In 2002, the Ministry of Finance notified Turkcell that it is obliged to pay VAT on the 15% Treasury share fee paid to the Turkish Treasury, including all payments made since April 1998.

We have previously disclosed that Turkcell benefited from the Tax Amnesty Law for the amounts covering the period between April 1998 and November 2001. In addition, we also disclosed that although Turkcell began to pay VAT on the Treasury fee with a reserve starting from June 2003, it applied to the Istanbul Tax Court against Bogazici Tax Office (full Turkish name: Bogazici Kurumlar Vergi Dairesi Baskanligi) for cancellation of the payment.

Previously, following the failure of the negotiations between Turkcell and Is-Tim Telekomunikasyon Hizmetleri A.S. regarding national roaming, the Telecommunications Authority ("TA") intervened in the talks and with a written statement dated March 14, 2002, gave Turkcell 30 days to come to an agreement with the operators holding GSM1800 licenses on the basis of issued regulations.

Accordingly, on April 11, 2002, Turkcell initiated proceedings before the International Chamber of Commerce ("ICC") against application of the new regulations and that the TA is not authorized to intervene in the negotiation process, which is now rejected by the ICC, stating that the subject is not under its authority. In other words, ICC implied that the dispute should be overseen not before the international legislators but the local courts. This resolution does not reveal any outcome regarding the essence of the dispute, while the lawsuit filed by Turkcell on the same subject continues before the Danistay, the highest administrative court in Turkey.

We hereby confirm that the above-mentioned explanations are furnished as per the provisions of the Communique Serial no VIII/39, that they reflect all information we have gathered so far, that they are in accordance with our corporate documents, that we have used all endeavours to collect the complete and true related information and that we assume the responsibility for this disclosure.

On December 18, 2000, the Turkish Treasury demanded that Turkcell include the special transaction tax ("STT") and the stamp tax ("ST") in the calculation of the Treasury share starting from December 1999.

Several media outlets reported that the Assembly of Civil Law Chambers of Court of Appeals ruled that the dispute between Turk Telekom and Turkcell concerning the annulment of the Annex 1-A.1 of the interconnection agreement, which deals with call termination pricing, between parties should be overseen by the administrative courts. Also, same reports implied that this decision has paved the way for Turk Telekom to collect its receivables from Turkcell.

Turkcell has previously made the necessary announcements on this subject pursuant to Circular VIII, No: 39 of the Capital Market, while our last statement was dated January 30, 2004.

This decision of the Assembly of Civil Law Chambers of Court of Appeals is not officially submitted to Turkcell. However, based on the information received, this judgment of the Assembly is not a verdict about the essence of the dispute but it is about determining the appropriate legal authority.
