Section 7 Regulation FD

Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

Senior members of Aetna Inc.'s (Aetna's) management team will be meeting with investors and analysts from time to time during the remainder of March 2006. Those discussions will focus on Aetna's strategy, tactics and future outlook.

During these meetings, Aetna intends to reaffirm its publicly disclosed 2006 guidance, which includes first quarter 2006 operating earnings of $0.62 per share<sup>1</sup> and full-year 2006 operating earnings of $2.71 - $2.74 per share.

<sup>1</sup> Projected operating earnings per share exclude projected net realized capital gains or losses. Aetna is not able to project the amount of future net realized capital gains or losses and therefore cannot reconcile projected 2006 operating earnings per share in any period to projected income from continuing operations per share. Projected operating earnings per share for first quarter and full-year 2006 assume approximately 594 million weighted-average diluted shares. Projected operating earnings per share for first quarter and full-year 2006 include the effect of expensing stock-based compensation pursuant to Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 Revised, Share-Based Payment (which is estimated to be approximately $0.08 per share after tax for full-year 2006) and reflect the effect of the February 17, 2006 two-for-one stock split.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION; CAUTIONARY STATEMENT The projections contained herein are forward looking. Forward-looking information is based on management's estimates, assumptions and projections, and is subject to significant uncertainties and other factors, many of which are beyond Aetna's control. Important risk factors could cause actual future results and other future events to differ materially from those currently estimated by management. Those risk factors include, but are not limited to: unanticipated increases in medical costs (including increased medical utilization, increased pharmacy costs, increases resulting from unfavorable changes in contracting or re-contracting with providers, changes in membership mix to lower-premium or higher-cost products or membership-adverse selection; as well as changes in medical cost estimates due to the necessary extensive judgment that is used in the medical cost estimation process, the considerable variability inherent in such estimates, and the sensitivity of such estimates to changes in medical claims payment patterns and changes in medical cost trends); decreases in membership or failure to achieve desired membership growth due to significant competition, reputational issues or other factors; increases in medical costs or Group Insurance claims resulting from any acts of terrorism, epidemics or other extreme events; the ability to reduce administrative expenses while maintaining targeted levels of service and operating performance, and to improve relations with providers while taking actions to reduce medical costs; the ability to successfully implement Aetna's operating model to a projected growing membership base and to successfully implement multiple strategic and operational initiatives simultaneously; lower levels of investment income from continued low interest rates; adverse government regulation (including legislative proposals eliminating or reducing ERISA pre-emption of state laws that would increase potential litigation exposure, and other proposals, such as patients' rights legislation, that would increase potential litigation exposure or mandate coverage of certain health benefits); adverse pricing actions by government payors; changes in size, product mix and medical cost experience of membership in key markets; our ability to integrate, simplify, and enhance our existing information technology system and platform to keep pace with changing customer and regulatory needs; and the outcome of various litigation and regulatory matters, including litigation and ongoing reviews of business practices by various regulatory authorities (including the current industry wide investigation into insurance brokerage practices concerning broker compensation arrangements, bid quoting practices and potential antitrust violations being conducted by the New York Attorney General, the Connecticut Attorney General, and others, and for which Aetna has received and may receive subpoenas, and may be subject to related litigation). For more discussion of important risk factors that may materially affect Aetna, please see the risk factors contained in Aetna's 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K, on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. You also should read Aetna's 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K for a discussion of Aetna's historical results of operations and financial condition.
