Headline: Shareholder Group Expresses Support for CEO, Management, and Branch Managers of Barrett Business Services; Group intends to make changes to the Board of Directors

Vancouver, Washington A shareholder group that includes Kimberly J. Jacobsen Sherertz, the estate of her late husband William Sherertz, and others expressed its support for Barrett Business Service's CEO, management, and branch managers.

Says Kimberly Sherertz, Barrett's branch managers are the lifeblood of the company, which my late husband built from the ground up. The Board slate, which the shareholder group proposes, will be composed of proven business leaders with expertise in sales, marketing, technology and organic growth. This new Board will work to provide branch managers with additional products, technology, and tools that add value for their client base. Just as importantly, the new Board will make sure that each Branch Manager has the support needed to allow the branch manager to effectively accelerate the number of new clients that the Branch Manager is able to bring on to our platform. She continued: I very much look forward to introducing Barrett's CEO, Mike Elich, to the Board slate. I also look forward to introducing each of Barrett's large shareholders to the Board slate. This Board slate is the right group to dramatically increase the value of Barrett's stock over the short, medium, and long term through organic sales growth. This same sales growth will enhance the level of opportunity for each of our Branch Managers, and for Mr. Elich.
