EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

As previously disclosed in the Home Products International, Inc. (the Company) Current Report on Form 8-K dated August 22, 2005, senior management of the Company determined that the Company's financial statements for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005, including the quarterly periods within that fiscal year, (the Financial Statements) should no longer be relied on because the accounting treatment regarding a deferred tax liability related to goodwill and certain other adjustments were inaccurately reflected in those Financial Statements. As a result, the Company determined it would be appropriate to restate the Financial Statements.

This Amendment No. 1 on Form 10-K/A which amends and restates the Company's Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005, initially filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) on April 1, 2005 (the Original Filing), is being filed to reflect the restatement of the consolidated financial statements and other financial information of the Company for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005, including the interim periods within fiscal year 2004. Beginning in 2004, the Company accounted for its deferred tax liability related to goodwill as a reversing taxable temporary difference. Following Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the Company has determined that the deferred tax liability related to the Company's goodwill should have been considered as a liability related to an asset with an indefinite life which could not support the realization of deferred tax assets. Therefore, the Company has recorded additional deferred tax expense of $2.9 million, to increase its deferred tax asset valuation allowance for fiscal year 2004. This non-cash adjustment had no impact on the Company's compliance with covenants related to either its $60 million revolving credit facility of which $25.0 million was outstanding as of January 1, 2005, its 9 5/8% Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008 of which $116 million was outstanding as of January 1, 2005, or its payment of incentives to management. In conjunction with this restatement the Company will also make adjustments to correct errors that were identified in connection with the second quarter fiscal year 2005 close process related to its accounting for an operating lease and its accounting for its Mexico subsidiary. These adjustments are also non-cash entries but will increase net loss by $0.5 million for fiscal year 2004. See Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements for further details.

For the convenience of the reader, this Form 10-K/A sets forth the Original Filing in its entirety. However, this Form 10-K/A only amends and restates certain information in Items 6, 7, 8 and 9A of Part II and Item 15 of Part IV of the Original Filing, in each case solely as a result of and to reflect the restatement, and no other information in the Original Filing is amended hereby. The foregoing items have not been updated to reflect other events occurring after the Original Filing or to modify or update those disclosures affected by subsequent events. In addition, pursuant to the rules of the SEC, Item 15 of Part IV of the Original Filing has been amended to include an updated consent of the Company's independent registered public accounting firm and certifications re-executed as of the date of this Form 10-K/A from the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer as required by Section 302 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. The certifications of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer are attached to this Form 10-K/A as exhibits 31.1 and 31.2.

Except for the foregoing amended information, this Form 10-K/A continues to describe conditions as of the date of the Original Filing, and the disclosures contained herein have not been updated to reflect events, results or developments that occurred after the Original Filing, or to modify or update those disclosures affected by subsequent events. Among other things, forward looking statements made in the Original Filing have not been revised to reflect events, results or developments that occurred or facts that became known to the Company after the date of the Original Filing (other than the restatement), and such forward looking statements should be read in their historical context.

PART I

Item 1. Business

(a) General Development of Business

Home Products International, Inc. (the Company or HPI) through its wholly owned subsidiary designs, manufactures and markets a broad range of quality consumer housewares products. The Company is a leading supplier to large national retailers of value-priced laundry management products, general storage products, closet storage products, bathware products and kitchen storage products. The Company holds a significant market share in the United States in each of its key product categories. The Company's products are sold in the United States through most of the large national retailers, including Wal-Mart, Target and Kmart. The Company generated $260.3 million in net sales for 2004, which makes HPI one of the largest companies in the fragmented U.S. consumer housewares industry.

The Company was originally founded as Selfix, Inc. (Selfix) in 1952. In February 1997, the Company became the holding company for, and successor registrant under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act) to, Selfix and Selfix became a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company through a holding company reorganization under the laws of the State of Delaware. Currently, the Company has one operating subsidiary, Home Products International North America, Inc. (HPNA). Effective December 26, 1999, all of the Company's operating subsidiaries were merged into HPNA.

Shareholder Transaction

On October 28, 2004, the Company and Storage Acquisition Company, L.L.C., a Delaware limited liability company (Acquirer), entered into an Acquisition Agreement (the Acquisition Agreement) under which the Acquirer was to make a tender offer for 100% of the Company's common stock for $2.25 per share in cash (the Acquisition). On December 13, 2004, the Acquirer and the Company jointly announced that the Acquirer had completed its tender offer for the outstanding shares of common stock (including the associated preferred stock purchase rights) of the Company for $2.25 per share, net to the seller, in cash without interest. As a result of the tender offer, the Acquirer obtained 93% of the outstanding common shares. Collectively, the process that led to the Acquisition Agreement and the completion of the tender offer is referred to herein as the Shareholder Transaction.

On December 15, 2004 the Company's common stock was delisted from The NASDAQ SmallCap Market. In addition, the Company's common stock was deregistered under the Exchange Act effective on March 15, 2005. This resulted in the suspension under the federal securities laws of the Company's obligation to file certain periodic financial reports with the SEC.

Notwithstanding the suspension of its obligation to file periodic financial reports under the federal securities laws, the terms of the Company's indenture governing its 9-5/8% Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008 requires the Company to voluntarily file the same annual, periodic and current reports that it was previously required to file as an SEC registrant so long as the indenture covenants remain in effect (the notes issued under the indenture have a stated maturity date of May 14, 2008 and are subject to earlier redemption in certain circumstances).

Website Access to Exchange Act Reports

The Company's Internet address is www.homz.biz. On its web site, located at www.homz.biz, the Company posts the following filings as soon as reasonably practicable after they are electronically filed with or furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission: its annual report on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K and any amendments to those reports filed or furnished pursuant to Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act. All such filings on the Company's Investor Relations web site are available free of charge. The information contained on or connected to such website is not incorporated by reference into this Form 10-K and should not be considered part of this or any other report that the Company files or furnishes to the Commission. Interested parties may also find the Company's filings electronically at the SEC's website www.sec.gov.

Table of Contents

(b) Financial information about segments.

Based upon the requirements of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 131, management of the Company has determined that HPI operates within a single segment Housewares. As such, the required information for this section is contained in the Consolidated Financial Statements as included in Part II, Item 8 of this Form 10-K.

(c) Narrative description of business.

General storage products. The Company offers a variety of plastic storage containers, rolling carts and stacking drawer systems. The storage containers range in size from shoe boxes to jumbo (50 gallon) totes, and include specialty containers sold during the winter holiday season. Storage containers contain a variety of product attributes, including removable wheels and dome-top lids, which increase storage capacity. The rolling carts and stacking drawer systems come in a wide range of sizes and number of shelving drawers.

Laundry management products. The Company offers a variety of ironing boards and management believes that the Company has a leading U.S. market share. The Company is also a leading manufacturer of ironing board covers and pads. These include a variety of different types of covers and pads in a multitude of different designs that fit not only its own ironing boards, but all standard size boards. The Company markets proprietary Martha Stewart laundry products at Kmart and Michael Graves branded products at Target. Additionally, the Company is a leading U.S. producer of laundry accessories. Key products within this category include: wood and metal drying racks, laundry bags, hampers and sorters, and clothes pins.

Closet storage products. This category is comprised primarily of plastic clothes hangers. Due to the commodity nature of the hanger category, margins in this category are inherently lower, while unit volumes are substantially higher than in the Company's other product lines. The Company has a broad product offering that the Company believes gives it a competitive advantage over other hanger manufacturers. Also included in this category are other plastic organizers, closet and clothing organization products.

Bathware products. The Company markets a broad line of value-priced plastic bath accessories and organizers. These include shower organizers, plastic towel bars, shelves, soap dishes, portable shower sprays and fog-free shower mirrors. The Company believes it is a leading producer of opening price-point plastic bath accessories.

Kitchen storage products. Food storage products are plastic items of varying size and shape and are approved for use in contact with food by the United States Food and Drug Administration. Food storage products are sold in value packs ranging from two to sixty-four piece sets. The Company introduced a disposable food storage line in 2003 to complement its core food storage products. Also included in this product line are sinkware and wire organization products.

Historical Consolidated Net Sales by Product Category

The following table sets forth the amounts and percentages of the Company's historical consolidated net sales by product categories within the housewares segment for the periods indicated.

Table of Contents

	2004		2003		2002
	Net Sales	%	Net Sales	%	Net Sales	%
General storage	$ 122,705	47%	$ 106,659	46%	$ 102,718	41%
Laundry management	77,827	30%	73,631	31%	86,626	35%
Closet storage	35,787	14%	30,255	13%	29,287	12%
Bathware	13,526	5%	13,843	6%	18,580	7%
Kitchen storage	10,432	4%	9,214	4%	11,981	5%
Total net sales	$ 260,277	100%	$ 233,602	100%	$ 249,192	100%

Customers

The Company is dependent upon a few customers for a large portion of its consolidated net sales. During 2004, Wal-Mart, Kmart and Target accounted for 31.4%, 28.3% and 12.4%, respectively, of the Company's consolidated net sales. During 2003, Wal-Mart, Kmart and Target accounted for 27.6%, 33.2% and 12.5%, respectively, of the Company's consolidated net sales. During 2002, Wal-Mart, Kmart and Target accounted for 27.5%, 29.6% and 16.6%, respectively, of the Company's consolidated net sales. The loss of one of these customers could have a material adverse effect on the Company. No other customer accounted for more than 10% of consolidated net sales in 2004, 2003 or 2002.

One of the Company's largest customers is Kmart. After emerging from bankruptcy in May 2003, Kmart has improved its financial performance. However, Kmart continues to report declines in same store sales and has further reduced its store count during 2004. Kmart has paid all of its current obligations to the Company on time. Given the size of the Company's sales to Kmart, and the uncertainty of factors related to Kmart's business, no assurance can be given as to the Company's future results related to Kmart. In 2004, Kmart announced two transactions involving the sale of up to 74 stores, or approximately 5% of Kmart's store base. In addition Kmart merged with Sears in early 2005. It is not yet possible to determine the potential impact of these transactions on Kmart's purchases from the Company.

Marketing and Distribution

The Company's products are sold through national and regional discounters, hardware/home centers, food/drug stores, juvenile stores and specialty stores. The Company sells directly to major retail customers through its sales management personnel and through manufacturers' representatives. Management believes that one of its greatest opportunities is to fully leverage the Company's long-standing relationships with these customers to gain additional market share in its core product lines and to successfully introduce new and enhanced product lines.

The Company's primary marketing strategy is to design innovative products with features and benefits attractive to consumers, and focus on marketing the products to its retail selling partners. Management believes that one of its competitive advantages is prompt and reliable delivery of value-priced, high-volume products, allowing its retail partners to maintain minimal inventories. The Company provides its customers with a variety of retail support services, including customized merchandise planogramming, small shipping packs, point-of-purchase displays, Electronic-Data-Interchange (EDI) order transmission, and just-in-time (JIT) product delivery.

The Company's marketing efforts also include advertising, promotional and differentiated packaging programs. Promotions include cooperative advertising, customer rebates targeted at the Company's value added feature products and point-of-purchase displays.

Product Research and Development

The Company's product research and development effort is enhanced through the use of internal and outsourced product design experts. Although the Company's historical accounting records do not separately present research and development expenses, the Company estimates that for 2004, 2003 and 2002, expenses associated with research and development (which are classified as selling and marketing in the Company's consolidated statements of operations) were $0.7 million, $0.9 million and $0.9 million, respectively.

Table of Contents

Foreign and Export Sales Information

The Company's fiscal year 2004, 2003 and 2002 net sales outside the United States accounted for approximately 3.3%, 3.6% and 4.4% of its total net sales, respectively. The Company's foreign assets were not material as of fiscal year end 2004 and 2003.

Seasonality

Sales of the Company's houseware products are generally higher in the third and fourth quarters of the calendar year. This seasonality is primarily attributable to increased home buying during the summer months, the back-to-school season and storage promotional events in the fourth quarter. The surge in home buying during the spring and summer months increases the demand for new housewares products. The back-to-school season, including college students moving out of the house for the first time, also contributes to an increase in demand for the Company's housewares products. In the fourth quarter, retailers run general storage promotional events that are themed for the fourth quarter holidays, particularly Halloween and Christmas.

Competition

The consumer products business is highly competitive. The Company competes with numerous other manufacturers and distributors of consumer products, many of which are larger and have substantially greater resources than the Company, and which may therefore have the ability to spend more aggressively on advertising and marketing and have more flexibility than the Company to respond to changing business and economic conditions. The Company's principal customers are national and regional discounters, hardware/home centers, food/drug stores, juvenile stores and specialty stores. The rapid growth of these large mass merchandisers, together with changes in consumer shopping patterns, have contributed to a significant consolidation of the consumer products retail industry and the formation of dominant multi-category retailers, many of which have strong bargaining power with suppliers. This environment significantly limits the Company's ability to recover cost increases through selling prices. Other trends among retailers are to foster high levels of competition among suppliers, to demand that manufacturers supply innovative new products and to require suppliers to maintain or reduce product prices and deliver products with shorter lead times. Another trend, in the absence of a strong new product development effort or strong end-user brands, is for the retailer to import generic products directly from foreign sources. The combination of these market influences has created an intensely competitive environment in which the Company's principal customers continuously evaluate which product suppliers to use, resulting in pricing pressures and the need for new product introductions, line extensions and continuing improvements in customer service.

The Company believes that large mass merchandisers are continuing to reduce the number of suppliers of housewares products with which they do business to improve margins and operating efficiencies. These retailers are forming key relationships with suppliers that can provide complete product lines within product categories, profitable fast-turning products, timely delivery and merchandising support. With its numerous product lines and strong relationships with these retailers, the Company believes it is well positioned to continue to meet their needs.

Patents, Trademarks and Licenses

The Company's subsidiary owns a number of trademarks and patents relating to various products and manufacturing processes. The Company believes that in the aggregate its patents enhance its business, in part by discouraging competitors from adopting patented features of its products. The Company believes, however, that there are no individual patents, trademarks or licenses material to its business.

Raw Materials and Production

The Company manufactures the majority of its products at its various manufacturing facilities in the United States and one facility in Mexico. In certain instances the Company has contracted with 3rd party custom molders to produce various plastic products.

The primary raw material used in the Company's plastic injection molding products is plastic resin, primarily polypropylene. Resin is a spot commodity with pricing parameters tied to supply and demand characteristics beyond the Company's control. The Company purchases a portion of its resin through supply contracts that guarantee discount pricing from industry market indexes. Some resin is purchased through brokers in a secondary market. Plastic resin is utilized by a number of different industries, many of which are quite different from the Company's housewares business. For example, the automobile and housing industries are very large users of plastic resin. As such, demand changes in the automobile industry or the number of new housing starts can have an impact on plastic resin pricing. Changes in market rates for crude oil and natural gas can also impact resin prices.

The primary raw materials used in the Company's laundry management products are cold rolled steel and grieg fabric. The Company purchases in excess of 20,000 tons of cold rolled steel annually, typically at spot prices. Grieg fabric, purchased from brokers, is a cotton based product with pricing tied to the world cotton markets. The Company's purchases of grieg fabric approximate 7 million yards annually.

The Company has entered into a commitment to purchase certain raw materials at formula-based prices. The agreement expires in December 2005. Future related minimum commitments to purchase raw materials, assuming current price levels, are approximately $14.5 million in 2005. In the event there is a major change in economic conditions affecting the Company's overall annual raw material requirements, management expects that the Company and its vendors would seek to mutually agree on how to mitigate the effects on both parties. Examples of potential mitigating actions include deferral of product delivery within the agreement term, agreement term extension and to the terms of the agreement.

The Company's production processes utilize automated machinery and systems where appropriate. Certain laundry management facilities employ the use of an automated manufacturing production line to produce ironing boards. Additionally, automated cutting and layout machines are used to maximize the usage of grieg fabric.

Backlog

The dollar amount of backlog orders of the Company is not considered significant in relation to the total annual dollar volume of sales. Because it is the Company's practice to maintain a level of inventory sufficient to cover anticipated shipments and since most of the Company's orders are generally shipped in less than one month from receipt of order, a large backlog would be unusual.

Environmental Matter

An environmental report obtained in connection with the Company's 1998 acquisition of Plastics, Inc. (PI) from Newell Co., indicated that certain remedial work might be required for ground contamination of PI's Coon Rapids, Minnesota facility. Accordingly, the Company obtained an indemnification from Newell Co. (the Newell Indemnification) for the remediation of any ground contamination, subject to certain limitations. In July 2001, the Company sold PI, together with the Coon Rapids facility, to A & E Products Group LP, an affiliate of Tyco

International (A & E). In connection with the sale, the Company provided an environmental indemnification, subject to certain limitations, to A & E. The Company has not been informed as of the date of this Annual Report that any remediation is required nor does the Company have any present reason to believe that the Newell Indemnification would be insufficient to cover any required remediation. Except as described above, the Company believes that compliance with federal, state or local provisions relating to protection of the environment is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's capital expenditures, earnings or competitive position.

Table of ContentsEmployees

As of March 5, 2005, the Company employed approximately 865 people in the United States and Mexico. Approximately 205 are hourly employees at its Chicago, Illinois facilities, covered by a collective bargaining agreement which expires in January, 2007; and 138 are hourly employees at its Reynosa, Mexico facility covered by a collective bargaining agreement which expires in December, 2005. Although we believe that our relations with our employees are satisfactory, there can be no assurance that we will not face labor disputes in the future or that such disputes will not be material to us.

In addition, as of March 5, 2005, the Company utilized the services of approximately 177 temporary workers in its injection molding operations and in certain warehouses. The number of these personnel varies seasonally.

Item 2. Properties

The Company maintains facilities with an aggregate of 1,919,600 square feet of space. The Company considers all of its facilities to be in good operating condition.

The following table summarizes the principal physical properties (both owned and leased) used by the Company in its operations:

Facility	Use	Size (Square Feet)	Owned/Leased
Thomasville, GA	Manufacturing	45,000	Owned
Thomasville, GA	Distribution/Storage	31,000	Leased
Chicago, IL	Manufacturing/Distribution/Storage	286,000	Leased

Reynosa, Mexico	Manufacturing	30,000	Owned

The Company uses public warehouse space for storage and distribution of certain laundry and bath products. The warehouse is located in California. The amount of square footage used at the public warehouse varies from month to month.

Item 3. Legal Proceedings

The Company is party to various claims, legal actions and complaints including product liability litigation, arising in the ordinary course of business. In the opinion of management, all such matters are adequately covered by insurance or will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

On June 2, 2004, the Company executed an Agreement and Plan of Merger, by and between the Company and JRT Acquisition, Inc. ("JRT"), as amended by that certain First Amendment to the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated October 11, 2004 (the "JRT Agreement"). Pursuant to the terms of the JRT Agreement, JRT, an entity formed by James R. Tennant, who at the time was the Company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, was to merge with and into the Company, and each outstanding share of the Company's common stock was to be exchanged for the right to receive $1.50 in cash.

On June 3, 2004, a complaint was filed in the Court of Chancery for the State of Delaware against the Company, our board of directors and JRT. The complaint purports to be filed by a stockholder and alleges that in entering into the JRT Agreement, our board of directors breached their fiduciary duties of loyalty, due care and good faith. The complaint, which includes a request for a declaration that the action be maintained as a class action, seeks, among other relief, injunctive relief enjoining the transaction from being consummated. On January 25, 2005, the Delaware plaintiffs dropped their lawsuit in its entirety. Pursuant to Delaware rule, the action was dismissed without prejudice.

On June 4, 2004, a complaint was filed in the Chancery Division of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois against the Company and our directors. The complaint purports to be filed by a stockholder and alleges that in entering into the JRT Agreement, our board of directors breached their fiduciary duties of loyalty, due care, independence, good faith and fair dealing. The complaint, which includes a request for a declaration that the action be maintained as a class action, seeks, among other relief, injunctive relief enjoining the transaction from being consummated. The Company and our board of directors believe the complaint is without merit and intend to vigorously contest this lawsuit. If class certification is granted it is possible that the outcome could have a material adverse effect on the operating results, financial position and cash flows of the Company. There is not sufficient information to estimate the Company's exposure at this time.

Item 4. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders

Not applicable.

PART II

Item 5. Market for Registrant's Common Stock, Related Stockholder Matters and Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

On December 15, 2004 the Company and its transfer agent determined that there were fewer than 300 shareholders of record. Accordingly, the Board of Directors approved the delisting of the Company's common stock from the NASDAQ SmallCap Market and the deregistration of its common stock under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The deregistration was effective on March 15, 2005. Following the delisting, it is unlikely that the Company's shares will be traded on the over-the-counter bulletin board, or that price quotations will be reported through any other sources.

The Company has never paid a cash dividend on its common stock and currently anticipates that all of its future earnings, if any, will be retained for use in the operation and expansion of its business. The Company's 9.625% Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008 issued in a public offering in May 1998 contain certain restrictions on the Company's ability to pay dividends.

The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated, the high and low bid prices for the common stock as reported on The NASDAQ SmallCap MarketSM prior to the Company's delisting on December 15, 2004. Such quotations reflect inter-dealer prices, without retail mark-up, mark-down or commission and may not necessarily represent actual transactions.

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2004, the Company did not repurchase (in the open market or otherwise) any of its outstanding common stock. As of January 1, 2005, the Company did not have any plan or program in place with respect to the repurchase of its outstanding common stock.

Item 6. Selected Consolidated Financial Data

The following Selected Consolidated Financial Data should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Company, including the Notes thereto, and Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations. See Item 1. Business and Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for a discussion of the Shareholder Transaction, restructuring charges, impairment charges and business combinations and dispositions of business assets that materially affected the comparability of the information set forth below and material uncertainties that could cause future results to differ from such information.

Fiscal year 2004 has been restated as a result of the Company's correction for the accounting for deferred income taxes related to goodwill and certain other immaterial adjustments. ITEM 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

This commentary should be read in conjunction with the Company's consolidated financial statements and related notes contained herein. This discussion and analysis contains forward-looking statements that involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions. The Company's actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of many factors, including but not limited to those described below under the heading "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements".

Overview

The Company designs, manufactures and markets a broad range of quality houseware products. The following are key factors in understanding the Company's performance:

Customer base

Cost of raw materials

Product mix

Molding machine utilization

Financial liquidity

Customer base

The Company's business is highly concentrated among mass merchandisers, including discount stores, home centers and other category specific retailers. Sales to our top three customers, Wal-Mart, Kmart and Target, were 72% of net sales in fiscal year 2004, 73% of net sales in fiscal year 2003 and 74% of net sales in fiscal year 2002. Our products generally have few unique or patented features and are sold at entry level price points. As such, the Company's financial success is highly dependent on profitably meeting certain price points as demanded by customers. The competitive atmosphere continually pressures our selling prices. After several years of steadily falling selling prices, the Company was able to secure limited selling price increases in 2004.

The size of the mass merchandisers gives them strong bargaining power with suppliers. They encourage high levels of competition among suppliers, demand that manufacturers supply innovative new products, require suppliers to match or beat quoted prices received from other potential suppliers, demand reduced lead times and that product be warehoused until the customer desires delivery. These customers also actively engage in the direct import of generic products from multiple sources.

The high concentration of sales to mass merchandisers also makes the Company's results dependent upon the operating results and financial viability of its key customers. The Company's operating results in recent years have been impacted by developments at Kmart, one of the Company's largest customers. Since emerging from bankruptcy in May 2003, Kmart has improved its financial performance. However, Kmart continues to report declines in same store sales and has announced further reductions in store count in connection with its merger with Sears. Kmart has paid all of its current obligations to the Company on time.

Cost of raw materials

The Company's primary raw materials are plastic resin and steel. Changing prices for such raw materials can cause the Company's results of operations to fluctuate significantly. The cost of raw materials is impacted by several factors outside the control of the Company including supply and demand characteristics, oil and natural gas prices and the overall state of the economy. As the cost of raw materials rises it results in immediate declines in profitability since we have historically been unable to recover all of the cost increase by passing it through to customers. Conversely, when raw material costs decline, our margins generally are favorably impacted in the short-term though competitive factors may force a decrease in selling prices that erodes some of the improved profitability. During fiscal 2004, the average cost of plastic resin increased approximately 19% and average steel prices increased approximately 69% as compared to the average costs in fiscal 2003. The increase in steel and plastic resin costs added approximately $15 million to cost of goods sold. Management expects the average cost of both plastic resin and steel to increase during 2005.

Product mix

The Company sells a variety of household items. For various reasons, some items provide a better return than others. As the mix of items sold changes, profitability and cash flow are affected. In 2004, product mix was favorable. Although we have had some success at getting an increase in selling prices during 2004, there can be no assurance that we will be able to secure additional selling price increases to offset any future rise in raw material costs. To the extent that selling price increases can not be achieved, certain unprofitable products may be discontinued. The costs related to discontinuing a product are relatively minor and relate primarily to the non-cash write-off of related tooling.

Molding machine utilization

The Company has four injection molding facilities with a variety of injection molding machine sizes. Customer ordering patterns and mix of product manufactured impacts utilization of these machines. When demand exceeds our capacity, we must place production at third party facilities that are more costly than our internal manufacturing. In addition, the mix of product sold impacts profitability since low margin items take the same amount of production time as higher margin items. In January 2004, we closed our most expensive molding facility and relocated the machines to lower cost operations. The Company's future profitability is dependent on selling to our optimum capacity and product mix so that constrained capacity is devoted to products with higher margins. We have no plans for expansion or reduction of our molding capacity until we can profitably operate the facilities we currently own.

Financial liquidity

Seasonal working capital needs are provided by the Company's $60 million asset based line of credit. Ability to borrow is a function of our eligible asset base and our outstanding borrowings. During 2004, our cash flow (which the Company defines as net change in cash and debt) was negative and on January 1, 2005 there were $25.0 million of borrowings outstanding under the line of credit. At January 1, 2005, our unused available line of credit was $33.1 million. A significant decline in eligible asset base or cash flow could result in constrained funds for operations. In recent years, the Company has experienced positive cash flow in the first quarter and negative cash flow for the balance of the year. This is due to seasonal cash needs as well as the semi annual payments of interest on subordinated debt. However, management believes it has sufficient borrowing capability for at least the next 12 months. See Capital Resources and Liquidity below for additional discussion of the Company's cash flows and financing situation.

Restatement

This Amendment No. 1 to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended January 1, 2005 restates the consolidated financial statements for the year ended January 1, 2005 and each of the interim periods in fiscal year 2004.

Historically, the Company has accounted for its deferred income taxes related to goodwill as a reversing taxable temporary difference. During fiscal year 2004, the Company's temporary difference related to goodwill became a liability as the tax basis of goodwill became lower than the book basis due to the continued amortization of goodwill for tax purposes. Pursuant to SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the deferred tax liability related to the Company's goodwill must be considered as a liability related to an asset with an indefinite life. Therefore, the deferred tax liability was not available to support the realization of deferred tax assets created by other deductible temporary differences. Given the Company's determination that, based on cumulative historical operating losses, it was more likely than not that its deferred tax assets would not be realized, this unavailability to offset has resulted in the creation of a deferred tax liability and an additional tax expense in respect of the resulting increase in the deferred tax asset valuation allowance. These restatement adjustments were non-cash and had no effect on operating cash flows nor on the Company's compliance with its debt covenants.

As a result of the deferred tax liability restatement, income tax expense in fiscal year 2004 increased by approximately $2.9 million (approximately $0.7 million per quarter in 2004). Loss per share on a diluted basis increased by approximately $0.36 in fiscal year 2004 (approximately $0.09 per quarter in 2004). This adjustment increased the deferred tax liability in the consolidated balance sheet by $2.9 million at January 1, 2005.

In connection with the second quarter of 2005 close process the Company identified a lease agreement that contained escalating rental payments that were not appropriately straight-lined over the lease term in accordance with the requirements of SFAS No. 13, Accounting for Leases and FASB Technical Bulletin No. 85-3, Accounting for Operating Leases with Scheduled Rent Increases. Accordingly, the Company is required to record a rent deferral within other liabilities for the excess of the straight-line rental expense over the rental payments made to date. As a result of the lease accounting adjustment, cost of goods sold in fiscal year 2004 increased by approximately $0.3 million. Loss per share on a fully diluted basis increased by approximately $0.03. This adjustment increased other liabilities on the consolidated balance sheet by approximately $0.3 million at January 1, 2005.

The Company also identified two adjustments related to the accounting for its Mexico subsidiary. The first adjustment related to an error in translating fixed asset additions and recording depreciation expense where the Company understated depreciation expense on the fixed assets of the Mexico operation. The second adjustment relates to management's inappropriate use of the Mexican Peso as its functional currency for the Mexico operation. As a result of these adjustments, cost of goods sold increased by approximately $0.2 million and other income increased by $0.01 million in fiscal year 2004. Loss per share on a fully diluted basis increased by approximately $0.03 due to these adjustments. These adjustments increased property, plant and equipment by $0.1 million and accumulated depreciation by $0.2 million and reduced accumulated other comprehensive loss by $0.05 million on the consolidated balance sheet at January 1, 2005.

The impact of the lease accounting and Mexican subsidiary adjustments was not material to the interim periods of fiscal year 2004 and prior periods. Accordingly, the restated results for the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2004 include an amount of $0.4 million in respect of these prior periods. See Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements for further details.

Shareholder Transaction

Throughout 2004, a special committee of the Company's independent directors considered proposals for the acquisition of the Company's outstanding common shares.

On June 2, 2004, the Company executed an Agreement and Plan of Merger, by and between the Company and JRT Acquisition, Inc. (JRT) as amended by that certain First Amendment to the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated October 11, 2004 (the JRT Agreement). Pursuant to the terms of the JRT Agreement, JRT, an entity formed by James R. Tennant, who at the time was the Company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, to merge with and into the Company, and each outstanding share of the Company's common stock was to be exchanged for the right to receive $1.50 in cash.

On October 28, 2004, the Company and Storage Acquisition Company, L.L.C., a Delaware limited liability company (Acquirer), entered into an Acquisition Agreement (the Acquisition Agreement) under which the Acquirer was to make a tender offer for 100% of the Company's common stock for $2.25 per share in cash (the Acquisition). Before entering into the Acquisition Agreement, pursuant to the terms of the JRT Agreement, the Company and JRT terminated the JRT Agreement to enable the Company to enter into the Acquisition Agreement.

As provided in the JRT Agreement, the Company was obligated to reimburse JRT up to a maximum of $550,000 in expenses related to the JRT Agreement.

On December 13, 2004, the Acquirer and the Company jointly announced that the Acquirer had completed its tender offer for the outstanding shares of common stock (including the associated preferred stock purchase rights) of the Company for $2.25 per share, net to the seller, in cash without interest. As a result of the tender offer, the Acquirer obtained 93% of the outstanding common shares. Collectively, the process that led to the offer by JRT, the Acquisition Agreement and the completion of the tender offer is referred to herein as the Shareholder Transaction .

On December 15, 2004 the Company's common stock was delisted and is no longer trading on The NASDAQ SmallCap Market. Following the delisting, it is unlikely that the Company's shares will be traded on the over-the-counter bulletin board, or that price quotations will be reported through any other sources. In addition, the Company has suspended its reporting obligations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, effective as of March 15, 2005.

Notwithstanding the suspension of its obligation to file periodic financial reports, by the terms of the Company's indenture governing its 9-5/8% Senior Subordinated Notes due May 14, 2008, the Company is required to voluntarily file the same annual, periodic and current reports that it was previously required to file as an SEC registrant so long as the indenture covenants remain in effect.

In connection with the Shareholder Transaction, the Company incurred costs during 2004 totaling $9.1 million. These costs included legal fees, investment banking fees, and certain payments to prior management that were triggered by the Shareholder Transaction.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The estimates and assumptions involved in the application of generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) have an impact on the Company's reported financial condition and operating performance. The Company identified the critical accounting estimates as those that involve high levels of subjectivity and judgment to account for uncertain or difficult to predict matters that could have a material impact on financial condition or operating performance.

A summary of the critical accounting estimates is as follows:

Allowances for retailer deductions and trade programs

Allowances for retailer deductions and customer programs are recognized when sales are recorded. Allowances are based on various market data, historical trends and information from customers. Although the best information reasonably available to the Company is used to establish the allowances, such information is often based on estimates of retailer recovery rates and future sales to retailers. Retailer programs are often based on annual sales levels in total and by product category. Different recovery rates apply depending on the annual sales levels achieved. As such, judgments are required on an interim basis of the expected full year sales level by customer and product category. Because of the judgment involved, interim estimates can vary significantly from the full year actual determination of program costs. At year-end a more accurate assessment of the current year's costs can be made. Retailers recover the program costs through deductions against future amounts owed to the Company. It is not unusual for retailers to have a different judgment of the amounts earned than does the Company. Accordingly, the Company maintains allowances for any differences that may arise. Resolution of such differences can sometimes take up to several years depending on the particular program. Allowances are reviewed quarterly and are adjusted based on current estimates of retailer recovery and future sales. Due to changes in estimates, changes in retailer activity and the length of time required for many programs to run their course, it is possible for allowance activity to materially impact operating performance and financial condition in any given period. In 2004, the allowances for retailer deductions and trade programs as a percentage of gross sales were 4.5% compared to 5.9% in 2003. The change in percentage is a function of the assortment of trade programs, the level of retailer deductions and the sales levels achieved by customers. Due to changes in estimates during the year, interim results can vary from the full year result.

Allowance for doubtful accounts

The Company evaluates the collectibility of its accounts receivable based upon an analysis of historical trends, aging of accounts receivable, write-off experience and credit evaluations of selected high risk customers. In the event of a specific customer bankruptcy or reorganization, specific allowances are established to write down accounts receivable to the level of anticipated recovery. The Company may consult with third-party purchasers of bankruptcy receivables when establishing specific allowances. The determination of specific allowances involves management judgments about the expected financial viability of its customers. Changes in specific allowances for doubtful accounts would only be material to financial condition and operating performance to the extent any change involved one of the Company's 10 largest customers. The 10 largest customers accounted for approximately 83% of net sales in 2004 and 82% of accounts receivable at January 1, 2005. No material changes in allowances for doubtful accounts involving any of our 10 largest customers was recorded in 2004.

Inventory valuation

The Company values inventory at cost (not in excess of market) determined by the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method. Inventory costs are based on standard costs, adjusted for actual manufacturing and raw material purchase price variances. The Company includes material, labor and manufacturing overhead in the cost of inventories. Management regularly reviews inventory for salability and has established allowances to record inventory at the lower of cost or market. The allowances are based on management judgments regarding future selling prices and costs of disposal. Such judgments are impacted by economic conditions, condition of the inventory and age of the inventory. Such judgments involve high degrees of uncertainty and subjectivity. Accordingly, changes in the estimates can have a material impact on reported results or financial condition. During 2004, problem inventories were lower than in 2003. Accordingly, charges to reduce inventory carrying values were $2.0 million lower in 2004 than in 2003.

Valuation of deferred income taxes

The Company regularly evaluates its ability to recover the reported amount of its deferred tax assets. The evaluation considers several factors, including our estimate of the likelihood that we will generate sufficient taxable income in future years in which temporary differences reverse. This evaluation is based primarily on the Company's historical earnings, projected operating results, applicable net operating loss carryforward expiration dates and identified actions under the control of the Company in realizing the associated carryforward benefits.

The Company had $35 million of deferred tax assets as of January 1, 2005, resulting from net operating loss carryforwards, and other deductible temporary differences, which may reduce taxable income in future periods to the extent the Company generates profits. Because the value of the deferred tax assets is fully reserved, changes in estimates of future operating performance could result in a reduction of the valuation allowances and a corresponding decrease in income tax expense. The changes in the valuation allowances in any future interim period or fiscal year could be material.

The completion of the Shareholder Transaction on December 13, 2004 constituted an ownership change under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the use of any of the Company's net operating loss carryforwards generated prior to the ownership change is subject to certain limitations. The utilization of such remaining net operating losses is subject to an annual limitation of approximately $0.7 million. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of the net built-in gain on this limitation. As a result, a certain portion of the net operating losses will expire before they can be utilized.

During fiscal year 2004, the Company recorded non-cash deferred income tax expense of $2.9 million. This charge was required because the Company currently has significant deferred tax liabilities related to goodwill with lower tax than book basis as a result of accelerated and continued amortization of goodwill for tax purposes. Following the adoption of SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the deferred tax liability related to the Company's goodwill must now be considered as a liability related to an asset with an indefinite life and can no longer support the realization of deferred tax assets. Historically, the Company did not need a valuation allowance as the book basis of goodwill was lower than the tax basis. This was a result of a goodwill impairment charge which was recorded in fiscal year 2000. In 2004 the continued amortization of goodwill for tax purposes has resulted in a lower tax basis than book basis. Therefore, the Company will record an additional income tax provision to increase its deferred tax valuation allowance. In the future we will increase the valuation allowance with a corresponding deferred tax provision as the deferred tax liabilities related to the goodwill amortization increase.

Restructuring reserves

In 2000 and 2001, the Company recorded restructuring charges for certain costs associated with plant closures and business reorganization activities upon approval by management with the appropriate level of authority in accordance with Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 94-3, Liability Recognition for

Table of Contents

Costs to Exit an Activity (Including Certain Costs Incurred in a Restructuring) . Such costs were recorded as a liability and included lease termination costs, employee severance and certain employee termination benefits. These costs were neither associated with nor do they benefit continuing business activities. Inherent in the determination of these costs were assessments related to the most likely expected outcome of the significant actions to accomplish the restructuring. The Company reviews the status of restructuring activities on an ongoing basis and, if appropriate, records changes based on such activities. At January 1, 2005, remaining accruals related to the 2000 and 2001 restructuring charges are about $0.1 million.

Valuation of Long-Lived, Indefinite Long-Lived Intangible Assets and Intangible Assets

The Company assesses the recoverability of indefinite and long-lived assets whenever it determines that events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amount may not be recoverable. In accordance with GAAP, indefinite lived intangible assets are subject to annual impairment tests. The Company's assessments and impairment testing are primarily based upon management's estimates of future cash flows associated with these assets. Should the Company's operating results, or estimated future results, deteriorate, the Company may determine that some portion of the Company's long-lived tangible or intangible assets are impaired. Such determination could result in non-cash charges that could materially affect the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations for that period. At January 1, 2005, intangible assets were $73.3 million and long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment) were $31.6 million. No impairment charges were incurred in 2004.

Fiscal year 2004 (restated) as compared to fiscal year 2003

In the discussion and analysis that follows, all references to 2004 are for the fifty-three week year ended January 1, 2005 and all references to 2003 are for the fifty-two week year ended December 27, 2003.

The following discussion and analysis compares the restated results for 2004 to the actual results for 2003 with reference to the following (in thousands, except loss per share):

Net sales Net sales of $260.3 million in 2004 were up $26.7 million or 11% compared to 2003 net sales of $233.6 million. Net sales increased between years due primarily to market share gains and selling price increases in response to higher raw material costs.

Selling prices were $6.0 million higher in 2004 than in 2003. Selling prices were increased in response to significant cost increases of plastic resin and steel.

Shelf space was gained as certain competitors exited the marketplace on entry level price point items.

Changes in estimates related to retailer recovery of deductions and customer programs resulted in a reduction of sales allowances between years. Such program and deduction expenses, which are recorded as a reduction of gross sales, were 4.5% of gross sales in 2004 and 5.9% of gross sales in 2003.

Sales to our top three customers were 72% of net sales in 2004 and 73% of net sales in 2003.

Laundry Management Products. Net sales in the laundry management category of $77.9 million in 2004 were up 6% compared to 2003. Laundry sales were up due primarily to market share gains against higher cost competitive products.

General Storage Products. Net sales in the general storage category were $122.7 million, up 15% compared to 2003. The sales growth was the result of unit volume gains together with selling price increases.

Closet Storage Products. Net sales of $35.8 million in 2004 were up 18% compared to 2003. Additional placement of plastic hangers drove the increase.

Bathware Products. Net sales in the category of $13.5 million in 2004 were down 2% from net sales in 2003. Store closings by Kmart were the only significant factor during the year.

Kitchen Storage Products. Net sales in the kitchen storage category of $10.4 million in 2004 increased 13% from 2003. The sales growth was the result of unit volume gains together with selling price increases.

Gross profit. The Company's gross profit in 2004 was $45.0 million as compared to $36.0 million in 2003 and gross profit margins increased to 17.3% of net sales from 15.4% a year ago. Gross profit and gross profit margins were influenced by a number of factors, including:

Steel and plastic resin costs were $15.7 million higher than in 2003.

Higher selling prices and improved mix of product sold improved gross profit by $6.7 million.

Increased sales unit volume resulted in additional gross profit of $3.6 million.

Factories produced more units resulting in additional overhead absorption. The higher running rates, together with reduced spending and higher productivity, improved gross profit by $4.9 million.

The decline in program and deduction expenses improved gross profit by $3.5 million.

Operational savings of $2.2 million resulted from the January 2004 closing of the Eagan manufacturing facility. Closing related costs of $0.8 million in 2004 were $0.9 million less than in 2003.

During 2004, problem inventories were lower than in 2003. Accordingly, charges to reduce inventory carrying values were $2.0 million lower in 2004 than in 2003.

Settlement of insurance claims related to fires in our Mexican and Missouri manufacturing facilities resulted in gains of $1.2 million.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. SG&A expenses decreased to $26.9 million in 2004 from $29.8 million in 2003. As a percentage of net sales, SG&A expenses decreased to 10.3% in 2004 from 12.8% in 2003. SG&A expenses were favorably impacted by a $0.5 million bad debt recovery, the non recurrence of a $0.7 million first quarter 2003 premium associated with accounts receivable insurance, $1.1 million of warehouse savings from the closing of the Eagan facility, $0.2 million from the favorable resolution of prior years workers compensation claims and general cost cutting measures across all expense departments. Partially offsetting these favorable items was a $2.1 million increase in incentive compensation expense and a $0.2 million charge for severance as a result of management changes subsequent to the Shareholder Transaction.

Shareholder Transaction costs. Throughout 2004, a special committee of the Company's independent directors considered proposals for the acquisition of the Company's outstanding common shares. The culmination of the committee's work was the completion of the December 2004 tender offer for 93% of the Company's outstanding shares. In connection with the Shareholder Transaction, the Company incurred costs during 2004 totaling $9.1 million. These costs included legal fees, investment banking fees, and certain payments to prior management that were triggered by the Shareholder Transaction.

Restructuring and other, net. In 2004, changes in estimates regarding restructuring reserves for excess capacity costs resulted in $0.1 of income. In 2003, changes in estimates regarding restructuring reserves for excess capacity costs resulted in $1.2 million of income.

Interest expense. Interest expense of $13.5 million in 2004 was down $0.1 million from the prior year. A change in the mix of debt to lower cost revolving credit borrowings caused the decrease in interest expense.

Other income. Other income of $2.2 million in 2003 primarily relates to a $2.3 million gain on the purchase of the Company's high yield bonds. The Company used its revolving line of credit in 2003 to buyback bonds at a discount to face value.

Income tax expense. During 2004, the Company recorded non-cash deferred income tax expense of $2.9 million relating to the Company's goodwill. Following the adoption of SFAS No. 142, the deferred tax liability related to the Company's goodwill must now be considered as a liability related to an asset with an indefinite life which can no longer support the realization of deferred tax assets. See Note 13. Income Taxes in the notes to the consolidated financial statements for additional information. The Company continued to record a valuation allowance on its deferred tax assets through January 1, 2005, due to the uncertainty regarding future profitability. During 2003, the Company recorded an income tax provision of $7.8 million to increase the Company's valuation allowance for net deferred tax assets. The increase in the valuation allowance during 2003 reflected the uncertain nature of future taxable income and management's determination that it is more likely than not that none of the deferred tax assets will be realized. In addition, a decrease in the accrual for income taxes in 2003 generated $0.8 million of income.

At January 1, 2005, the Company had tax loss carryforwards of approximately $68 million (expiring in years 2010 through 2024) which may be used to reduce taxes in the future. The completion of the Shareholder Transaction on December 13, 2004 constituted an ownership change under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the use of any of the Company's net operating loss carryforwards generated prior to the ownership change is subject to certain limitations. Management believes that the annual amount of carryforward available to offset current taxable income will be limited to approximately $0.7 million. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of the net built-in gain on this limitation. There is no assurance that future income will be sufficient to utilize these tax loss carryforwards.

Net loss. The net loss in 2004 was $7.9 million. The loss was significantly lower than the $11.3 million loss reported in 2003. 2003 included a $7.8 million increase in the Company's valuation allowance for deferred taxes, $1.7 million of charges related to the closure of the Eagan manufacturing facility, a $2.3 million gain on the purchase of the Company's high yield bonds and $0.8 million of income from reductions of income tax accruals. 2004 operating performance benefited from higher sales, improved factory performance, lower operating expenses and the insurance gains. Partially offsetting these improvements were $9.1 million of costs in 2004 related to the Shareholder Transaction and $0.8 million of charges related to the closing of Eagan.

The loss per diluted share was $(0.99) as compared to $(1.42) in 2003. The diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding in 2004 was 7,936,057, down slightly from 7,975,399 a year ago. Dilutive options and warrants are not included in the computation of diluted weighted average shares outstanding because the assumed exercise of such equivalents would have reduced the loss per share.

Fiscal year 2003 as compared to fiscal year 2002

In the discussion and analysis that follows, all references to 2003 are for the fifty-two week year ended December 27, 2003 and all references to 2002 are for the fifty-two week year ended December 28, 2002.

Net sales. Net sales of $233.6 million in 2003 were down $15.6 million or 6.3% compared to 2002 net sales of $249.2 million. Net sales declined between years due primarily to selling price declines in response to competitive pressures and the decision not to renew or pursue sales with unacceptable profit margins.

Selling prices were $6.0 million lower in 2003 than in 2002 due to competitive price challenges.

Shelf space was lost at certain customers as we failed to match low price challenges on low margin items.

Changes in estimates related to retailer recovery of deductions and customer programs resulted in a reduction of sales allowances between years. Such program and deduction expenses, which are recorded as a reduction of gross sales, were 5.9% of gross sales in 2003 and 8.4% of gross sales in 2002.

Laundry Management Products. Net sales in the laundry management category of $73.6 million in 2003 were down 15% compared to 2002. Laundry sales were down due primarily to pricing actions, lost market share related to Far East imports and a reduction in Kmart's store count.

General Storage Products. Net sales in the general storage category were $106.7 million, up 4% compared to 2002. Unit volume was up significantly, however selling price declines offset some of the increase in volume and reduced the profitability of these items. Certain items and customers were exited due to unacceptable profit margins.

Table of Contents

Closet Storage Products. Net sales of $30.3 million in 2003 were up 3% compared to 2002. Additional placement of plastic hangers drove the increase.

Bathware Products. Net sales in this category of $13.8 million in 2003 decreased 25% from net sales in 2002. Approximately half of the decline in sales was at Kmart, where store closings, a switch by Kmart to direct import as well as a reduction in shelf space all contributed to the decline. At other customers, new competitive products took market share.

Kitchen Storage Products. Net sales in the kitchen storage category of $9.2 million in 2003 decreased 23% from 2002. The decrease was due to continuing market share loss to branded disposable product offerings.

Gross profit. The Company's gross profit in 2003 was $36.0 million as compared to $58.6 million in 2002 and gross profit margins decreased to 15.4% of net sales in 2003 from 23.5% of net sales in 2002. The key contributing factors to the decline in margins were as follows:

The cost of plastic resin increased during 2003, resulting in a $10.1 million cost increase.

Selling price decreases of $6 million.

Gross sales decline (net of selling price decreases) of $18 million resulted in a reduction of gross profit of $3.6 million.

Changes in product mix towards lower margin general storage products. General storage products accounted for 46% of total sales, up from 41% a year ago. General storage is our largest sales product line and also has the lowest margins. The continuing mix shift towards general storage and away from laundry and bath had a negative impact on margins.

Costs related to the closure of the Eagan, Minnesota manufacturing facility were $1.7 million. These costs include employee separation charges of $0.6 million, $0.4 million of assorted costs related to the move and abandonment of certain equipment and inventory and $1.4 million of charges associated with the accelerated depreciation of property, plant and equipment that will be sold or abandoned at the time the Company exits the facility. Due to the closure of the plant, retirement accruals of $0.7 million were no longer needed and were reversed to income.

The decline in program and deduction expenses improved margins by 250 basis points.

Special income, net. No such income or charges were recorded in 2003. In 2002, the Company recorded income from Special Charges of $0.1 million. The income resulted from the final closeout of discontinued inventories related to the 2001 closure of the Company's former Leominster, Massachusetts manufacturing facility.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. SG&A expenses decreased to $29.8 million in 2003 from $30.7 million in 2002. As a percentage of net sales, SG&A expenses increased to 12.8% in 2003 from 12.3% in 2002. SG&A expenses were impacted by premiums associated with accounts receivable insurance and legal fees for the pursuit of antidumping relief. Offsetting the expense increases were declines in incentive compensation and bad debt expenses.

Restructuring and other, net. In 2003, changes in estimates regarding restructuring reserves for excess capacity costs resulted in $1.2 million of income. In 2002, changes in management estimates regarding certain restructuring reserves resulted in $1.3 million of income. The main component of the restructuring income related to a $1.0 million reserve reversal for the fourth quarter settlement of threatened litigation on the early termination of a warehouse lease.

Asset impairment charges. Asset impairment charges in 2002 related to molds and tooling for products that were discontinued. Remaining book values were written down to the expected net present value of future cash flows from such products. There were no such charges in 2003.

Interest expense. Interest expense of $13.7 million in 2003 was essentially unchanged from the prior year. Nearly all of the Company's interest expense relates to the Company's outstanding high-yield bonds.

Other income. Other income of $2.2 million in 2003 primarily relates to a $2.3 million gain on the repurchase of the Company's high-yield bonds. The Company used its revolving line of credit to buyback bonds at a discount to face value. In 2002, other income was primarily attributable to the final purchase price settlement of the 2001 sale of PI, upon which the Company was able to reverse accruals of $0.7 million to income.

Income tax expense. The income tax provision in 2003 includes a $7.8 million increase in the Company's valuation allowance for deferred tax assets. Such allowance reflects the uncertain nature of future taxable income and management's determination that it is more likely than not that all of the deferred tax assets may not be realized. In addition, the Company recognized a one-time tax benefit of $0.8 million from the reversal of income tax accruals as a result of the closing of certain tax years. The remaining tax provision relates to state and foreign taxes. No federal income tax expense was recorded in either period due to the Company's significant tax loss carryforwards. At December 27, 2003 the Company had tax loss carryforwards of approximately $51 million (which expires in years 2010 through 2023) which may be used to reduce taxes in the future. However, there is no assurance that future income will be sufficient to utilize these tax loss carryforwards.

Net earnings (loss). In 2003, the Company had a net loss of $11.3 million primarily due to increased valuation allowances for deferred tax assets, increased raw material costs and lower selling prices. This resulted in a loss per diluted share of ($1.42). In 2002, the Company had net earnings of $14.3 million, or $1.73 per diluted share.

The diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding decreased to 7,975,399 in 2003 from 8,286,790 in 2002. In 2003, dilutive options, warrants and restricted stock are not included in the computation of diluted weighted average shares outstanding because the assumed exercise of such equivalents would have reduced the loss per share.

Capital Resources and Liquidity

The Company's primary sources of liquidity and capital resources include cash provided from operations and borrowings under the Company's asset based $60 million Amended and Restated Loan and Security Agreement (the Amended Loan Agreement). On December 14, 2004, the Company and Fleet Capital Corporation entered into the Amended Loan Agreement to accommodate operations subsequent to the Shareholder Transaction. The changes within the Amended Loan Agreement included an increase in the line of credit from $50 million to $60 million, an extension of the term of the agreement by nine months to December 13, 2008, a reduction of applicable interest rates by 25 basis points and a reduction of the minimum excess availability requirement from $9.2 million to $5 million. The covenants restricting changes of ownership and changes of control of the Company have been revised to reflect the new ownership structure of the Company following the Shareholder Transaction.

The Company generates cash by the profitable sale of its products. Disbursements of cash for materials and services generally occur during the manufacturing and purchasing process, which is usually 30-90 days prior to sale. Collection of receivables generally occurs approximately 45-60 days after shipment. For certain large promotional items that typically ship in the fourth quarter, we begin building inventory in the second and third quarters. The inventory for these promotional items typically is not turned to cash until the first quarter of the following year. The timing of cash flows is further impacted by the semi-annual interest payments on the high-yield bonds. Interest payments of about $5.6 million occur in May and November. As a result of the operational seasonality and the timing of the interest payments, the Company normally has positive cash flow in the first quarter and negative cash flow for the balance of the year. During 2004, the Company had negative cash flow (which the Company defines as the net change in cash and debt) of $14.9 million. Of the negative cash flow, $7.9 million was due to certain costs and expenses relating to the Shareholder Transaction.

Collection of receivables is highly dependent on the financial strength of the Company's top three customers: Wal-Mart, Kmart and Target. These three customers accounted for 72% of the Company's net sales in 2004. To the extent that any of them fall into financial distress and fail to timely pay amounts due, it would have an adverse impact on ongoing operations and the Company's financial position.

During 2004, the Company's cash and cash equivalents increased to $1.1 million at January 1, 2005 from $0.8 million at December 27, 2003. Borrowings under the Loan Agreement increased $15.2 million during the year due primarily to certain costs related to the Shareholder Transaction and increases in working capital.

Table of Contents

Working capital (excluding cash and short term debt) at January 1, 2005 was $44.4 million, up $15.5 million from December 27, 2003. Receivables increased $3.5 million due to higher sales in the fourth quarter of 2004 as compared to the fourth quarter of 2003. Inventories increased $12.4 million due to higher order positions at year end and due to higher raw material costs. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities increased $0.8 million due primarily to increased inventory purchases.

Capital spending in 2004 was $7.0 million, as compared to $6.5 million in 2003. Capital spending was primarily related to new product tooling and normal replacement of equipment. Budgeted capital expenditures for 2005 is estimated to be $5.0 million.

The Amended Loan Agreement covenants require the Company to maintain excess availability at all times of at least $5.0 million. At January 1, 2005, the eligible asset base was in excess of $65 million. Thus, we could borrow up to $60 million under the Amended Loan Agreement. At January 1, 2005, there were $25.0 million of borrowings under the Amended Loan Agreement and outstanding letters of credit totaled $1.9 million. Accordingly, we still had availability under the Amended Loan Agreement of $33.1 million. There is expected to be sufficient financing capability to fund operations for at least the next twelve months.

The Company's Amended Loan Agreement contains one financial covenant pertaining to a minimum cash interest coverage ratio. The cash interest coverage ratio must be no lower than 1.0 at the end of 2004 at which point the ratio begins a quarterly increase until it reaches 1.25 in June 2005. At January 1, 2005, the Company's cash interest coverage ratio was 2.12. The earnings component of the covenant is the trailing twelve-month earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. Certain costs related to factory realignments and the Shareholder Transaction are excluded. For the twelve months ended January 1, 2005, the earnings component of the covenant was $27.4 million. For a definition of cash interest coverage ratio as it is used in the Amended Loan Agreement, refer to the Amended Loan Agreement that is filed as an exhibit to this Form 10-K.

The Company was in compliance with all Amended Loan Agreement covenants as of January 1, 2005.

As of January 1, 2005, there were outstanding $116.1 million of 9.625% Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008. The Company's outstanding high-yield bonds have a stated maturity date of May 14, 2008 and are subject to earlier redemption in certain circumstances.

The following is a table providing the aggregate annual contractual obligations of the Company including debt, capital lease obligations, future minimum rental commitments under operating leases and purchase obligations at January 1, 2005 and the effect such obligations are expected to have on our liquidity and cash flows in future periods.

- (1) The Company has entered into commitments to purchase certain core commodities. The agreement expires in December 2005. Future related minimum purchase commitments, assuming February 2005 price levels, are $14.5 million in 2005. The purchase commitment pricing is not tied to fixed rates; therefore, the Company's results of operations or financial position could be affected by significant changes in the market cost of commodities. See Item 7A Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk - Commodity Risk, which is incorporated by reference to this section, for further details.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company has no off-balance sheet arrangements.

Related Party Transactions

You should refer to Item 13 below for information regarding certain relationships and related party transactions, which disclosure is incorporated herein by reference.

Material Weakness in Internal Controls and Procedures

As set forth in Item 9A - Controls and Procedures, the Company has reported that management had identified a material weakness in its internal controls and procedures over financial reporting. Specifically, during the close process for its second quarter of 2005 financial statements, KPMG LLP, the Company's independent registered public accounting firm and management, identified errors in the Company's treatment regarding a deferred tax liability relating to goodwill and certain other adjustments that were inaccurately reflected in its financial statements. As discussed under Item 9A - Controls and Procedures, beginning in 2004, the Company accounted for its deferred tax liability related to goodwill as a reversing taxable temporary difference. The Company recorded various non-cash adjustments that had no impact on the Company's compliance with covenants related to either its $60 million revolving credit facility of which $25.0 million was outstanding as of January 1, 2005, its 9⁵/₈ % Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008 of which $116 million was outstanding at January 1, 2005, or its payment of incentives to management.

While the errors in financial reporting that related to the material weakness were corrected in its restated financial statements, the Company's management intends to correct the material weakness as soon as possible. Because a material weakness is defined as a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that results in a more than remote likelihood that a material misstatement of annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected, the Company's management believes that prompt remediation of the material weakness will mitigate the uncertainty presented by the possibility of material misstatements in the Company's reported financial information and in the accuracy and completeness of its financial reports. If the Company is again unable to assert that its internal control over financial reporting is effective in any future period, the existence of the reported material weakness could represent a trend or uncertainty affecting the accuracy of the Company's consolidated financial statements. As of the date of this Amendment, the Company has identified and undertaken several actions to remediate the reported material weakness in internal controls over financial reporting. Due to the nature of the control deficiency related to this material weakness, and pending completion of its subsequent review process for its financial statements, the Company believes it is premature, as of the date of this Amendment, to determine whether it has effectively corrected the reported material weakness.

Business Risks and Management Outlook

One of the Company's largest customers is Kmart. The Company's net sales to Kmart were $73 million in 2004 and $77 million in 2003. After emerging from bankruptcy in May 2003, Kmart has improved its financial performance. However, Kmart continues to report declines in same store sales and has further reduced its store count during 2004. Kmart has paid all of its current obligations to the Company on time. Given the size of the Company's sales to Kmart, and the uncertainty of factors related to Kmart's business, no assurance can be given as to the Company's future results related to Kmart. In 2004, Kmart announced two transactions involving the sale of up to 74 stores, or approximately 5% of Kmart's store base. In addition Kmart merged with Sears in early 2005. It is not yet possible to determine the potential impact of these transactions on Kmart's purchases with the Company.

Historically, plastic resin has represented approximately 20% to 25% of the Company's cost of goods sold. In 2004, the percentage increased to 35% due to higher plastic resin costs and usage. Plastic resin costs are impacted by several factors outside the control of the Company including supply and demand characteristics, oil and natural gas prices and the overall health of the economy. Any of these factors could potentially have a positive or negative impact on plastic resin prices and the Company's profitability. Resin costs have continued to increase in 2005 and we expect that costs in the remainder of 2005 will exceed costs incurred during 2004. While we will make every effort to recover the higher cost of plastic resin, there is no assurance that future resin cost increases can be passed on to customers.

The Company currently manufactures a significant portion of its laundry products in the U.S. Management believes that the Company's current manufacturing structure provides increased flexibility to meet customer needs. All of the Company's major laundry competitors rely heavily on foreign sourced products. Such products are produced in several countries, including a significant portion from China. Over the past few years, these foreign sourced competitive products were introduced at selling prices below ours. This has caused our profit margins and market share to decline. We have initiated many cost cutting and other steps to protect our market share and profit margins. We are also aggressively pursuing the increased importation of certain laundry products. We will continue to analyze the competitiveness of our North American based laundry manufacturing operations. In addition, the Company filed an action with the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) and the U.S. Department of Commerce (Department of Commerce) on June 30, 2003 seeking relief from a surge in the importation of unfairly priced Chinese ironing boards. On July 15, 2004, the ITC unanimously determined that the U.S. ironing board industry was facing material injury as a result of the importation of unfairly priced ironing boards from China. The ITC's action resulted in the issuance of an antidumping duty order by the Secretary of Commerce in early August, followed by the collection of antidumping duties on Chinese imports. The ITC's decision follows a June 16, 2004 determination by the Department of Commerce that ironing boards imported from China are sold in the United States at less than fair value. On August 6, 2004, the Department of Commerce assigned revised dumping margins ranging from 9.47 percent to 157.68 percent. As necessary, the Company will vigorously defend or otherwise support the antidumping order, which may require it to devote financial and other resources, including management time and legal expenses.

The Company's three largest customers all have unique aspects that require additional packaging, handling and technical support. Distribution systems are constantly evolving as retailers search for additional costs to remove from the distribution system. A coming technology is radio frequency identification (RFID) which attaches a computer chip to each product. This chip gives off a radio signal that can be tracked by the retailer for inventory and sale purposes. RFID has the potential to replace current bar code technology. Wal-Mart has indicated that vendors should prepare for a conversion to RFID technology over the next one to two years. The cost to transition to RFID is unknown but is expected to be significant.

The Company's Amended Loan Agreement takes into account seasonal fluctuations and changes to the Company's collateral base. Because the financing is asset based, availability of funds to borrow is dependent on the quality of the Company's asset base, primarily its receivables and inventory. Should the lender determine that such assets do not meet the bank's credit tests, availability can be restricted. Given the Company's retail customer base, it is possible that certain customers could be excluded from the asset base thus reducing credit availability.

In an environment where customers largely control selling prices and vendors largely control raw material costs, sustained profitability and cash flow is a challenging goal. We will continue to focus on controlling our costs of production and holding operating expenses to below industry levels. We also intend to continue to develop new products and categories, as management believes that such items have a better opportunity for reasonable profit margins. Given the declining profitability of certain products and the increasing cost of raw materials, we have announced selective price increases. The success of these price increases is predicated on the competitive market place. If such price increases are not successfully implemented, certain products will be discontinued.

Given the Company's line of credit availability, management may from time-to-time look at opportunities to buy its high-yield bonds. A buyback might be done if such transactions are accretive to shareholders through either a reduction of interest expense or a buyback of bonds at a discount.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This amended annual report on Form 10-K/A, including, but not limited to, General Development of Business, Properties, Legal Proceedings and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the safe-harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements generally may be identified by the use of terminology such as may, will, could, should, potential, continue, expect, intend, plan, estimate, similar phrases or the negatives of such terms. Such statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including those identified below and in the foregoing Business Risks and Management Outlook, as well as other matters not yet known to the Company or not currently considered material by the Company, which could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. Such factors and uncertainties include, but are not limited to:

general economic conditions and conditions in the retail environment

the Company's dependence on a few large customers

price fluctuations in the raw materials used by the Company, particularly plastic resin competitive conditions in the Company's markets

the impact of the level of the Company's indebtedness restrictive covenants contained in the Company's various debt documents

the seasonal nature of the Company's business

Table of Contents

the extent to which the Company is able to retain and attract key personnel relationships with retailers

the impact of federal, state and local environmental requirements (including the impact of current or future environmental claims against the Company)

our ability to develop and introduce new products and product modifications necessary to remain competitive

other factors discussed in Business Risks and Management Outlook above

Given these risks and uncertainties, investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements do not guarantee future performance. The Company's operating results may fluctuate, especially when measured on a quarterly basis. The Company undertakes no obligation to republish revised forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events. Readers are also urged to carefully review and consider the various disclosures made by the Company in this report and in the Company's periodic reports on Forms 10-K, 10-Q and 8-K (and any amendments there to) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such reports attempt to advise interested parties of the factors that affect the Company's business.

Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk.

The Company is exposed to market risks from changes in interest rates and commodity based raw materials (primarily resin, steel and fabric).

Interest Rate Risk. The Company's Loan and Security Agreement is LIBOR-based and is subject to interest rate movements. A 10% increase or decrease in the average interest rate on the Company's variable rate debt would result in a change in pretax interest expense of approximately $0.1 million, based upon borrowings outstanding at January 1, 2005.

Commodity Risk. The Company is subject to price fluctuations in commodity based raw materials such as plastic resin, steel and grieg fabric. Changes in the cost of these materials may have a significant impact on the Company's operating results. The cost of these items is affected by many factors outside of the Company's control and changes to the current trends are possible. See Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and Management Outlook and Business Risks above.

The Company has entered into a commitment to purchase certain core commodities. The agreement expires in December 2005. Future related minimum purchase commitments, assuming February 2005 price levels, are $14.5 million in 2005.

Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data.

The following pages contain the Financial Statements and Supplementary Data as specified by Item 8 of Part II of Form 10-K, as amended.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Home Products International, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Home Products International, Inc. and subsidiary (the Company) as of January 1, 2005 and December 27, 2003, and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit) and cash flows for each of the fiscal years in the three-year period ended January 1, 2005. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Home Products International, Inc. and subsidiary as of January 1, 2005 and December 27, 2003, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the fiscal years in the three-year period ended January 1, 2005, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

As discussed in Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company's consolidated financial statements as of and for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005 have been restated.

HOME PRODUCTS INTERNATIONAL, INC.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(in thousands, except share and per share amounts)

Note 1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Home Products International, Inc. (the Company), based in Chicago, Illinois, is a leading designer, manufacturer and marketer of a broad range of value-priced, quality consumer housewares products. The Company's products are marketed principally through mass market trade channels in the United States and internationally.

Fiscal Year.

The Company reports on a 52/53 week fiscal year basis concluding on the Saturday nearest to December 31. References to 2004 are for the fifty-three weeks ended January 1, 2005, 2003 is for the fifty-two weeks ended December 27, 2003 and 2002 is for the fifty-two weeks ended December 28, 2002.

Principles of Consolidation.

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary (Home Products International North America, Inc.). All significant intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated in consolidation.

Reclassifications.

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation.

Use of Estimates.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions. Such estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses as well as the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition.

The Company recognizes revenues and freight billed to customers upon shipment and after the transfer of all substantial risks of ownership. The point at which the transfer of ownership occurs is determined by the shipping terms. Allowances for estimated returns, discounts and retailer programs are recognized as a reduction of sales when the related sales are recorded and are based on various market data, historical trends and information from customers. Although the best available information is used to establish the allowances, such information is often based on estimates of retailer recovery rates. Retailer recovery can sometimes take up to several years depending on the particular program. Allowances are reviewed quarterly and are adjusted based on current estimates of retailer recovery. Due to changes in estimates, changes in retailer activity and the length of time required for many programs to run their course, it is possible for reserve activity to impact earnings in either a positive or negative manner in any given period.

Cash and Cash Equivalents.

The Company considers all highly liquid, short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less, to be cash equivalents.

Table of ContentsAccounts Receivable and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts.

The Company carries its accounts receivable at their face amounts less an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company periodically evaluates the collectibility of its accounts receivable based upon an analysis of historical trends, aging of accounts receivable, write-off experience and credit evaluations of selected high risk customers. Delinquent accounts are written off to selling, general and administrative expense when circumstances make further collection unlikely. In the event of a specific customer bankruptcy or reorganization, specific allowances are established to write down accounts receivable to the level of anticipated recovery. The Company may consult with third-party purchasers of bankruptcy receivables when establishing specific allowances.

Inventories.

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value with cost determined on a first in, first out (FIFO) basis.

Property, Plant and Equipment.

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is charged against results of operations over the estimated service lives of the related assets. Improvements to leased property are amortized over the life of the lease or the life of the improvement, whichever is shorter. For financial reporting purposes, the Company uses the straight-line method of depreciation. For tax purposes, the Company uses accelerated methods where permitted.

The Company capitalizes certain costs related to the purchase and development of software used in the business. Such assets are amortized over their estimated useful lives, ranging from 2 to 5 years.

The estimated service lives for financial statement purposes of the property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Buildings	30 years
Building under capital lease	lease term
Machinery, equipment and vehicles	3 - 8 years
Tools, dies and molds	2 - 5 years
Furniture, fixtures, office equipment, software and computer equipment	2 - 8 years
Leasehold improvements	remaining lease term

Goodwill, Patents and Non-Compete Agreements.

Goodwill represents the cost of business acquisitions in excess of the fair value of identifiable net tangible and intangible assets acquired. In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets , effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. Under this rule, goodwill and intangible assets deemed to have indefinite lives are no longer amortized but are subject to impairment tests, at least annually, in accordance with the SFAS No. 142 (See Note 7 Goodwill and Patents and Non-Compete Agreements).

Covenants not to compete are amortized on a straight-line basis over the terms of the respective agreements. Patents and trademarks acquired and licensing agreements are amortized over their estimated useful lives ranging from seven to fourteen years.

Long-Lived Assets.

The Company reviews long-lived assets, including fixed assets and intangible assets with definitive lives (patents and non-compete agreements) for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The Company follows the guidance provided by SFAS No. 144,

Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable.

Income Taxes.

The Company uses the asset and liability method of SFAS No. 109 in accounting for income taxes. Under this method deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, tax credits and operating loss carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

SFAS No. 109 requires that a valuation allowance be established when it is more likely than not that all or a portion of deferred tax assets will not be realized. A review of all available positive and negative evidence needs to be considered, including historical earnings and projected operating results, applicable net operating loss carryforward expiration dates, and identified actions under the control of the Company in realizing the associated carryforward benefits. SFAS No. 109 further states that forming a conclusion that a valuation allowance is not needed is difficult when there is negative evidence such as cumulative losses in recent years and current operating losses.

The Company expects to provide a full valuation allowance on future tax benefits until an appropriate level of profitability is sustained. Until an appropriate level of profitability is reached, the Company does not expect to recognize any significant tax benefits in future results of operations. See Note 13. Income Taxes below for additional information.

Research and Development.

Research and development costs are expensed as incurred and amounted to approximately $713 in 2004, $900 in 2003 and $900 in 2002. These costs are classified as selling and marketing in the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments.

Cash Equivalents, Accounts Receivable and Accounts Payable The carrying amounts approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these instruments.

Variable Rate Debt Revolving line of credit is pursuant to floating rate instruments whose carrying amounts approximate fair value.

Long-term Debt The fair value of the Company's long-term debt issued under the senior subordinated notes (see Note 10 for additional information) was approximately $95,161 at January 1, 2005 and approximately $75,400 at December 27, 2003, based on quoted market prices.

Stock Options and Restricted Stock Plans.

SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation encourages companies to adopt a fair value approach to valuing stock-based compensation that would require compensation cost to be recognized based upon the fair value of the stock-based instrument issued. The Company has elected, as permitted by SFAS No. 123, to apply the provisions of Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25 Accounting for Stock Based Compensation and the related interpretations in accounting for stock option awards under the stock option plans. Under APB Opinion No. 25, compensation expense is recognized if the market price on the date of grant exceeds the exercise price. All options granted by the Company have been granted at the market price of stock on the date of grant. The fair value of these stock options was estimated at the date of grant using a Black-Scholes option pricing model. The following table shows the effect on net earnings (loss) and net earnings (loss) per share if the Company had applied the fair value recognition provision of SFAS No. 123.

No stock options were granted in 2004 or 2003. Stock options were granted in 2002 and the fair value of the option grant is estimated on the date of the grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following assumptions: dividend yield of 0.00%; stock price volatility factor of 74%; weighted-average expected life of 5 years; weighted-average fair value of options granted-stock price equals grant price of $2.64; and weighted-average risk-free interest rate of 4.5%.

Recent Accounting Standards.

In December 2003, the FASB published a revision to Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities (FIN 46R), to clarify some of the provisions of the original interpretation, and to exempt certain entities from its requirements. Under the revised guidance, there are new effective dates for companies that have interests in structures that are commonly referred to as special-purpose entities. The rules are effective in financial statements for periods ending after March 15, 2004. FIN 46R did not have any impact on our operating results or financial position because we do not have any variable interest entities.

In November 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 151 Inventory Costs - An Amendment of ARB No. 43, Chapter 4 (FAS 151). FAS 151 clarifies that abnormal amounts of idle facility expense, freight, handling costs and spoilage should be expensed as incurred and not included in overhead. Further, FAS 151 requires that allocation of fixed and production facilities overheads to conversion costs should be based on normal capacity of the production facilities. The provisions in Statement 151 are effective for inventory costs incurred during fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2005. We do not believe that the adoption of FAS 151 will have a significant effect on our financial statements.

Table of Contents

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS Statement No. 123 (revised) (SFAS(R)) Share-Based Payment. SFAS 123(R) requires all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options, to be recognized in the financial statements based on their fair values (i.e., pro forma disclosure is no longer an alternative to financial statement recognition). The Statement is effective at the beginning of the first interim period after June 15, 2005 and supersedes APB No. 25. The Company expects to adopt the provisions of the new standard effective July 1, 2005. The Company is currently evaluating the adoption alternatives and is assessing the impact on its results of operations and financial position. The pro forma expense relating to options issued and valued under the Black-Scholes model is disclosed in the table above.

Note 2. Restatement

This Amendment No. 1 to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005 restates the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005 and each of the interim periods in fiscal year 2004.

Historically, the Company has accounted for its deferred income taxes related to goodwill as a reversing taxable temporary difference. During fiscal year 2004, the Company's temporary difference related to goodwill became a liability as the tax basis of goodwill became lower than the book basis due to the continued amortization of goodwill for tax purposes. Pursuant to SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the deferred tax liability related to the Company's goodwill must be considered as a liability related to an asset with an indefinite life. Therefore, the deferred tax liability was not available to support the realization of deferred tax assets created by other deductible temporary differences. Given the Company's determination that, based on cumulative historical operating losses, it was more likely than not that its deferred tax assets would not be realized, this unavailability to offset has resulted in the creation of a deferred tax liability and an additional tax expense in respect of the resulting increase in the deferred tax asset valuation allowance. These restatement adjustments were non-cash and had no effect on operating cash flows nor on the Company's compliance with its debt covenants.

As a result of the deferred tax liability restatement, income tax expense in fiscal year 2004 increased by approximately $2,852 (approximately $713 per quarter in 2004). Loss per share on a diluted basis increased by approximately $0.36 in fiscal 2004 (approximately $0.09 per quarter in 2004). This adjustment increased the deferred tax liability in the consolidated balance sheet by $2,852 at January 1, 2005. (See item (a) for adjustments by year and quarter).

In connection with the second quarter of fiscal year 2005 close process, the Company identified a lease agreement that contained escalating rental payments that were not appropriately straight-lined over the lease term in accordance with the requirements of SFAS No. 13, Accounting for Leases and FASB Technical Bulletin No. 85-3, Accounting for Operating Leases with Scheduled Rent Increases. Accordingly, the Company is required to record a rent deferral within other liabilities for the excess of the straight-line rental expense over the rental payments made to date. As a result of the lease accounting adjustment, cost of goods sold in fiscal year 2004 increased by approximately $250. Loss per share on a fully diluted basis increased by approximately $0.03. This adjustment increased other liabilities on the consolidated balance sheet by approximately $250 at January 1, 2005. (See item (b) for adjustments by year and quarter).

The Company also identified two adjustments related to the accounting for its Mexico subsidiary. The first adjustment related to an error in translating fixed asset additions and recording depreciation expense where the Company understated depreciation expense on the fixed assets of the Mexico operation and the second adjustment related to management's inappropriate use of the Mexican Peso as its functional currency for the Mexico operation. As a result of these adjustments, cost of goods sold increased by approximately $233 and other income increased by $10 in fiscal year 2004. Loss per share on a fully diluted basis increased by approximately $0.03 due to these adjustments.

These adjustments increased property, plant and equipment by $58 and accumulated depreciation by $233 and reduced accumulated other comprehensive loss by $48 on the consolidated balance sheet at January 1, 2005. (See item (c) for adjustments by year and quarter).

The impact of the lease accounting and Mexican subsidiary adjustments was not material to the interim periods of fiscal year 2004 and prior periods. Accordingly, the restated results for the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2004 included an amount of $388 in respect of these prior periods.

Following is a summary of the effects of these changes on the Company's previously issued consolidated balance sheets as January 1, 2005 and as of the end of each of the interim periods in fiscal year 2004 and the effects of these changes on the Company's consolidated statements of operations and cash flows for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005 and for each of the interim periods in fiscal year 2004:

Note 3. Shareholder Transaction

Throughout 2004, a special committee of the Company's independent directors considered proposals for the acquisition of the Company's outstanding common shares.

On June 2, 2004, the Company executed an Agreement and Plan of Merger, by and between the Company and JRT Acquisition, Inc. ("JRT"), as amended by that certain First Amendment to Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated October 11, 2004 (the "JRT Agreement"). Pursuant to the terms of the JRT Agreement, JRT, an entity formed by James R. Tennant, who at the time was the Company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, was to merge with and into the Company, and each outstanding share of the Company's common stock was to be exchanged for the right to receive $1.50 in cash.

On October 28, 2004, the Company and Storage Acquisition Company, L.L.C., a Delaware limited liability company (the Acquirer), entered into an Acquisition Agreement (the Acquisition Agreement) under which the Acquirer was to make a tender offer for 100% of the Company's common stock for $2.25 per share in cash (the Acquisition). Before entering into the Acquisition Agreement, pursuant to the terms of the JRT Agreement, the Company and JRT terminated the JRT Agreement pursuant to a Termination Agreement, to enable the Company to enter into the Acquisition Agreement. As provided in the JRT Agreement, the Company was obligated to reimburse JRT up to a maximum of $550 in expenses related to the JRT Agreement. The Company reimbursed JRT a total of $499.

On December 13, 2004, the Acquirer and the Company jointly announced that the Acquirer had completed its tender offer for the outstanding shares of common stock (including the associated preferred stock purchase rights) of the Company for $2.25 per share, net to the seller, in cash without interest. Collectively, the process that led to the offer by JRT, the Acquisition Agreement and the completion of the tender offer is referred to herein as the Shareholder Transaction.

In connection with the Shareholder Transaction, the Company incurred costs during 2004 totaling $9,071. These costs included legal and investment banking fees, severance and retention expenses, financial printer costs and other related costs that were triggered by the Shareholder Transaction. A breakdown of these costs are as follows:

Legal and Investment banker fees	$ 4,920
Severance and change of control retention agreements	3,136
Director and officer tail insurance policy	747
Financial printer costs	147
Other related costs	121
Total	 $ 9,071

On December 15, 2004 the Company's common stock was delisted and is no longer trading on the NASDAQ SmallCap Market. Following the delisting, it is unlikely that the Company's shares will be traded on the over-the-counter bulletin board, or that price quotations will be reported through any other sources. In addition, the Company has suspended its reporting obligations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, effective as of March 15, 2005.

Notwithstanding the suspension of its obligation to file periodic financial reports, by the terms of the Company's indenture governing its 9-5/8% Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008, the Company is required to voluntarily file the same annual, periodic and current reports that it was previously required to file as an SEC registrant so long as the indenture covenants remain in effect (the notes issued under the indenture have a stated maturity date of May 14, 2008).

Note 4. Eagan Shutdown

On July 29, 2003, the Company announced its intention to close its Eagan, Minnesota manufacturing and warehouse facility in January 2004 (Eagan Shutdown). The facility was exited on January 31, 2004. The Eagan, Minnesota facility was closed as part of an effort to reduce operating costs and utilize capacity in the Company's other injection molding plants. The Company terminated approximately 130 hourly and salaried employees as part of the Eagan Shutdown.

During 2004 and 2003, the Company incurred $804 and $1,701, respectively, of Eagan Shutdown charges. These charges related to costs associated with the Eagan, Minnesota plant closure, employee severance, costs associated with the relocation of equipment and inventory, employee related fringe benefits and accelerated depreciation of property, plant and equipment that was sold or abandoned upon exit of the facility in January 2004. During 2004 a benefit of $103 was recorded as a result of a change in management estimates related to employee separation costs. Eagan Shutdown charges incurred during 2004 and 2003 are included in cost of goods sold in the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

The following tables reflect the changes in the accrual during 2004 and 2003 associated with the Eagan Shutdown. The accrual is included in accrued liabilities on the Company's consolidated balance sheets.

Table of ContentsNote 5. Special, Restructuring and Other Charges Update

During 2000 and 2001, the Company implemented a restructuring plan to reduce fixed costs and better position the Company for sustained profitability. The restructuring plan entailed the closure of the Leominster, Massachusetts manufacturing and warehouse facilities, reconfiguration of remaining manufacturing facilities, a reduction in headcount and a realignment of the selling process. The restructuring charges were accounted for under EITF No. 94-3. The Company identified a total of 124 hourly and salaried Leominster employees to be terminated in accordance with the 2001 restructuring initiatives. All planned restructuring initiatives were completed in 2001.

On a quarterly and annual basis, the Company reviews remaining accrual balances related to these actions and adjusts them to its best estimate of remaining cost.

The following tables reflect the changes in the accrual during 2004, 2003 and 2002 associated with the restructuring actions of 2001 and 2000. This accrual is included in accrued liabilities on the Company's consolidated balance sheets.

2004 Activity

A change in management's estimates resulted in the recognition of $103 of income in the fourth quarter of 2004. The $103 of income was recorded as Restructuring and Other, Net in the Company's consolidated statement of operations.

2003 Activity

A change in management's estimates resulted in the recognition of $1,245 of income in the fourth quarter of 2003. The income was related to the reversal of reserves established for excess capacity costs. In the fourth quarter of 2003, it was determined that such excess capacity would be needed to accommodate our plastics business. The $ 1,245 of income was recorded as Restructuring and Other, Net in the Company's consolidated statement of operations.

Note 8. Goodwill and Patents and Non-Compete Agreements

Goodwill relates to the excess of purchase price over the fair value of tangible assets acquired. Goodwill is tested at least annually for impairment or more often if an event or changes in circumstance indicates that an impairment loss has been incurred. During the fourth quarter of 2004 and 2003, the Company performed its annual impairment test, which indicated that the Company's goodwill was not impaired.

The change in the carrying amount of goodwill for the fifty-three weeks ended January 1, 2005 is as follows:

	Total
Balance at December 27, 2003	$ 73,752
Resolution of tax contingencies	(570)
Balance at January 1, 2005	$ 73,182

During the second quarter of 2004, the carrying amount of goodwill was decreased by $570 as a result of the resolution of tax contingencies arising in connection with prior year acquisitions. The resolution was a result of the closing of certain tax years.

Patents and non-compete agreements are amortized over their useful lives, and are evaluated annually to determine whether events or changes in circumstances warrant a revision to the remaining period of amortization. For patents that remain subject to amortization provisions, amortization expense will approximate $100 for 2005.

Patents and non-compete agreements consist of the following:

	Average Life (Yrs.)	Gross Carrying Amount	January 1, 2005
			Accumulated Amortization	Net Carrying Amount
Amortized intangible assets:
Patents	7 to 14	$ 1,008	$ (908)	$ 100

Loan and security agreement, variable rate, due December 13, 2008

On December 14, 2004, the Company and Fleet Capital Corporation (Fleet Capital), as its sole lender, entered into an Amended and Restated Loan and Security Agreement (the Amended Loan Agreement) to accommodate operations subsequent to the Shareholder Transaction. The changes within the Amended Loan Agreement included an increase in the line of credit from $50 million to $60 million, an extension of the term of the agreement by 9 months to December 13, 2008, a reduction of applicable interest rates by 25 basis points and a reduction of the minimum excess availability requirement from $9.2 million to $5 million. The covenants restricting changes of ownership and changes of control of the Company have been revised to reflect the new ownership structure of the Company following the Shareholder Transaction. The Company s Amended Loan Agreement contains one financial covenant pertaining to a minimum cash interest coverage ratio. The cash interest coverage ratio must be no lower than 1.0 at the end of 2004 at which point the ratio begins a quarterly increase until it reaches 1.25 in June 2005. The Amended Loan Agreement is secured by all of the Company s assets. Borrowings are limited to the lesser of $60,000 or a specified percentage of the collateralized asset base. Borrowings under the Amended Loan Agreement bear interest at an annual rate, at the option of the Company, of either (i) prime plus a margin of 0.25%-0.75%, or (ii) LIBOR plus a margin 2.00%-2.50%. The interest rate margins are adjusted quarterly based on the Company's borrowing levels. At January 1, 2005 interest rate margins were 0.50% and 2.25% and at December 27, 2003 the interest rate margins were 0.25% and 2.25%. The Company must pay a quarterly fee ranging from 0.25%-0.50%, based upon the unused portion of the available credit line. The Amended Loan Agreement also contains sub-limits of up to $8,000 for letters of credit. The Amended Loan Agreement requires the Company to maintain a dominion account pursuant to a lockbox arrangement, which Fleet Capital shall have sole and exclusive access and control for withdrawal purposes.

Senior Subordinated Notes, 9.625%, due 2008

On May 14, 1998, the Company issued $125,000 of 9.625% Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008 (the Notes) in a public offering. Interest on the Notes is payable semi-annually on May 15 and November 15. The Notes are guaranteed by the Company's subsidiary (see Note 21). After May 15, 2003, at the option of the Company, the Notes may be redeemed at various amounts as set forth in the Notes, but not at a price less than 100% of par value. Upon the occurrence of a change in control, as defined in the Notes, the holders of the Notes have the right to require the Company to repurchase their Notes at a price equal to 101% of par value plus accrued interest. The Company does not believe that a change in control, as defined in the Company's indenture governing the Notes, occurred in connection with the Shareholder Transaction due to the structure of such transaction. The Notes contain certain restrictions that, among other things, will limit the Company's ability to (i) incur additional indebtedness unless certain financial ratios are met, (ii) pay dividends, (iii) make certain asset dispositions or (iv) merge with another corporation. The Company was in compliance with all covenants related to the Notes as of January 1, 2005 and December 27, 2003.

During the third quarter of 2003, the Company's Board of Directors authorized the buyback of up to $15,000 of the Company's outstanding Notes. During the third quarter of 2003 the Company purchased and retired Notes with a face value of $3,500, at a cost of $2,550. During the fourth quarter of 2003 the Company purchased Notes with a face value of $5,450 at a cost of $4,006. The total gain of $2,258 on the bond buybacks was recorded as other income in the Company's 2003 consolidated statement of operations.

Total Notes outstanding were $116,050 as of January 1, 2005 and December 27, 2003.

Capital lease obligations

Capital lease obligations include: (i) a lease agreement between the Company's subsidiary and the Trusts (See Note 16 for a description of related parties and definition of Trusts) for a manufacturing and warehouse facility as well as the Company's corporate offices; and (ii) various equipment lease agreements. Lease payments to the Trusts for buildings were $939, $922 and $909 in 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively, and lease payments for machinery and equipment in 2004, 2003 and 2002 were $22, $36 and $36, respectively.

The following schedule shows future minimum lease payments together with the present value of the payments for all capital lease obligations.

Note 12. Operating Leases

As further stated in Note 2, the 2004 consolidated financial statements have been restated to correct the accounting for operating leases.

The Company leases certain manufacturing, warehouse space, office facilities and machinery under non-cancelable operating leases, expiring at various dates through 2009. A lease covering one of the properties contains a rent escalation clause.

Future minimum lease payments under all non-cancelable operating leases as of January 1, 2005 are as follows:

Fiscal years:
2005	$ 4,787
2006	3,941
2007	3,822
2008	3,797

Rent expense totaled $5,884, $6,851 and $6,723 for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Note 13. Income Taxes

As further stated in Note 2, the 2004 consolidated financial statements have been restated to correct the accounting for deferred income taxes.

Significant components of the Company's deferred tax items as of 2004 and 2003 are as follows:

The Company has gross U.S. federal net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $68,247 which will begin to expire in years 2010 through 2024. The completion of the Shareholder Transaction on December 13, 2004 constituted an ownership change under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the use of any of the Company's net operating loss carryforwards generated prior to the ownership change is subject to certain limitations. The utilization of such remaining net operating losses is subject to an annual limitation of approximately $700. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of the net built-in gain on this limitation. As a result, a certain portion of the net operating losses will expire before they can be utilized.

During 2004, the Company recorded non-cash deferred income tax expense of $2,852. This charge was required because the Company currently has a significant deferred tax liability related to goodwill with a lower tax than book basis as a result of continued amortization of goodwill for tax purposes. Following the adoption of SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the deferred tax liability related to the Company's goodwill must be considered as a liability related to an asset with an indefinite life which can no longer support the realization of deferred tax assets. Historically, the Company did not need a valuation allowance as the book basis of goodwill was lower than the tax basis. This was the result of a goodwill impairment charge which was recorded in fiscal year 2000. In 2004, the continued amortization of goodwill for tax purposes has resulted in a lower tax basis than book basis. Therefore, the Company has recorded an additional income tax provision to increase its deferred tax valuation allowance. In the future, the Company will increase the valuation allowance with a corresponding deferred tax provision as the deferred tax liability related to the goodwill amortization increases.

SFAS No. 109 requires that a valuation allowance be established when it is more likely than not that all or a portion of deferred tax assets will not be realized. A review of all available positive and negative evidence needs to be considered, including historical earnings and projected operating results, applicable net operating loss carryforward expiration dates, and identified actions under the control of the Company in realizing the associated carryforward benefits. SFAS No. 109 further states that forming a conclusion that a valuation allowance is not needed is difficult when there is negative evidence such as cumulative losses in recent years and current operating losses. Therefore, cumulative and current operating losses weigh heavily in the overall assessment. The Company determined that based on cumulative historical operating losses, it was more likely than not that the deferred tax assets as of January 1, 2005 and December 27, 2003 would not be realized. During 2004 and 2003 the Company continued to maintain a full valuation allowance on the tax benefits generated by net operating losses and expects to provide a full valuation allowance on future tax benefits until an appropriate level of profitability is sustained. At January 1, 2005 and December 26, 2004 the Company recorded a valuation allowance of $ 34,793 and $ 32,148 respectively, representing an increase of $ 2,645.

During 2003, the net increase in the valuation allowance was $9,525, of which $7,766 was to establish a full valuation on the Company's 2002 net deferred tax assets and $1,759 was due to 2003 net operating losses. As of December 27, 2003, the Company had a valuation allowance for deferred tax assets of $32,148.

During 2002, the net decrease in the valuation allowance was $6,126, of which $515 was due to a reversal which reduced goodwill. The remainder of the decrease, $5,611 was due to 2002 taxable earnings. During 1998 a valuation allowance in the amount of $4,257 was recorded through purchase accounting against a majority of the net operating loss obtained in the Seymour Acquisition. The valuation allowance was established during 1998 due to the limited amount of the Seymour Acquisition net operating loss carryforward that can be utilized each year. The Company has since utilized a portion of the net operating loss carryforward and as a result the Company reversed $515 of the valuation allowance against goodwill during 2002.

The components of the provision for federal, foreign and state income taxes is as follows:

(1) During the fourth quarter of 2003 the Company recognized a one-time tax benefit of $820 from the reversal of accrued income taxes which were a result of the closing of certain tax years.

Note 14. Stock Based Compensation Plans

On December 15, 2004 the Company's common stock was delisted and is no longer traded on the NASDAQ SmallCap Market. In connection with the Shareholder Transaction, the Company terminated its stock purchase plan which had allowed employees to purchase shares of the Company's common stock through payroll deductions.

During the fourth quarter of 2000, the Board of Directors of the Company elected to offer certain senior executive officers the opportunity to cancel outstanding stock options and convert such canceled options into restricted stock (the Agreement). Senior executive officers cancelled options to purchase 1,035,600 shares of the Company's Common Stock. Under the Agreement, 427,500 shares of the Company's Common Stock were issued as restricted stock in the fourth quarter of 2000. The restriction on the shares lapsed in October 2003. The Company recorded compensation expense related to the issuance of restricted stock during 2003 and 2002 of $170, and $227, respectively.

On May 19, 1999, the shareholders of the Company approved the 1999 Performance Incentive Plan (the 1999 Plan). In addition to allowing the grant of stock options, the 1999 Plan has provisions for granting key employees and certain key nonemployees stock appreciation rights, restricted stock, performance grants and other stock based grants. All stock option grants are authorized by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. All options granted subsequent to December 1997 have vesting periods ranging from 30 to 48 months. Options granted prior to December 1997 vested over a five-year period.

In connection with the Shareholder Transaction a stock option cancellation agreement (Agreement) was entered into by and among the Company, Acquirer, and certain individuals who signed the Agreement as Optionee (the Optionee). In total, 489,516 stock options were cancelled. In consideration for the cancellation of each outstanding stock option, the Optionee was paid an amount for each share subject to such cancelled stock option equal to the excess of the offer price of $2.25 (Offer Price) over the per share exercise price of such stock option (the Per Share Cancellation Payment), less all applicable tax withholding. Pursuant to the Acquisition Agreement, Acquirer provided the Company with $266 to fund the cancellation of outstanding stock options granted by the Company having exercise prices of less than $2.25 per share.

The maximum number of shares of common stock that may be granted under the 1999 Performance Incentive Plan and prior stock option plans (Stock Option Plans) is 2,475,000. Shares available for future grant amounted to 1,155,763, 913,963 and 870,163 as of January 1, 2005, December 27, 2003 and December 28, 2002, respectively.

A summary of the transactions in the Stock Option Plans is as follows:

Earnings per common share basic is computed based on the weighted average number of outstanding common shares. Earnings per common share diluted includes the weighted average effect of dilutive options, warrants and restricted stock on the weighted average shares outstanding. In 2004 and 2003 stock options and warrants to purchase the Company's common stock totaling 252,104 and 983,420, respectively, were not included in the net loss per share diluted since their impact would have been anti-dilutive.

Note 16. Benefit Plans

The Company provides a profit sharing and savings plan (including a 401(k) plan) to which both the Company and eligible employees may contribute. Company contributions to the savings plan are voluntary and at the discretion of the Board of Directors. The Company matches the employee 401(k) plan contributions with certain limitations. The total Company contributions to both plans are limited to the maximum deductible amount under the Federal income tax law.

The Company provides retirement plans for its employees covered under collective bargaining agreements. The amount of the Company contribution is determined by the respective collective bargaining agreement.

The contributions to all the profit sharing, savings, and retirement plans for 2004, 2003 and 2002 were $451, $656 and $1,195, respectively.

In 2003 the Company closed its Eagan, Minnesota plant. As a result profit sharing, savings and retirement plan accruals were no longer required and $741 was reversed to income during the fourth quarter of 2003.

Note 17. Related Party Transactions

Mr. Jeffrey Rubenstein, a former director of the Company, is the executor and trustee of certain estates and trusts (the Trusts) which lease a facility to the Company. In addition, Mr. Rubenstein is a partner in a law firm that until December 14, 2004 was the Company's primary outside general counsel. Mr. Rubenstein was responsible for overseeing all legal work performed by the law firm on the Company's behalf. Mr. Rubenstein had been a director since September 1986 until his resignation on November 7, 2003. Until his resignation, Mr. Rubenstein was also a member of the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. Until August 13, 2002, Mr. Rubenstein was also a member of the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. Payments made to the law firm were $204 in 2004, $150 in 2003 and $331 in 2002.

The Trusts own the Company's Chicago headquarters, manufacturing and distribution facility. The Company leases the facility from the Trusts under a lease that expires in July 2020. The Company has options to extend the lease as well as an option to purchase the facility. The lease was last amended in October 1998. The Board of Directors has approved the lease and its amendments. Lease payments made to the Trusts were $939 in 2004, $922 in 2003 and $909 in 2002.

The Company believes that the terms of all transactions with the law firm and the Trusts are at arms length. The Company has adopted a policy to conduct an appropriate review of all related party transactions for potential conflict of interest situations on an ongoing basis and to require all such related party transactions to be approved by the Company's audit committee.

Note 18. Commitments and Contingencies

The Company has entered into a commitment to purchase certain core commodities at formula-based prices. The agreement expires in December 2005. Future related minimum purchase commitments, assuming February 2005 price levels, are $14,500 in 2005.

The Company is party to various claims, legal actions and complaints including product liability litigation, arising in the ordinary course of business. In the opinion of management, all such matters are adequately covered by insurance or will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

On June 3, 2004, a complaint was filed in the Court of Chancery for the State of Delaware against the Company, our board of directors and JRT. The complaint purports to be filed by a stockholder and alleges that in entering into the JRT Agreement, our board of directors breached their fiduciary duties of loyalty, due care and good faith. The complaint, which includes a request for a declaration that the action be maintained as a class action, seeks, among other relief, injunctive relief enjoining the transaction from being consummated. On January

On June 4, 2004, a complaint was filed in the Chancery Division of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois against the Company and our directors. The complaint purports to be filed by a stockholder and alleges that in entering into the JRT Agreement, our board of directors breached their fiduciary duties of loyalty, due care, independence, good faith and fair dealing. The complaint, which includes a request for a declaration that the action be maintained as a class action, seeks, among other relief, injunctive relief enjoining the transaction from being consummated. The Company and our board of directors believe the complaint is without merit and intend to vigorously contest this lawsuit. If class certification is granted it is possible that the outcome could have a material adverse effect on the operating results, financial position and cash flows of the Company. There is not sufficient information to estimate the Company's exposure at this time.

Note 19. Insurance Claims

On September 23, 2003, the Company's Reynosa, Mexico facility sustained damage due to a fire. The Company's insurance coverage provided for the reimbursement of certain costs and losses incurred to rebuild, repair and replace the damaged property and equipment. As a result, the Company received $3,512 in proceeds related to the settlement of the insurance claim. The Company reinvested a portion of the proceeds of this settlement in like kind assets (as defined by the Internal Revenue Code). The balance of the proceeds received, $636, has been recorded as a reduction to costs of goods sold in the Company's 2004 consolidated statement of operations.

During 2004, the Company filed an insurance claim for losses sustained as a result of an injection molding machine malfunction, which occurred on March 23, 2004 at the Company's Louisiana, MO facility. The Company's insurance coverage provided for the reimbursement of certain costs and losses incurred to rebuild and repair damaged property and equipment. The Company received $1,518 in proceeds related to the reimbursement of certain costs and losses. The Company reinvested a portion of the proceeds of this settlement in like kind assets. The remaining proceeds received, $606, had been recorded as a reduction to costs of goods sold in the Company's 2004 consolidated statement of operations.

Note 20. Segment of an Enterprise

The Company consists of a single operating segment that designs, manufactures and markets quality consumer housewares products. This segmentation is based on the financial information presented to the chief operating decision maker. The following table sets forth the net sales by product category within the Company's single operating segment.

Item 9. Changes in and Disagreements with Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

None.

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures

The Company's management, with the participation of its Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, have reviewed and evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures, as required by Rule 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act) as of January 1, 2005. The Company's disclosure controls and procedures should be designed to reasonably assure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including its Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding disclosure and is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms.

Based upon the results of that evaluation, the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that, as of January 1, 2005, the end of the period covered by this report, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were not effective to provide reasonable assurance that the information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports it files or submits under the Exchange Act of 1934 was recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. This was due solely to a material weakness in internal control over financial reporting described in the Company's Form 8-K filed on August 22, 2005 where the Company disclosed that it had not maintained effective controls over the determination of the provision for income taxes and related deferred income tax accounts. The material weakness arose from a lack of sufficient knowledge within the Company's accounting department of the detailed technical requirements related to the accounting for the increase in the deferred tax asset valuation allowance that results from the inability to offset the deferred tax liability related to goodwill, which has an indefinite life, against deferred tax assets that are created by other deductible temporary differences. This material weakness resulted in the following error beginning in 2004, the Company accounted for its deferred tax liability related to goodwill as a reversing taxable temporary difference. Following Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the deferred tax liability related to the Company's goodwill should have been considered as a liability related to an asset with an indefinite life which could not support the realization of deferred tax assets. Therefore, the Company recorded additional deferred tax expense of $2.9 million, to increase its deferred tax valuation allowance for fiscal year 2004. These non-cash adjustments had no impact on the Company's compliance with covenants related to either its $60 million revolving credit facility of which $25.0 million was outstanding as of January 1, 2005, its 9 5/8% Senior Subordinated Notes due 2008 of which $116 million was outstanding at January 1, 2005, or its payment of incentives to management.

As described in Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005, included herein, the Company has restated such consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005, and each of the interim periods in fiscal 2004 by this amendment to its Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005 to correct errors relating to accounting for income taxes and related tax liabilities. After reviewing the circumstances leading up to the restatement, the Company and the Audit Committee believe that the errors were inadvertent and unintentional.

The Company's management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, believe that any disclosure controls and procedures or internal controls and procedures, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, they cannot provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been prevented or detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by unauthorized override of the control. The design of any systems of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions. Accordingly, because of the inherent limitations in a cost effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.

Subsequent to the period covered by this report and in connection with the Company's close process for quarter ended July 2, 2005, the Company designed and implemented improvements in its procedures for internal control over financial reporting to address the material weakness in accounting for income taxes. These improvements included the following actions:

Educating and training Company individuals involved in accounting and reporting for income taxes.

Appropriate finance staff personnel have researched and reviewed accounting pronouncements on accounting and reporting for income taxes, specifically as they related to deferred income taxes. Finance personnel will also attend various conferences and seminars to maintain current knowledge with respect to deferred taxes and accounting for income taxes; and Enhancing the documentation regarding conclusions reached in the implementation of generally accepted accounting principles. The Company has commenced this documentation and will continue to develop and incorporate this documentation into its ongoing Sarbanes Oxley internal controls and procedures preparation.

The Company will continue to monitor and test these controls in future periods to determine their effectiveness.

The Audit Committee

The Audit Committee assists the Board of Directors in fulfilling its oversight responsibilities relating to the Company's financial statements and the financial reporting process, the systems of internal accounting and financial controls, the audit process, and the Company's process for monitoring compliance with laws and regulations and with the Company's code of conduct. The Audit Committee has sole responsibility for the appointment, compensation, retention and oversight of the Company's independent registered public accounting firm.

The Audit Committee currently consists of three directors, Ms. Savage (Committee Chair), Ms. Havdala and Mr. Weber. Based on our review of the criteria required to meet the definition of audit committee financial expert under the rules adopted by the SEC, no member of the audit committee meets the SEC's definition of an audit committee financial expert. Nevertheless, we believe the experience and education of the members of the audit committee qualifies them to monitor the integrity of our financial statements, legal and regulatory requirements applicable to us, the independent registered public accounting firm's qualifications and independence and our compliance with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and the rules and regulations there under. Moreover, we believe that each of the members of the audit committee has demonstrated the capability of (i) understanding generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and financial statements, (ii) assessing the general application of GAAP in connection with the accounting for estimates, accruals and reserves, (iii) analyzing and evaluating our financial statements, (iv) understanding internal controls and procedures for financial reporting, and (v) understanding audit committee functions, all of which are attributes of an audit committee financial expert under the rules adopted by the SEC. Given the business experience and acumen of the committee members, the Board of Directors believes that they are qualified to carry out all duties and responsibilities of our audit committee. In addition, the audit committee has the ability on its own to retain independent accountants, financial advisors or other consultants, advisors and experts whenever it deems appropriate. We believe the directors' qualifications and experience, and ability to utilize outside advisors and experts as they consider appropriate, affords them sufficient background and expertise to fulfill their obligations without the necessity of including a financial expert at the present time.

Table of ContentsCode of Business Conduct and Ethics

The Company has adopted a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics applicable to the Company's directors, officers (including the Company's principal executive officer, principal financial officer and principle accounting officer) and employees. A copy of the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics is available, without charge, upon written request to Mark J. Suchinski, Vice President and Chief Accounting Officer, Home Products International, Inc., 4501 West 47th Street, Chicago Illinois, 60632. If any substantive amendment is made to the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, the nature of the amendment will be disclosed on the Company's website or in a current report on Form 8-K. In addition, if a waiver from the Code is granted to an executive officer or director of the Company, the nature of the waiver will be disclosed in a current report on Form 8-K.

or if he resigns for good reason (all as respectively defined in the Hassert Agreement), he is entitled to additional benefits specified in the agreement. Additionally, Mr. Hassert is entitled to additional benefits specified in the agreement if his employment is terminated by reason of disability or death. Mr. Hassert also is subject to an 18 month noncompetition agreement and one year nonsolicitation agreement following termination of his employment. This description of the Hassert Agreement is qualified by reference to the provisions of the Hassert Agreement, which is incorporated by reference as Exhibit 10.2 to Form 8-K filed on December 15, 2004.

F. Randall Chambers. The Company has entered into an employment agreement, dated as of January 3, 2005, employing F. Randall Chambers as President North America of the Company (the Chambers Agreement). Under the terms of the Chambers Agreement, Mr. Chambers is employed on an at will basis, is entitled to a base salary at a gross annual rate of $258,000, and is eligible to receive an annual incentive cash bonus based on Mr. Chambers performance and the Company's profitability during such period in accordance with the Company's executive bonus plan. The Company also agreed to grant Mr. Chambers, as soon as practicable after the execution of the Chambers Agreement, stock options covering 150,000 shares at an exercise price of $2.25 per share, vesting equally over 3 years. If the Company terminates Mr. Chambers' employment for any reason other than cause, disability or death, or if he resigns for good reason (all as respectively defined in the Chambers Agreement), he is entitled to additional benefits specified in the agreement. Additionally, Mr. Chambers is entitled to additional benefits specified in the agreement if his employment is terminated by reason of disability or death. Mr. Chambers also is subject to an 18 month noncompetition agreement and one year nonsolicitation agreement following termination of his employment. This description of the Chambers Agreement is qualified by reference to the provisions of the Chambers Agreement, which is incorporated by reference as Exhibit 10.1 to Form 8-K filed on January 6, 2005.

G. Park Owens. The Company has entered into an employment agreement, dated as of January 5, 2005, employing G. Park Owens as Senior Vice President Marketing of the Company (the Owens Agreement). Under the terms of the Owens Agreement, Mr. Owens will be employed on an at will basis, will be entitled to a base salary at a gross annual rate of $180,000, and will be eligible to receive an annual incentive cash bonus based on Mr. Owens' performance and the Company's profitability during such period in accordance with the Company's executive bonus plan. The Company also agreed to grant Mr. Owens, as soon as practicable after the execution of the Owens Agreement, and in any event no later than 90 days after the date of the Owens Agreement, stock options covering 90,000 shares at an exercise price of $2.25 per share, vesting equally over 3 years. If the Company terminates Mr. Owens' employment for any reason other than cause, disability or death, or if he resigns for good reason (all as respectively defined in the Owens Agreement), he is entitled to additional benefits specified in the agreement. Additionally, Mr. Owens is entitled to additional benefits specified in the agreement if his employment is terminated by reason of disability or death. Mr. Owens also is subject to an 18 month noncompetition agreement and one year nonsolicitation agreement following termination of his employment. This description of the Owens Agreement is qualified by reference to the provisions of the Owens Agreement, which is incorporated by reference as Exhibit 10.2 to Form 8-K filed on January 6, 2005.

James E. Winslow. In October 1994, the Company entered into an agreement with Mr. Winslow, the Company's Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer and Secretary. This agreement, as amended in May 2000, provides that if Mr. Winslow's employment is terminated by the Company for any reason (other than for cause, death or disability) or except in connection with a change in control, in which event the terms of the Retention and Non-Competition Agreement described below will govern, he is entitled to a severance payment equal to twice his average yearly salary and bonus compensation earned during the two most recent fiscal years immediately prior to the termination.

On January 28, 2000, the Company entered into a Retention and Non-Competition Agreement with Mr. Winslow. The agreement provides that if Mr. Winslow remains with the Company for 180 days following a change in control of the Company (as defined in the agreement), or is terminated without cause, dies or is reassigned to an area outside the metropolitan area where he is currently employed before the end of such period, Mr. Winslow will receive a payment equal to twice his average yearly salary and bonus compensation earned during the two most recent fiscal years immediately prior to the change in control. Additionally, Mr. Winslow agreed that he will not compete against the Company or solicit its customers or employees for a period of one year after the termination of his employment with the Company, and the Company agreed to pay Mr. Winslow, in addition to the amounts to be paid under the agreement described above, $100,000 in twelve monthly installments upon a change in control in consideration for this agreement. As a result of the Shareholder Transaction, and subject to the conditions of the Retention and Non-Competition Agreement, Mr. Winslow is entitled to receive approximately $1.1 million in June 2005.

Employment Agreement with Former Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

James R. Tennant served as the Company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer until December 14, 2004. Upon termination of his employment and pursuant to the terms of his employment agreement, as amended, Mr. Tennant received a severance payment of $2.8 million. Mr. Tennant is also entitled to receive medical and other insurance benefits for the two year period immediately following the date of termination of employment. Mr. Tennant agreed not to compete against the Company or solicit its customers or employees for a period of three years after his termination. Mr. Tennant's employment agreement also contained a provision to reimburse him for any excise tax that may be due under section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, as well as any additional income or other tax which may become due because of the termination payments. No tax reimbursements have been requested as of March 15, 2005.

On December 13, 2004, the Company assigned to Storage Acquisition Company, L.L.C. (SAC), the Company's largest shareholder, the right to receive Mr. Tennant's consulting services for the twenty-four month period commencing on December 13, 2004. In return for the assignment of consulting services, SAC assumed certain financial obligations in Mr. Tennant's employment agreement.

Item 12. Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management

The following table sets forth certain information as of March 5, 2005 (unless otherwise noted) with respect to the beneficial ownership of the Company's issued and outstanding common stock by:

each stockholder known by us to be the beneficial owner of more than 5% of the Company's common stock;

each director;

each executive officer named in the summary compensation table; and all of the directors and executive officers as a group.

The beneficial ownership of common stock set forth in this table is determined in accordance with the rules of the SEC. In computing the number of shares beneficially owned by a person and the percentage ownership of that person, shares of common stock subject to options or warrants held by that person that are currently exercisable or will become exercisable within 60 days after March 5, 2005 are considered outstanding, while these shares are not considered outstanding for purposes of computing percentage ownership of any other person. Unless otherwise indicated in the footnotes below, the persons and entities named in the table have sole voting and investment power as to all shares beneficially owned, subject to community property laws where applicable. The number of shares beneficially owned by each entity, person, current director or named executive officer is determined under the rules of the SEC, and the information is not necessarily indicative of beneficial ownership for any other purpose.

Item 13. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

Mr. Jeffrey Rubenstein, a former director of the Company, is the executor and trustee of certain estates and trusts (the Trusts) which lease a facility to the Company. In addition, Mr. Rubenstein is a partner in a law firm that until December 14, 2004 was the Company's primary outside general counsel. Mr. Rubenstein is responsible for overseeing all legal work performed by the law firm on the Company's behalf. Mr. Rubenstein had been a director since September 1986 until his resignation on November 7, 2003. Until his resignation, Mr. Rubenstein was also a member of the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. Until August 13, 2002, Mr. Rubenstein was also a member of the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. Payments made to the law firm were $204,000 in 2004, $150,000 in 2003 and $331,000 in 2002.

The Trusts own the Company's Chicago headquarters, manufacturing and distribution facility. The Company leases the facility from the Trusts under a lease that expires in July 2020. The Company has options to extend the lease as well as an option to purchase the facility. The lease was last amended in October 1998. The Board of Directors has approved the lease and its amendments. Lease payments made to the Trusts were $939,000 in 2004, $922,000 in 2003 and $909,000 in 2002.

The Company believes that the terms of all transactions with the law firm and the Trusts are arms length . The Company has adopted a policy to conduct an appropriate review of all related party transactions for potential conflict of interest situations on an ongoing basis and to require all such related party transactions to be approved by the Company's audit committee.

On June 2, 2004, the Company executed an Agreement and Plan of Merger, by and between the Company and JRT Acquisition, Inc. (JRT), as amended by that certain First Amendment to Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated October 11, 2004 (the JRT Agreement). Pursuant to the terms of the JRT Agreement, JRT, an entity formed by James R. Tennant, who at the time was the Company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, was to merge with and into the Company, and each outstanding share of the Company's common stock was to be exchanged for the right to receive $1.50 in cash.

On October 28, 2004, the Company and Storage Acquisition Company, L.L.C. entered into an Acquisition Agreement under which the Acquirer made a tender offer for 100% of the Company's common stock for $2.25 per share in cash. Before entering into the Acquisition Agreement, pursuant to the terms of the JRT Agreement, the Company and JRT terminated the JRT Agreement pursuant to a Termination Agreement, to enable the Company to enter into the Acquisition Agreement. As provided in the JRT Agreement, the Company was obligated to reimburse JRT up to a maximum of $550,000 in expenses related to the JRT Agreement. The Company reimbursed JRT a total of $498,806.

On December 13, 2004, the Acquirer and the Company jointly announced that the Acquirer had completed its tender offer for the outstanding shares of common stock (including the associated preferred stock purchase rights) of the Company for $2.25 per share, net to the seller, in cash without interest. As a result of the tender offer, the Acquirer obtained 93% of the outstanding common shares. Joseph Gantz, the Company's Chairman of the Board, is a member of Storage Acquisition Company, L.L.C. See Note 2 to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Item 14. Principal Accountant Fees and Services

KPMG LLP acted as independent registered public accounting firm to audit the Company's consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended January 1, 2005.

The following table sets forth the aggregate fees accrued for audit to the Company for professional services rendered for the audit of the Company's annual financial statements for the fiscal years ended January 1, 2005 and December 27, 2003, including the review of the financial statements included in the Company's Form 10-Q filings and general accounting consultations, by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, KPMG LLP.

Tax fees (2)	52,000	42,000
All other fees
Total fees	$ 340,321	$ 260,500

(1) Other audit related fees are for assurance and related services by the independent registered public accounting firm that are reasonably related to the performance of the audit or review of the Company's financial statements.

(2) Tax fees include tax compliance, tax advice and tax planning.

The Audit Committee pre-approves the Audit, Audit-Related, Tax and All Other services performed by the independent registered public accounting firm in accordance with its policy with respect thereto. No services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm under the categories of Audit Fees, Audit-Related Fees, and Tax Fees were approved pursuant to the de minimus exception provided in Rule 2-01(c)(7)(i)(C) of Regulation S-X.

The Audit Committee has considered whether the provision of non-audit services by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, KPMG LLP, is compatible with maintaining the independence of the independent registered public accounting firm.
