at the Company's Annual Meeting scheduled for May of 2003 and included in the proxy statement, a stockholder proposal must be received at the Company's office no later than December 9, 2002.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Each of the nominees has consented to serve for the new term. However, in the event that any nominee is unwilling or unable to serve as a director, the proxies named in the enclosed proxy may vote, in their discretion, for any other person.

The Committee's report is located on page [19].

Edgar Filing: QUESTAR CORP - Form DEF 14A

Annual Retainer:	$15,600 (monthly installments of $1,300)
Board Meeting Fee:	$1,000
Committee Meeting Fee:	$800 ($1,000 for Chairmen)
Telephone Attendance:	All meeting fees are reduced by $200 if director participates by telephone call.

Directors also receive annual retainer fees of $4,800 (monthly installments of $400) and meeting fees of $600 for service as directors of the Company's primary subsidiaries.

Nonemployee directors can defer the receipt of their fees and have such deferred fees credited with interest as if invested in long-term certificates of deposit or be accounted for with "phantom shares" of the Company's common stock.

Nonemployee directors also receive annual grants of nonqualified stock options at the first regular meeting of the Board of Directors. On February 11, 2002, eligible directors, with the exception of Messrs. Early, Hawkins, Kadlec, and Michael, each received a stock option to purchase 6,400 shares. The four named directors each received a stock option to purchase 8,000 shares, reflecting added responsibilities as Chairmen of Board Committees. The options are priced at the closing price on February 11, 2002, which was $22.95.

Nonemployee directors can elect to receive their fees in shares of stock. The plan for providing payment of fees in stock and the stock option plan have both been approved by the Company's shareholders.

The Company has entered into individual indemnification agreements with all directors, including Messrs. Cash, Nordloh, Rattie, and Rose, indemnifying them as directors. The form of these agreements has been approved by the Company's stockholders.

DIRECTORS' RETIREMENT POLICY

In May of 1992, the Board of Directors adopted a retirement policy that permits an outside director to continue serving in such position until the annual meeting following his 72nd birthday if still actively engaged in business, financial, and community affairs.  (1) These stock options vest in four annual, equal installments, with the first installment exercisable as of August 1, 2001 (Mr. Rattie's special option) and August 13, 2001 (all other options). Participants can use cash or previously-owned shares as consideration for option shares. Options expire when a participant terminates his employment, unless termination is caused by an approved retirement, death, or disability. Options can be exercised within 12 months following a participant's death or disability. Options may be exercised after retirement for terms specified in the terms of the individual option agreements.

(2) When calculating the present value of options as of the dates granted (February 1, 2001 and February 13, 2001), the Company used the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The Company assumed a volatility of 30.7 percent, a risk-free interest rate of 5.02 percent, a dividend yield of 2.52 percent, and an average life of 7.0 years.

The following table lists information concerning the stock options that were exercised by the named executive officers during 2001 and the total options and their value held by each at year-end 2001.

 (1) The "value" is calculated by subtracting the fair market value of the shares purchased on the date of exercise minus the option price. This table does not reflect any taxes paid by the named executives as a result of exercising options or selling all or any portion of the shares obtained as a result of exercising options. The current value of the shares may be higher or lower than the aggregate value reported in the table.

RETIREMENT PLANS

The Company maintains a noncontributory retirement plan that is funded actuarially and does not involve specific contributions for any one individual.

Edgar Filing: QUESTAR CORP - Form DEF 14A

The following table lists the estimated annual benefits payable on a straight line annuity basis under the Company's Retirement Plan as of December 31, 2001, and, if necessary, the Company's Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan (SERP). The benefits shown are based on earnings and years of service for an employee reaching normal retirement age of 65 in 2001, do not include Social Security benefits, and reflect a 50 percent surviving spouse benefit. Benefits under the Retirement Plan are not reduced or offset by Social Security benefits, although participants who retire prior to age 62 do receive a temporary supplement until reaching age 62.

The Company's Retirement Plan has a "step rate/excess" benefit formula. The formula provides for a basic benefit that is calculated by multiplying the employee's final average earnings by a specified basic benefit factor and by subsequently multiplying such sum by the employee's years of service (to a maximum of 25). This basic benefit is increased for each year of service in excess of 25 and is reduced for retirement prior to age 62. Employees also receive a permanent supplemental benefit that is calculated by multiplying the difference between the employee's final average earnings and his "covered compensation" by a supplemental factor that varies by age. (The term "covered compensation" refers to the 35-year average Social Security wage base tied to year of an employee's birth.) Employees who retire prior to age 62 also receive a temporary supplement that is tied to years of service until they are eligible to receive Social Security benefits at age 62.

Federal tax laws impose limits on the amount of a participant's annual compensation that can be used when calculating benefits under qualified plans and on the amount of benefits that can be paid to a participant from such plans. The SERP, a nonqualified plan, was adopted in 1987 to compensate officers who are affected by these limits. It provides retirement benefits equal to the difference between the benefits payable under the qualified Retirement Plan and the benefits that would be payable absent such limits. The SERP also permits participants to make advance elections to receive lump-sum payments. With the exception of Mr. Rattie, all of the officers listed in the table have vested benefits under the SERP; all of the listed officers earn annual compensation in excess of the current (2002) cap of $200,000.

Information concerning each named executive officer's compensation, final average earnings, and years of service as of December 31, 2001 is shown below:

	2001 Retirement Benefit Compensation -----	Final Average Earnings -----	Years of Service -----
R. D. Cash	$894,783	$694,201	26.0
K. O. Rattie	377,797	377,797	1.0
G. L. Nordloh	524,800	429,805	17.4
D. N. Rose	432,126	394,300	32.6
S. E. Parks	270,819	232,207	27.4

Each officer's 2001 compensation for purpose of the Company's retirement plans is different than shown on the table because the former includes cash payments when made, not when earned; the value of restricted stock when distributed, not granted, and includes dividends paid on shares of restricted stock.

EXECUTIVE SEVERANCE COMPENSATION PLAN

The Company has an Executive Severance Compensation Plan that covers the Company's executive officers and all other officers of the Company and its affiliated companies. Under this plan, participants, following a change in control of the Company, are eligible to receive compensation equal to up to two years' salary, cash bonuses, and miscellaneous benefits upon a termination of their employment (as defined in the plan).

The dollar amounts payable to the Company's executive officers (based on current salaries paid by the Company and its affiliates) in the event of a change in control of the Company are as follows: $1,200,000 to Mr. Cash; $835,000 to Mr. Rattie; $691,000 to Mr. Nordloh; $660,000 to Mr. Rose; and $460,000 to Mr. Parks. The Company's executive officers would also receive cash bonuses, supplemental retirement benefits, and welfare plan benefits.

Under the plan, a "change in control" is defined to include any change in control required to be reported under Item 6(e) of Schedule A of Regulation 14A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. A change in control is also deemed to occur once any acquiring person becomes the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of securities representing 25 percent or more of the Company's outstanding shares of common stock.

CUMULATIVE TOTAL SHAREHOLDER RETURN

The following graph compares the cumulative total return of the Company's common stock with the cumulative total returns of a group of diversified natural gas companies published by Value Line, Inc., which is a peer group of six diversified natural gas companies selected by the Company, and the S&P Composite-500 Stock Index. The Company believes performance of the six peer company group to be a better benchmark of performance due to the higher concentration of commodity price exposure, relative size, and business mix of such companies. (The six peer companies are Energen Corporation; Equitable Resources, Inc.; Kinder Morgan, Inc.; National Fuel Gas Company; ONEOK, Inc.; and Southwestern Energy Company. MCN Energy Group, Inc. is no longer in the group since it merged with another entity.)

The graph assumes $100 is invested at the close of trading on December 31, 1996 in the Company's common stock, the equities of peer companies, and the S&P 500 Index. It also assumes all dividends are reinvested. For 2001, the Company had a return of -14.4 compared to a return of -3.6 percent for the Questar peer group, and a return of -11.9 percent for the S&P Index. For the five-year period, the Company had a compound annual return of 9.9 percent compared to returns of 15.3 percent for the Questar peer group and 10.7 percent for the S&P 500 Index.

COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Management Performance Committee (Committee) is a Committee of outside directors that is chaired by Patrick J. Early. Our other members include Teresa Beck, James A. Harmon, W. Whitley Hawkins, Robert E. Kadlec, and Gary G. Michael. We review and approve all elements of the total compensation program for officers of the Company and administer the Company's Long-term Stock Incentive Plan. We monitor the Company's executive compensation programs to verify that they are aligned with the Company's business strategies and financial goals. We believe that such programs motivate the Company's officers to acquire and retain appropriate levels of stock ownership and are competitive with programs offered by the Company's peers. We determined that the total compensation earned by the Company's officers in 2001 achieved these objectives and is fair and reasonable.

Each year, we review the performance of the Company on a consolidated basis and the performance of the Company's major lines of business and compare such performance to specified groups of peer companies.

We also assess the individual performance of officers, particularly the performance of R. D. Cash, Keith O. Rattie, and the other named executive officers listed in the Summary Compensation Table. We periodically direct outside consultants to perform an in-depth audit and analysis of the total compensation paid to the Company's officers.

The Company's total compensation program for officers includes base salaries, annual bonuses, and stock options. The total program is designed to attract, motivate, reward and retain the broad-based management talent required to achieve corporate objectives and increase shareholder value. Each of these components of the total program is discussed in greater detail below.

BASE SALARIES

We review base salaries for the Company's officers on an annual basis. Such salaries are generally pegged at or near the 50th percentile or market average of survey data. We have historically awarded salary increases to Mr. Cash and other officers based on an assessment of each officer's comparison with survey data, responsibilities, experience and performance. The salaries earned by the named executive officers during 2001 are listed in the table shown on page 11.

16

ANNUAL BONUSES

All Company officers, but particularly the five highest paid officers, have a significant portion of their total compensation at risk. Annual bonuses are directly linked to key financial and operating objectives for the major business units and for the Company on a consolidated basis. Each year, we review and approve annual specified performance objectives. Performance objectives are both financial (e.g., net income, return on equity) and efficiency objectives (e.g., customer service rating, safety performance, finding costs, operating and maintenance costs). The performance objectives are set after we review actual results for the prior year and budgeted results for the year in question and are generally higher than actual results for the prior year and expectations for the current year.

An overall performance factor is multiplied by each officer's target bonus to determine his earned bonus. Each officer's target bonus is a percentage of his base salary in effect at the time the target bonus is approved. We also determine the allocation of each officer's target bonus between business unit results and consolidated results. Beginning with the bonuses earned for 2001, two-thirds of each officer's earned bonus is paid in cash; the remainder is paid in shares of restricted stock that vest approximately a year after being granted.

STOCK OPTIONS

Annual grants of stock options are awarded to the Company's officers and key employees as part of their "risk-based" compensation. As a general rule, we use the prior year's grant as the basis for determining each subsequent year's grant, but we do change the size of grants when participants are promoted to new positions or when surveys indicate that stock options should be adjusted. These grants are awarded pursuant to the terms of an omnibus Long-term Stock Incentive Plan, which allows us broad flexibility to use a wide range of stock-based performance awards.

Stock options, from our perspective, focus attention on managing the Company from a long-term investor's perspective and encourage officers to have a significant, personal investment in the Company through stock ownership. Stock options awarded to officers and key employees become valuable only as the Company's performance is reflected in increased stock prices. Stock options constitute the Company's only long-term incentive compensation program. Officers are encouraged to retain their stock for long-term investment, rather than sell option shares after purchasing them.

We have established stock ownership guidelines for officers. (Phantom stock units attributable to an officer's deferred compensation are included.) All of the officers named in the Summary Compensation Table satisfy these guidelines, which constitute a multiple of their base salaries.

Information concerning the stock options granted to the Company's highest ranking executive officers in 2001 is included in the table labeled "Option/Grants in Last Fiscal Year." The table labeled "Option Exercises" provides information concerning the value realized by the individual members of the group when exercising stock options in 2001 and the year-end value of their remaining stock options.

SPECIFIC COMPENSATION DECISIONS

The Company's consolidated 2001 performance reflects the success of its nonregulated business segment that capitalized on higher commodity prices, favorable drilling results, and improved amortization rates, particularly during the first half of the year. The Company's regulated business segment performed better in 2001 than in 2000, reflecting the effects of a late-2000 early retirement program and improved throughput for pipeline operations. The bonuses payable to the Company's officers, including Messrs. Cash and Rattie, reflect the success achieved by the Company in 2001 during a volatile environment. Mr. Cash's bonus payment of $600,000 for 2001 includes a discretionary bonus in addition to his earned bonus.

After serving as Chief Executive Officer since March 1, 1982, Mr. Cash will resign from this position and retire as an employee effective May 1, 2002. He will continue to serve as Chairman of the Board. Consistent with his decision to retire, we did not increase his salary. In recognition of his 20 years of service as Chief Executive Officer and given the critical role we are asking him to play in the Company's transition to Mr. Rattie's leadership, we awarded Mr. Cash an option to purchase 200,000 shares and we set his 2002 target bonus at 75 percent of his base salary.

We also reviewed the achievements of Mr. Rattie during his first year of service and supported the decision made by the full Board of Directors to name him to serve as Chief Executive Officer when Mr. Cash retires. We increased his salary from $400,000 to $417,500 effective March 1, 2002 and will consider a further increase for him when he becomes Chief Executive Officer. We granted him an option to purchase 140,000 shares, and we increased his target bonus to 65 percent of his pre-March 1, 2002 base salary or $260,000.

We determined to change some of the benchmarks for 2002 performance goals to focus participants' attention on total shareholder return, earnings per share, and specific objectives.

MISCELLANEOUS

We support the Company's historic philosophy that officers are not fundamentally different than employees, but are paid more due to the nature of their responsibilities, their experience, and the greater demands on their time. Consequently, we support the Company's traditional practice of limiting the perquisites granted to officers. Company officers do not have first-class travel privileges, cars, country club memberships, supplemental welfare benefit plans, executive dining room service, or personal use of the Company's airplane.

Federal tax law precludes the Company from deducting compensation paid in excess of $1 million per year to any named executive officer. Performance-based compensation, however, is not subject to this deductibility limit. Awards under the Company's Long-term Stock Incentive Plan qualify for performance-based compensation. Consequently, the Company can continue to take a deduction for any ordinary income recognized by officers when exercising nonqualified stock options. The Company's cash bonus plans do not qualify as performance-based plans.
