Item 8.01 Other Events

On September 25, 2006, Century Aluminum Company (the "Company") reported that Century Aluminum of West Virginia, Inc. ("CAWV"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, has initiated the restart of the potline that was shut down on July 29, 2006 due to the receipt of a 72-Hour Notice of Termination of Extension Agreement and Intent to Strike the Employer from the United Steelworkers Local 5668-04. Anticipated restart costs will total approximately $4 million in the third quarter. The Company expects that the affected potline will be capable of producing at its rated capacity by the end of December 2006. A copy of the Company's press release regarding the restart of the potline is attached as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

Century Aluminum Company, the parent of CAWV, owns primary aluminum capacity in the United States and Iceland, as well as an ownership stake in alumina and bauxite assets in the United States and Jamaica. Century's corporate offices are located in Monterey, California.

Exhibit Number Description

99.1 Press Release, dated September 25, 2006

Exhibit 99.1

MONTEREY, CA -- (MARKET WIRE) -- September 25, 2006 -- Century Aluminum Company (NASDAQ: CENX) reported today that the company has initiated the restart of the potline at Century Aluminum of West Virginia's Ravenswood reduction facility that was shut down on July 29 as a result of a notice to strike by the United Steelworkers. A three-year labor agreement with the union was subsequently ratified on August 5.

Each of the company's four potlines at Ravenswood has a rated capacity of approximately 42,500 tonnes per year. The company expects that the affected potline will be capable of producing at its rated capacity by the end of December 2006.

The company continues to anticipate that direct restart costs will total approximately $4 million. Major restart cost items include pot relining, anode replacement and excess power consumed during the restart phase. The company estimates that lost production from the shutdown will total about 12,000 tonnes, with approximately 75% of the production loss occurring in the third quarter.

Century Aluminum Company, the parent of Century Aluminum of West Virginia, owns primary aluminum capacity in the United States and Iceland, as well as an ownership stake in alumina and bauxite assets in the United States and Jamaica. Century's corporate offices are located in Monterey, California.

This press release may contain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of U.S. federal securities laws.
