PROXY STATEMENT

GENERAL INFORMATION

This proxy statement is furnished in connection with the solicitation by the Board of Directors of SPACEHAB, Incorporated, (the "Company" or "Spacehab") a Washington corporation, of proxies to be voted at the 2001 Annual Meeting of Stockholders on November 20, 2001 (the "Annual Meeting"). This proxy statement, the accompanying proxy card and Annual Report on Form 10-K to Stockholders are first being mailed to stockholders on or about October 15, 2001.

Voting Securities

The Board of Directors has fixed the close of business on September 20, 2001 as the record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Annual Meeting. As of the record date, there were 11,528,145 shares of SPACEHAB's Common Stock, no par value per share, outstanding and 1,333,334 shares of SPACEHAB's Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock, no par value per share. Holders of Common Stock and Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock are entitled to notice of the Annual Meeting and to one vote per share of Common Stock or Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock owned as of the record date at the Annual Meeting. Holders of the Company's Common Stock and Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock generally vote together as a single class, except that the holders of Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock, voting separately as a class, are entitled to elect one director and the holders of the Company's Common Stock are entitled to elect the remaining directors of the Company.

Proxies

Dr. Shelley A. Harrison and Mr. Michael E. Kearney, the persons named as proxies on the proxy card accompanying this proxy statement, were selected by the Board of Directors to serve in such capacity. Dr. Harrison is Chairman of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer and Mr. Kearney is a member of the Board of Directors and President and Chief Operating Officer. Each stockholder giving a proxy has the power to revoke it at any time before the shares represented by that proxy are voted. Revocation of a proxy is effective when the Secretary of the Company receives either (i) an instrument revoking the proxy or (ii) a duly executed proxy bearing a later date. Additionally, a stockholder may change or revoke a previously executed proxy by voting in person at the Annual Meeting.

Voting of Proxies

Because many SPACEHAB stockholders are unable to attend the Annual Meeting, the Board of Directors solicits proxies to give each stockholder an opportunity to vote on all matters scheduled to come before the meeting and set forth in this proxy statement. Stockholders are urged to read carefully the material in this proxy statement, specify their choice on each matter by marking the appropriate boxes on the enclosed proxy card, and sign, date and return the card in the enclosed stamped envelope.

If no choice is specified and the card is properly signed and returned, the shares will be voted by the persons named as proxies in accordance with the recommendations of the Board of Directors contained in this proxy statement.

Quorum; Method of Tabulation

The holders of at least one-third of all issued outstanding shares of Common Stock and Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting, if represented in person or by proxy, will constitute a quorum at that meeting. Under applicable law and the Company's articles of incorporation and by-laws, and assuming that a quorum is present, in the election of directors, the persons elected will be the persons receiving the greatest number of votes, up to the number of directors to be elected by the holders of Common Stock and Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock, respectively, of the stockholders of the respective class present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote thereon; provided that no stockholder shall be allowed to cumulate his votes.

At the Annual Meeting, the vote of a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock and Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock entitled to vote at the meeting voting together is required to ratify the appointment of Ernst & Young LLP as the independent public accountants of the Company's financial statements for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002.

One or more inspectors of election appointed for the meeting will tabulate the votes cast in person or by proxy at the Annual Meeting and will determine whether or not a quorum is present. The inspectors of election will treat abstentions as shares that are present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum, but as unvoted for purposes of determining the approval of any matter submitted to the stockholders for a vote. If a broker indicates on a proxy that it does not have discretionary authority as to certain shares to vote on a particular matter, those shares will not be considered as present and entitled to vote with respect to that matter.

PROPOSAL 1 - ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

A Board of nine directors will be elected at the Annual Meeting, eight by the holders of Common Stock and one by the holders of the Series B Senior Convertible Preferred Stock. All directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of stockholders or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. The Company's articles of incorporation authorize the Board of Directors from time to time to determine the number of its members. Vacancies in unexpired terms and any additional positions created by board action may be filled by action of the existing Board of Directors at that time, and any director who is appointed in this fashion will serve until the next annual meeting of stockholders or until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

The nominees for whom the enclosed proxy is intended to be voted are set forth below. It is contemplated that all nominees will be available for election, but if one or more is not, the proxy will be voted in accordance with the best judgment of the proxy holder for such person or persons as may be designated by the Board of Directors unless the stockholder has directed otherwise.

PROPOSAL 2 - APPOINTMENT OF INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS

General

The Audit Committee has recommended, and the Board of Directors has approved, the appointment of Ernst & Young LLP as independent accountants for fiscal year 2002, subject to stockholder ratification. The Audit Committee, in arriving at its recommendation to the Board, reviewed the performance of Ernst & Young LLP in the prior year as well as the firm's reputation for integrity and competence in the fields of accounting and auditing. The Audit Committee has expressed its satisfaction with Ernst & Young LLP in these respects.

In the event the stockholders fail to ratify the appointment, the Board of Directors will reconsider its selection. Even if the appointment is ratified, the Board of Directors, in its discretion, may direct the appointment of a different independent accounting firm at any time during the year if the Board of Directors determines that such a change would be in the Company's and its stockholders' best interests.

Ernst & Young LLP has audited the Company's financial statements annually since the Company's fiscal year 2000. Representatives of Ernst & Young are expected to be present at the Annual Meeting and will have the opportunity to make such statements as they may desire. They are also expected to be available to respond to appropriate questions from the stockholders present.

Audit Fees

Ernst & Young LLP has billed the Company $166,920, in the aggregate, for professional services rendered by Ernst & Young LLP for the audit of the Company's annual financial statements for the Company's 2001 fiscal year end and the reviews of the interim financial statements included in the Company's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the Company's 2001 fiscal year.

In making its recommendation to ratify the appointment of Ernst & Young LLP as the Company's independent accountants for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002, the Audit Committee has considered whether the non-audit services provided by Ernst & Young LLP are compatible with maintaining the independence of Ernst & Young LLP.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE FOR THE RATIFICATION OF THE APPOINTMENT OF ERNST & YOUNG LLP AS INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT OF THE COMPANY FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 2002.

Compensation Philosophy

In determining executive compensation policies, the Compensation Committee has four primary objectives:

- (1) to attract, motivate and retain key executive talent;
- (2) to balance the flexibility to reward individuals' skills with the need to structure compensation for defined roles;
- (3) to ensure that executive compensation is competitive with that of other leading companies in related fields; and
- (4) to provide incentives to achieve corporate objectives, thereby contributing to the overall goal of enhancing stockholder value.

The Compensation Committee's compensation policies discussed below are designed to achieve the foregoing objectives. The Compensation Committee expects to continuously review and refine the Company's compensation practices as necessary to respond to a changing business environment.

In order to evaluate and establish appropriate compensation practices, the Company consults multiple sources of information. The Compensation Committee uses data from benchmark companies within the aerospace or similar high technology industries to assess the Company's performance and compensation operations, product lines, revenues and markets served. The Compensation Committee seeks to set its executive compensation levels competitively with the benchmark companies, to the extent such targets are consistent with the Compensation Committee's objectives.

Elements of Executive Compensation

The Company's executive compensation program has three components: (1) annual cash compensation in the form of base salary and incentive bonus payments, (2) long-term incentive compensation in the form of stock options granted under the Company's 1994 Stock Incentive Plan and (3) other compensation and employee benefits generally available to all employees of the Company, such as health insurance and retirement plan contributions. Annual cash compensation is primarily designed to reward current performance. Long-term incentives and other compensation and employee benefits are primarily designed to create performance incentives over the long term for executive officers and employees.

Base Salary. The base salary of each executive officer is set at a level deemed sufficient to attract and retain qualified executive officers. The Compensation Committee has generally determined target base salaries according to the average base salaries paid by benchmark aerospace and similar high technology companies. Aggregate base salary increases are intended to maintain compensation levels that are in line with leading companies in related fields, while individual base salary increases are set to reflect individual performance levels. The base salaries of certain executive officers are subject to minimums set forth in individual employment agreements.

Incentive Bonuses. Annual cash bonuses are designed to provide incentives based on individual contribution to the achievement of the Company's annual business goals. Bonus payments have generally been reflective of the Company's performance in achieving revenues, profitability and other operating and corporate objectives, as well as the scope of an executive officer's responsibilities. The Compensation Committee makes a determination as to incentive bonus payments at the end of each year based on a subjective evaluation of the contributions of individual executive officers to the achievement of the Company's annual business goals. The award of annual incentive bonuses is based on achieving corporate goals and the amount of individual incentive bonus payments is determined by percentage ranges established annually by the Compensation Committee.

Long-Term Incentives. The grant of stock options is the Company's current method for providing long-term incentive compensation to its employees. The Compensation Committee believes that the use of stock options attracts and retains qualified personnel for positions of substantial responsibility and also serves to motivate its executive officers to promote the success of the Company's business and maximize stockholder value.

Compensation of Chief Executive Officer

The Compensation Committee based the Chief Executive Officer's compensation for fiscal year 2001 on the policies described above.

Dr. Shelley A. Harrison served as Chairman and CEO of the Company throughout the fiscal year. During fiscal year 2001, Dr. Harrison received a total of $470,217 for his services. Dr. Harrison's compensation for fiscal year 2001 was deemed by the Compensation Committee to be appropriate given Dr. Harrison's qualifications and contributions to meeting the Company's objectives. In fiscal 2001, Dr. Harrison received a grant of options to purchase 41,000 shares of the Company's common stock at an exercise price of $3.44 per share. These options vest over a four-year period from the date of grant. This grant is intended to continue to maintain the overall competitiveness of Dr. Harrison's compensation package and strengthen the alignment of Dr. Harrison's interests with those of the stockholders during a crucial phase of the Company's execution of its financial and operating plans.

Tax Deductibility of Executive Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Tax Code disallows corporate deductibility for certain compensation paid in excess of $1 million to the Company's Chief Executive Officer and to each of the four other most highly paid executive officers of publicly-held companies. "Performance-based compensation," as defined in Section 162(m), is not subject to the deductibility limitation provided certain stockholder approval and other requirements are met. The Company believes that the stock options granted in fiscal year 2001 and prior years satisfied the requirements of federal tax law and thus compensation recognized in connection with such awards should be fully deductible. It is the Company's intention to maximize the deductibility of compensation paid to its officers, to the extent consistent with the best interests of the Company. During fiscal year 2001, the Company did not exceed the $1 million deductibility cap with respect to any officer covered by Section 162(m).

Independent Public Accountants

On September 6, 2000 the Company engaged Ernst & Young LLP to audit the Company's consolidated financial statements for the 2001 fiscal year. Ernst & Young LLP replaced KPMG LLP as the principal accountants to audit the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Ernst & Young has served as the Company's principal accountants since 2000. Ernst & Young's reports on the Company's consolidated financial statements for fiscal year 2001 contained a qualified opinion as to the uncertainty of the Company to continue as a going concern. During the Company's two most recent fiscal years and the subsequent interim period through October 15, 2001, (i) there were no disagreements between the Company and Ernst & Young or its former independent accountants KPMG LLP on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure or auditing scope or procedure which, if not resolved to the satisfaction of Ernst & Young or KPMG LLP, would have caused Ernst & Young or KPMG LLP to make reference to the subject matter of the disagreement in connection with its reports and (ii) there were no events of the kind that are described in Item 304(a)(1)(v) of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Representatives of Ernst & Young LLP are expected to be present at the Annual Meeting and will have the opportunity to make such statements as they may desire. They are also expected to be available to respond to appropriate questions from the stockholders present at that meeting.

The cost of the solicitation of proxies will be borne by the Company. The Company has retained American Stock Transfer & Trust Company to request brokerage houses, banks and other custodians or nominees holding stock in their names for others to forward proxy materials to their customers or principals who are the beneficial owners of shares and will reimburse them for their expenses in doing so. The Company does not anticipate that the costs and expenses incurred in connection with this proxy solicitation will exceed those normally expended for a proxy solicitation for those matters to be voted on in the Annual Meeting.

Compliance with Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company's directors and executive officers and persons who beneficially own more than 10% of the Company's Common Stock to file reports of ownership and changes in ownership with the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC. Such directors, executive officers and greater than 10% stockholders are required by SEC regulation to furnish to the Company copies of all Section 16(a) forms they file.

The Company believes that during fiscal year 2001, all Section 16(a) filing requirements were satisfied on a timely basis.
