Current Report

Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On April 25, 2005, Bally Total Fitness Holding Corporation (Bally) entered into an Employment Agreement with Jim McDonald (the Executive) to provide for the Executive s employment as Bally s Senior Vice President, Chief Marketing Officer, effective May 2, 2005 (the Agreement). The Agreement provides for employment with Bally until May 1, 2008 (the Termination Date) unless the agreement is earlier terminated in accordance with its terms. The term of the Agreement will be automatically extended each year for an additional 12 months on the anniversary date of the Termination Date unless either party provides notice of intent not to renew at least 90 days prior to the then-current termination date.

The Agreement sets forth the terms of the Executive s employment with Bally while he remains in his current position, including the following:

The Executive will receive an annual base salary of $350,000 and an annual incentive payment of up to 50% of the Executive s base salary based on performance criteria established by Bally s Board of Directors. For the calendar year 2005, Executive will receive a guaranteed minimum bonus of $150,000 payable in March 2006. The Executive will also receive a $25,000 signing bonus in the first pay period following the commencement of employment. The Executive will be eligible to participate in Bally s employee benefit plans, any other equity-based compensation plan offered by Bally, and certain other executive perquisites programs. Upon the Executive s termination of employment for any reason, the Executive will be prohibited from (i) engaging in any activity that is competitive with or adverse to Bally for a period of 12 months, (ii) soliciting any of Bally s clients or employees or disparaging Bally for a period of 24 months, and (iii) disclosing any of Bally s confidential information.

Upon the Executive s termination by Bally without cause, the Executive will generally be entitled to receive a lump sum payment equal to (i) the greater of (A) all amounts of base salary that would otherwise be payable for the remainder of the then-current term of employment and that remain unpaid, or (B) 1.5 times the Executive s then-current annual base salary, plus (ii) if such termination occurs prior to the payment of the Executive s annual bonus payable with respect to the immediately preceding calendar year, the full amount of the Executive s annual bonus for such year, plus (iii) 1.5 times the Executive s target annual bonus for the then-current calendar year, plus (iv) compensation for any unused, earned vacation days. Upon such termination, the Executive would also be entitled to immediate vesting of all awards previously granted to him pursuant to Bally s long-term incentive plan, subject to the conditions set forth in the plan, and the Executive s medical benefits would extend for an 18-month period.

If Bally terminates the Executive s employment without cause within two years of a change in control of Bally or the Executive terminates his employment with Bally for good reason, the Executive will generally be entitled to receive a lump sum payment equal to (i) 200% of the sum of (A) the Executive s highest annual base salary rate then in effect, and (B) the Executive s target annual bonus for the year, plus (ii) if such termination occurs prior to the payment of the Executive s annual bonus payable with respect to the immediately preceding calendar year, the full amount of the Executive s annual bonus for such year, plus (iii) compensation for any unused, earned vacation days. Upon such termination, the Executive would also be entitled to the same vesting of awards and extension of medical benefits described in the immediately preceding paragraph.

If the Executive's employment with Bally terminates on the expiration date of the Agreement, other than for cause, the Executive will be entitled to receive an immediate lump sum payment equal to (i) one times the Executive's then-current annual base salary, plus (ii) if such termination occurs prior to the payment of the Executive's annual bonus payable with respect to the calendar year in which such expiration date occurs, the full amount of the Executive's annual bonus for such year, plus (iii) one times the Executive's target annual bonus for such calendar year, plus (iv) compensation for any unused, earned vacation days. Upon such termination, the Executive's medical benefits would extend for the 18-month period described above.

The Executive would also be entitled to certain benefits upon death or long-term disability.

If the Executive's employment is terminated by the Company for cause or if the Executive terminates voluntarily without good reason, the Executive would not be entitled to any of the above-described benefits upon termination.

The Executive is entitled to certain tax adjustment payments in the event he is subject to any excise taxes under Internal Revenue Code Sections 280G or 4999 following a change in control of Bally.

The preceding description of the terms of the Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the text of the Agreement, which is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.1.
