Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On October 1, 2004, American Software, Inc. (the "Company") filed a Current Report on Form 8-K reporting the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of Demand Management, Inc. by Logility, Inc., which is an 87% owned subsidiary of the Company. This amendment number 1 amends Item 9.01 of the subject Current Report on Form 8-K to provide the financial statements and pro forma financial information as set forth in Item 9.01.

Item 2.01. Completion of Acquisition or Disposition of Assets.

On September 30, 2004, our Logility subsidiary acquired certain assets and the distribution channel of privately-held Demand Management, Inc. ("DMI"), a St. Louis-based provider of supply chain planning systems marketed under the Demand Solution® brand, for $9.5 million in cash, less working capital and cash on hand, for a net cash consideration of $8.7 million. Under the terms of the agreement, the business and assets of Demand Management were acquired by a wholly-owned subsidiary of Logility.

In accordance with SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations," the acquisition has been accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. The fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed represent management's estimate of current fair values. Logility allocated the total purchase price to the net tangible assets and intangible assets acquired based on estimates of fair value at the date of acquisition. The allocation of the total purchase price to the acquired technology and other intangible assets, including tradenames and maintenance contracts, was based on management's best estimate. The estimating process included a consultation and review with a third party appraiser. Logility allocated $6.2 million of the total purchase price to goodwill, which is deductible for income tax purposes.

The preliminary calculation of the total purchase price was as follows (in thousands):

Tangible Net Book Value	$ 900
Business Restructuring	(425)
Acquisition Expenses	(425)
Intangible Asset to be Amortized	2,400
Goodwill	6,241
	<hr/>
Net Cash Outlay	8,691
Working Capital Adjustment	590
Closing Cash	219
	<hr/>
Total Purchase Price	$ 9,500
	<hr/>

The following preliminary allocation of the total purchase price reflects the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed as of September 30, 2004 (in thousands):

Accounts receivable	$ 1,997
Deferred sales commissions	780
Prepaid expenses and other current assets	209
Property and equipment	26
Other non-current assets	217
Intangible assets ¹	2,400
Goodwill	6,241
Accounts payable	(1,039)
Accrued expenses and other current liabilities	(990)
Deferred revenue	(1,150)
	<hr/>
Total Cash Outlay	8,691
Cash and cash equivalents	219
Working capital adjustment	590
	<hr/>
Total Purchase Price	$ 9,500

¹ Includes $1 million for distribution channels, $800,000 for customer relationships, and $300,000 for trademarks, all of which are subject to straight-line amortization over a period of six years. Also includes $300,000 for current technology, which is subject to straight-line amortization over a period of three years.

SFAS 141 requires that an acquiring enterprise allocate the cost of an entity acquired in a business combination to the individual assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values at the date of acquisition. The fair value of maintenance deferred revenues in a business combination generally is not readily available and, accordingly, in practice, the fair value of an assumed liability (which must arise from a legal performance obligation) related to deferred revenue is estimated based on the direct cost of fulfilling the obligation plus a normal profit margin thereon. Also, in practice, the normal profit margin is limited to the profit margin on the costs to provide the product or service (that is, the fulfillment effort).

Management believes that the purchase accounting related to the DMI acquisition will be finalized by the end of our current fiscal year.

Item 9.01. Financial Statements and Exhibits.

DEMAND MANAGEMENT, INC.

(AN S CORPORATION)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

SEPTEMBER 30, 2004 AND DECEMBER 31, 2003

1. SUMMARY OF OPERATIONS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES

This summary of operations and significant accounting policies of Demand Management, Inc., (the Company or Demand), is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company's management, who is responsible for their integrity and objectivity.

Business Operations and Concentration Risk

Demand Management specializes in developing software products for managing the demand side of manufacturing and distribution businesses. The Demand Solutions collection of products include: Forecasting, Production Planning, Inventory Control, ABC Analysis, Planning Bills, Aggregation/Proration, CPFR, Demand Requirements Planning (DRP), Query, Vendor Managed Inventory/Quick Response, Rough-Cut Capacity Planning, DSStores a store level replenishment system, and the Company's newest product, DSView. The modular nature of the products enables customers to tailor their Supply Chain Management Solution to their needs. The products operate in virtually any size business. Demand Solutions products also serve a broad variety of industries, from food to industrial valves, from sewing notions to golf products. Demand Management has representation in 17 countries with over 90 people who sell, train and implement Demand Solutions software products.

Financial Statement Presentation

The financial statements are presented prior to the sale of substantially all operating assets as discussed in Note 2.

Estimates

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(AN S CORPORATION)

SEPTEMBER 30, 2004 AND DECEMBER 31, 2003

Revenue Recognition

The company recognizes revenue in accordance with Statement of Position (SOP) 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition, and SOP 98-9, Modification of SOP 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition with Respect to Certain Transactions. The company recognizes revenues in connection with license agreements for standard proprietary software upon delivery of the software, provided collection is considered probable, the fee is fixed or determinable, there is evidence of an arrangement, and vendor specific objective evidence exists with respect to any undelivered elements of the arrangement.

Maintenance fees are generally billed annually in advance and the resulting revenues are recognized ratably over the term of the maintenance agreement. Service fees are billed under both time and materials and fixed fee arrangements and primarily include consulting, implementation, and training. Demand recognizes them as services are performed. Deferred revenue represents advance payments or billing for software licenses, services, and maintenance billed in advance of the time revenue is recognized.

Generally, the company's software products do not require significant modification or customization. Installation of the products is normally routine and is not essential to the functionality of the product. Sales frequently include maintenance contracts and professional services with the sale of the software licenses. The company has established vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value (VSOE) for the maintenance contracts and professional services. The company determines fair value based on the prices charged to customers when those elements are sold separately. Maintenance revenues, including those sold with the initial license fee, are deferred based on VSOE, and recognized ratably over the maintenance contract period. The company recognizes consulting and training service revenues, including those sold with license fees, as services are performed based on their established VSOE. The company determines the amount of revenue allocated to the licenses sold with services or maintenance using the residual method of accounting. Under the residual method, the company allocates the total value of the arrangement first to the undelivered elements based on their VSOE and allocates the remainder to license fees.

Foreign Currency Transactions

Foreign currency transaction gains and losses are included in income currently and classified as other income. During the nine months of 2004, Demand recognized a net foreign currency loss of $9,362. During 2003, Demand recognized a net foreign currency gain of $71,142.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include demand deposits, money market accounts, and Treasury bills with maturities of three months or less.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are stated at the amount management expects to collect from outstanding balances. Management provides for probable uncollectible amounts through a charge to earnings and a credit to a valuation allowance based on its assessment of the current status of individual accounts.

Balances still outstanding after management has used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the valuation allowance and a credit to trade accounts receivable.

Equipment and Leasehold Improvements

Demand depreciates equipment and amortizes leasehold improvements over their estimated useful lives using both the straight-line and accelerated methods.

Software Development

Demand capitalizes the cost of software development and amortizes it on a straight-line basis over the expected life of the product once they establish technological feasibility for the product. The capitalized software development costs have been fully amortized.

Concentration Risks

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN SOFTWARE INC - Form 8-K/A

Annual maintenance agreements make up 52% and 56% of revenues during 2004 and 2003, respectively. One product accounted for 13% and 17% of revenues in 2004 and 2003, respectively.

The Company maintains its cash deposits at high credit quality financial institutions. Balances, at times, may exceed insured limits. Management feels the risk of loss is remote. At September 30, 2004, the cash deposits exceeded insured limits by approximately $70,000.

Income Taxes

The Company elected S-Corporation status; therefore earnings and losses are included in the personal income tax returns of the stockholders and the financial statements do not include a provision for income taxes.

SEPTEMBER 30, 2004 AND DECEMBER 31, 2003

Depreciation and amortization expense amounted to $59,746 and $110,706 in 2004 and 2003, respectively.

5. LINE OF CREDIT

On September 27, 2004, the Company terminated their $700,000 line of credit agreement. No outstanding balance existed at the time of termination or at December 31, 2003.

6. CAPITAL STOCK

The Company's capital stock consists of Class A and Class B common stock. Holders of Class A stock possess one vote per share, and holders of Class B maintain no voting rights. At September 30, 2004 and December 31, 2003, the Company held all of Class B shares issued in treasury.

7. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company entered into an agency agreement, giving Demand Solutions (Europe) Ltd. (DSE), a company with common majority shareholders, the exclusive right to act as the Managing Agent for the sale of software developed by the company; territory includes: Europe, the Middle East, and Africa. The Company receives 10% of DSE's product gross revenue plus 75% of DSE's available distributable profits. Pursuant to the aforementioned agreement the company earned approximately $369,000 and $167,000 for 2004 and 2003, respectively. The amount due from DSE at September 30, 2004 and December 31, 2003 totaled approximately $352,000 and $79,000, respectively and has been included in other receivables on the financial statements.

8. DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PENSION PLAN

The Company sponsored a simplified employee pension plan (SEP), a type of defined contribution plan. Demand terminated the plan on December 31, 2003. The Company allowed participants to roll their balances into the company 401(k) plan.

On January 1, 2004, the Company adopted a 401(k) plan with a profit-sharing attribute. Profit sharing contributions are discretionary and based upon participant compensation as a percentage of total eligible compensation. During 2004, the Company elected not to contribute to the plan.

DEMAND MANAGEMENT, INC

(AN S CORPORATION)

Participants may elect to contribute up to a maximum of 75% of their compensation, subject to statutory limits.

9. LEASES

The Company leases office space in St. Louis County, Missouri. The 60-month lease expires October 31, 2004 and will continue on a month-to-month basis, if necessary.

During August, 2004, the Company amended the lease agreement to lease new office space in St. Louis County, Missouri. The 66-month lease is expected to commence on November 1, 2004. Future minimum monthly lease payments will approximate; $9,000 from commencement date through October 31, 2005, $18,400 from November 1, 2005 through October 31, 2006, $18,800 from November 1, 2006 through October 31, 2007, $19,200 from November 1, 2007 through October 31, 2008 and $19,600 from November 1, 2008 through the expiration date.

Rent expense, including fees for parking and shared operating expenses, approximated $183,000 and $241,000 for 2004 and 2003, respectively.

10. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

During 2003, The Company began negotiations with various states concerning a proposal under which the Company would voluntarily begin collecting state sales and use taxes on a prospective basis. As of September 30, 2004, management has not determined if a potential sales tax liability exists, therefore, they cannot estimate a contingency amount and no accrual has been recorded. See Note 2 for information regarding the Tax Escrow Amount .

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors

Demand Management, Inc.

St. Louis, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Demand Management, Inc. (an S corporation), as of September 30, 2004 and December 31, 2003, and the related statements of operations, retained earnings (accumulated deficit), and cash flows for the nine month period January 1, 2004 through September 30, 2004 and the year ended December 31, 2003. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Demand Management, Inc., as of September 30, 2004 and December 31, 2003, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the nine month period January 1, 2004 through September 30, 2004 and year ended December 31, 2003 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

(b) Pro Forma Financial Information.

The following unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statements of operations have been prepared to give effect to the acquisition by Logility, Inc., an 87% owned subsidiary of American Software, Inc., of the assets and the liabilities of Demand Management, Inc., using the purchase method of accounting and the assumptions and adjustments described in the accompanying notes to unaudited pro forma combined financial statements.

The tables that follow present unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated financial statements for American Software and Demand Management for the three months ended July 31, 2004 and for the year ended April 30, 2004 as if the acquisition had been completed on May 1, 2003. Because American Software and Demand Management historically have used different fiscal periods, for purposes of the unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated financial statements the three months ended September 30, 2004 and the twelve months ended March 31, 2004 for Demand Management were used.

A pro forma balance sheet as of July 31, 2004 is not presented within since our October 31, 2004 condensed consolidated balance sheet, as previously filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on report Form 10-Q for the quarter ended October 31, 2004, reflects the acquisition of Demand Management.

The pro forma information is based upon the historical financial statements of American Software and Demand Management and the assumptions, estimates and adjustments described in the notes to the unaudited pro forma combined financial statements. The assumptions, estimates and adjustments are preliminary and have been made solely for purposes of developing such pro forma information.

The unaudited pro forma combined financial statements are presented for illustrative purposes only and are not necessarily indicative of the consolidated financial position or consolidated results of operations of American Software that would have been reported had the acquisition occurred on the dates indicated, nor do they represent a forecast of the consolidated financial position of American Software at any future date or the consolidated results of operations for any future period. Furthermore, no effect has been given in the unaudited pro forma combined statements of income for synergistic benefits or cost savings that may be realized through the combination of Logility and Demand Management or costs that may be incurred in integrating their operations. The unaudited pro forma combined financial information should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements and related notes and management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations of American Software, which are included in its annual report on Form 10-K and subsequently filed quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, which are incorporated by reference, and the historical financial statements and related notes of Demand Management that are included in this Form 8-K/A.

Notes to Unaudited Pro Forma Financial Information

Pro forma adjustments to the statements of operations include the following:

(a) DMI's agency agreement with Demand Solutions (Europe) Ltd. (DSE) expired at the time of acquisition. DMI earned approximately $369,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, and $167,000 for the year ended December 31, 2003 from its agency agreement with DSE. Because this agreement expired at the time of the acquisition, these amounts have been deducted from agency license fee revenues. For the three months ended September 30, 2004, a pro-rata adjustment was made to the nine months' total. Subsequent to the acquisition, DSE will act as a value-added reseller on Logility's behalf.

(b) $2.4 million of intangible assets were acquired through the purchase of DMI. This amount includes $1 million for distribution channels, $800,000 for customer relationships, and $300,000 for trademarks, all of which are subject to straight-line amortization over a period of six years. It also includes $300,000 for current technology, which is subject to straight-line amortization over a period of three years as part of cost of license fees.

(c) Included in other income is an adjustment for interest income that would not have been earned had the acquisition occurred on May 1, 2003. An annualized investment yield of 1.8% is applied to the net cash outlay of $8,691,000.

(d) Minority interest is a function of our majority-owned subsidiaries' earnings or losses, with minority interest losses recorded when these subsidiaries have earnings, and minority interest earnings recorded when they have losses.

(c) Exhibits.
