99.3 Supplemental Information.

¹ Sales for an insurance company are a non-GAAP financial measure. We do not believe there is a comparable GAAP financial measure and as a result, have not provided a reconciliation. Sales are presented in accordance with industry practice and represent the amount of new business sold during the period. We believe sales are a measure of the productivity of our distribution networks. Sales are also a leading indicator of future revenue trends. However, revenues are driven by prior period sales as well as current period sales and therefore, a reconciliation of sales to revenues would not be meaningful or determinable.

ITEM 9. REGULATION FD DISCLOSURE

On August 6, 2003, the Company reported the following in its second quarter 2003 earnings call

The Company expects its return on equity to remain around 12% for 2003.²

The Company continues to believe that its pre-tax, credit-related write downs, net of any credit-related gains, will be $20-$25 million in 2003.

The Company is on target to slightly exceed its 2003 annuity sales goal of $1.5 billion but believes that its sales will still be lower than its 2002 results.¹

The Company expects total pre-tax restructuring charges during the third and fourth quarters to be between four and five million dollars and that these charges will conclude by the end of 2003.

The Company expects spreads on its traditional fixed annuity products to improve but remain below its 200 basis point target.

All statements, trend analyses and other information contained in the previous statements relative to markets for products and trends in operations or financial results, as well as other statements including words such as anticipate, believe, plan, estimate, expect, intend, and similar expressions, constitute forward-looking statements under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by these forward-looking statements include, among others, the following possibilities (a) general economic conditions and other factors, including prevailing interest rate levels and stock market performance, which may affect the Company's ability to sell products, the market value of investments and the lapse rate and profitability of policies; (b) the ability to achieve anticipated levels of operational efficiencies and cost-saving initiatives and to meet cash requirements based upon projected liquidity sources; (c) customer response to new products, distribution channels and marketing initiatives; (d) mortality, morbidity, and other factors which may affect the profitability of insurance products; (e) the ability to develop and maintain effective risk management policies and procedures and to maintain adequate reserves for future policy benefits and claims; (f) changes in the federal income tax laws and regulations which may affect the relative tax advantages of some products; (g) increasing competition in the sale of insurance and annuities and the recruitment of sales representatives; (h) regulatory changes or actions, including those relating to regulation of insurance products and of insurance companies; (i) ratings and those subsidiaries by independent rating organizations which AmerUs Group believes are particularly important to the sale of products; (j) the performance of investment portfolios; (k) the impact of changes in standards of accounting for derivatives and business combinations, goodwill and other intangibles and purchase accounting adjustments; (l) the Company's ability to integrate the business and operations of acquired entities; (m) expected life

² This projection is based on adjusted net operating income per share which is a non-GAAP financial measure. Due to the unpredictability of the timing and recognition of gains and losses, especially items such as credit impairments, trading gains and losses, FAS 133 adjustments as well as the unpredictable nature of certain other unusual or non-recurring items that management believes are not indicative of ongoing operational performance, guidance on GAAP net income cannot readily be estimated. Accordingly, the Company is unable to provide guidance with respect to, or a reconciliation of guidance on, projected long-term return on average equity on a GAAP basis.
