Please note that this is a revised news release originally issued July 29, 2015 (accession number 0001193125-15-267938) and is being refiled on behalf of Canadian Pacific Railway Limited and Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The initially filed press release, covering the tentative deal with the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, incorrectly stated the tentative agreement time-frame as five-years. This has now been revised to show the correct six-year time-frame.

Release: Immediate July 29, 2015

Canadian Pacific and Brotherhood of Railway Carmen reach tentative deal

Minneapolis, MN Canadian Pacific (TSX: CP) (NYSE: CP) is pleased to announce that a tentative six-year agreement has been reached with the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen (BRC-TCU), a division of the Transportation and Communications Union/International Association of Machinists. The BRC represents employees on its wholly owned subsidiary, Soo Line Railroad Company.

Full details of the tentative agreement are being withheld pending ratification by the BRC membership.

After months of negotiating, we have agreed on a deal that is fair to all stakeholders, said Myron Becker, CP's Assistant Vice President, Labor Relations. We look forward to a successful ratification vote and to working together with our BRC colleagues.

Note on forward-looking information

This news release contains certain forward-looking information within the meaning of applicable securities laws relating, but not limited to, the ratification of the agreement between the Company and the BRC. This forward-looking information also includes, but is not limited to, statements concerning expectations, beliefs, plans, goals, objectives, assumptions and statements about possible future events, conditions, and results of operations or performance. Forward-looking information may contain statements with words or headings such as financial expectations, key assumptions, anticipate, believe, expect, plan, will, outlook, should or similar words suggesting future outcomes.

Undue reliance should not be placed on forward-looking information as actual results may differ materially from the forward-looking information. Forward-looking information is not a guarantee of future performance. By its nature, CP's forward-looking information involves numerous assumptions, inherent risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking information, including but not limited to the following factors: changes in business strategies; general North American and global economic, credit and business conditions; risks in agricultural production such as weather conditions and insect populations; the availability and price of energy commodities; the effects of competition and pricing pressures; industry capacity; shifts in market demand; changes in commodity prices; uncertainty surrounding timing and volumes of commodities being shipped via CP; inflation; changes in laws and regulations, including regulation of rates; changes in taxes and tax rates; potential increases in maintenance and operating costs; uncertainties of investigations, proceedings or other types of claims and litigation; labor disputes; risks and liabilities arising from derailments; transportation of dangerous goods; timing of completion of capital and maintenance projects; currency and interest rate fluctuations; effects of changes in market conditions and discount rates on the financial position of pension plans and investments; and various events that could disrupt operations, including severe weather, droughts, floods, avalanches and earthquakes as well as security threats and governmental response to them, and technological changes. The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive.

These and other factors are detailed from time to time in reports filed by CP with securities regulators in Canada and the United States. Reference should be made to Management's Discussion and Analysis in CP's annual and interim reports, Annual Information Form and Form 40-F. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking information. Forward-looking information is based on current expectations, estimates and projections and it is possible that predictions, forecasts, projections, and other forms of forward-looking information will not be achieved by CP. Except as required by law, CP undertakes no obligation to update publicly or otherwise revise any forward-looking information, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
